

Harbach Music Publishing

(Formerly Vivace Press)

"a singularly lively source of published music" Fanfare

"The standard-setting publisher of unknown music by over-looked composers"
*Piano & Keyboard

"Vivace Press makes practice of presenting music in form that demands respect for the work and composer."
*Lewiston Morning Tribune (headline)

Harbach Music publishes music of underrepresented composers: Mexican, African American, and Women Composers.

Contact:

Dr. Barbara Harbach

Curators' Distinguished Professor Emerita of Music

University of Missouri-St. Louis

314-960-4960

1140 Cave springs Trail

Las Cruces, NM 88011

Email: bharbach@umsl.edu

Website: <http://www.barbaraharbach.com>

CATEGORIES:

WORKS FOR ORGAN WORKS FOR ORGAN AND BRASS

HISTORICAL PIANO OR HARPSICHORD

CONTEMPORARY PIANO CONTEMPORARY

HARPSICHORD WORKS FOR FOUR-HANDS

CHAMBER & ORCHESTRAL MUSIC

YOUTH MUSICALS AND LARGE CHORAL WORKS

CHORAL COLLECTIONS

SINGLE ANTHEMS

COMPACT DISCS

BARBARA HARBACH COMPOSITIONS: ORCHESTRAL, CHAMBER & SOLO

ORCHESTRAL V: Expressions for Orchestra, Vol. 13

ORCHESTRAL IV: Symphonic Storytelling, Vol. 12

ORCHESTRAL III: Portraits in Sound, Vol. 11

ORCHESTRAL II: Symphonies and Soundings & Celebrations, Vol. 9

ORCHESTRAL I: Symphony, Reverie & Rhapsody, Vol. 1

MUSIC for STRINGS: Vol. 7

CHAMBER MUSIC V: Music for Soprano, Violin, Piano & Chamber Orchestra,
Vol. 10

CHAMBER MUSIC IV: Music for Strings, Winds, Brass, Piano
& Soprano, Vol. 8

CHAMBER MUSIC III: Reeds, Brass, Strings, Harpsichord & Piano, Vol. 6

CHAMBER MUSIC II: Strings Orchestra, Ensemble &
Woodwind Quintet, Vol. 4

CHAMBER MUSIC I: Ensemble, String Quartet & Woodwind Quintet,

Vol. 2

ORGAN MUSIC: Toccatas, Flourishes and Fugues on Familiar Hymn Tunes, Vol. 3

VOCAL MUSIC: Soprano, Winds, Strings, Harp, Trumpet & Piano, Vol. 5

CHORAL COLLECTIONS

SINGLE ANTHEMS

BARBARA HARBACH COMPOSITIONS ON CD

RECORDINGS OF HISTORICAL COMPOSERS

RECORDINGS OF CONTEMPORARY COMPOSERS

BARBARA HARBACH RECORDINGS OF HISTORICAL COMPOSERS

Johann Sebastian Bach Organ Music, MSR 1444

Prelude and "St. Anne's Fugue in E-flat Major, BWV 552; Toccata and Fugue in F Major, BWV 540; An Wasserflüssen Babylon, BWV 653; Prelude and Fugue in C Minor, BWV 546; Choral Prelude "O Mensch Bewein Dein Sünde Groß, BWV 622; Fantasy and Fugue in G Minor, BWV 542; Prelude and Fugue in E Minor, BWV 548 "Wedge."

120 Harpsichord Sonatas by Antonio Soler (1729-1783), 14-CD set, MSR 1300

Bach: Art of the fugue and Pachelbel: Canon, Chaconnes & Chorale

Preludes 2-CDset, MSR 1442

Thomas Haigh (1769-1808), Six Concertos for Harpsichord, Op. 1, MSR 1441

Concertos in D Major, B-flat Major, A Minor, G Major, C Major, E-flat Major

Anna Bon de Venezia (1740-1767) Six Sonatas for Harpsichord, Op. 1, MSR 1241

Sonatas in G minor, B-flat major, F major, C major, B minor, C major.

Goldberg Variations for Harpsichord, Gasparo Records (Gallante), GG 1018

(out of print)

Pachelbel Canons, Organist, Gasparo Records, GSS-2001 (out of print)

Bach & Handel: Music for Two Trumpets and Organ, Barbara Harbach, Organist,

Gasparo Records, GSS-2002

Bach: Nun seid ihr wohl gerochen (Christmas Oratorio), So geh' ich mit beherzten Schritten (Cantata 111), Wir danken, wir preisen (Cantata 134), Mein Freund ist mein (Cantata 140), Gott, der du die Liebe heisst (Cantata 33)

Handel: Two Italian Duets, Quel flor ch' alba ride and No di voi non vo fidarmi.

Summershimmer: Women Organ Composers, Hester Park, CD 7704

Classical Prodigies: Elizabeth Weichsell Billington / Wolfgang Amadeus

Mozart, Hester Park, CD 7703

Eighteenth-Century Women Composers: Music for Solo Harpsichord, Volume I,

Gasparo Records, GSCD-272

Sonatas by Elizabeth: Elisabetta de Gambarini / Elizabeth Hardin,

Hester Park, CD 7702

Women Composers for the Organ Spanning Five Centuries, Gasparo

Records, GSCD-294

RETURN

BARBARA HARBACH RECORDINGS OF CONTEMPORARY COMPOSERS

Karl Höller, Music for Violin, Cello and Organ, MSR Classics 1445, 2016

Fantasie for Violin & Organ; Triptychon for Organ (Improvisation "AMEN", Ricercar "Die nobis, Maria", Posludium "Amen. Alleluja"; Improvisationen, for Cello & Organ (Ruhig beginnend, freidelamierend, Sehr lebhaft, schattenhaft, Gesangvoll fließend, Lebhaft und markiert, In ruhiger, ausdrucksvoller Bewegung)

William Preucil, violin and Roy Christensen, cello.

Rosner/Pinkham, 20th Century Harpsichord Music, MSR Classics 1443, 2013

Rosner: Musique de Clavecin, Sonatine d'Amour

Pinkham: Partita for Harpsichord, 3 Inventions, Canons, Interlude and Rondo, Fantasia, Scherzo and Trio, Envoi

Contemporary Harpsichord, Volume IV, Gasparo Records, GSCD-290

Contemporary Harpsichord, Volume III, Gasparo Records, GSCD-280

Contemporary Harpsichord, Volume II, Gasparo Records, GSCD-266

Twentieth-Century Harpsichord Music, Vol. I, Gasparo, GSCD-251

RETURN

CONTEMPORARY HARPSICHORD

Contemporary Composers for Harpsichord, Vol. 1

Arnold Rosner Sonatine d'Amour • Barbara Harbach Spaindango • Michael Rose B'rachah (Benediction)

This volume collects some of the most popular and widely heard harpsichord music of the twentieth century. Arnold Rosner has been called "an inventive and original voice" (The Buffalo News) and the composer of "one of the most eerily fascinating compositions for harpsichord" (Fanfare). CD Review has called Harbach's Spaindango a "fetching piece, full of antique flourishes mixed with 20th-century rage and madness, a cauldron of churning notes." These pieces are coupled with Michael Rose's melodic B'rachah (Benediction).

H201, 32 pages, $16.95

Contemporary Composers for Harpsichord, Vol. 2

Emma Lou Diemer Toccata • Barbara Harbach Tres Danzas para Clavecin

This second volume of Vivace's contemporary harpsichord series pairs two rhythmically vibrant works. Emma Lou Diemer is a well-known composer, especially admired for her keyboard works. Toccata is a perpetual motion of energy with splashes of glissandi and climactic tremolos. Barbara Harbach's recordings of twentieth century repertoire have generated considerable enthusiasm and critical acclaim. Tres Danzas para Clavecin has a Spanish flavor and frenzied outer movements that feature flamenco clusters, glissandi, and fast arpeggios

H202, 32 pages, $16.95

The Seven Faces of Fernando for Solo Harpsichord

By Robert Starer

This set of short pieces was written for Fernando Valenti who premiered them in 1969. Robert Starer, considering these pieces to be exclusively Valenti's, decided only recently to allow their publication. Each title reflects a different mood of Valenti's: I. Ponderously, II. Innocently, III. Casually, Perhaps Immorally, IV. Persistently, V. Verily Gushingly, VI. Erratically, With Ill-Disguised Decadence, and VII. Impetuously.

H203, 24 pages, $13.95

Fantasy and Fugue Frantique for Solo Harpsichord

By Barbara Harbach

The dramatic fantasy opens with an unmeasured prelude section followed by a toccata area of mixed meter utilizing the full range of the harpsichord. These two sections combine and intertwine before introducing the jaunty fugue subject. A slower section interrupts the fugue and contrasts the sounds of the lute and regular string sound before returning to the bravura fantasy and toccata themes.

H204, 16 pages, $9.95 Fantasy and Fugue Frantique for Solo Harpsichord

RETURN

WORKS FOR ORGAN

Ordinary Pieces: An Organ Mass

By Don Freund

Don Freund's tour-de-force was premiered at the 1992 Redlands Organ Festival. The fourteen sections can be played individually or put into new groupings and are appropriate for church or concert.

H300, 56 pages, $14.95

Mexican Composers for the Organ, Vol. I

By Ramón Noble • Edited by James Welch

Toccatina • La Bamba • Divertimento en Tema Antiguo • El Flautista Alegre

Well-known performer James Welch has edited this volume of some of Mexico's finest organ music. Volume 1 includes works by Ramón Noble. Toccatina is flashy, yet moderately easy. La Bamba from "Triptico Mexicano" is a fun piece that features the well-known folk (and rock) tune. Also featured are Divertimento en Tema Antiguo and El Flautista Alegre which The American Organist has called "absolutely charming."

H301, 24 pages, $15.95

Quantum Quirks of a Quick Quaint Quark, No. 2

By Marga Richter

Marga Richter is best known for her orchestral works which have been performed by more than 45 orchestras around the world. This is a composition of boundless good-humored energy, premiered at the 1992 AGO Convention in Atlanta.

Available on compact disc Gasparo (CD294).

H302, 12 pages, $8.95

Organ Music by Women Composers before 1800

Edited by Calvert Johnson

Gracia Baptista Conditor Alme • Caterina Assandra Ave verum corpus • Ego flos campi • Miss Steemson A Dirge for Funerals Women have been composing organ music for at least five centuries. This volume contains some of the earliest known organ music by women composers, including Conditor Alme, written by a Spanish nun c. 1557. Caterina Assandra was an Italian nun active in the music scene near Milan in the early seventeenth century. Miss Steemson was a church organist in Lancaster, England; this processional was written around 1780. For a recording of the Steemson and Gracia Baptista see Gasparo CD 294.

H303, 20 pages, $14.95

Prelude for Solo Organ

By Fanny Mendelssohn Hensel • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

This is the newly recovered wedding recessional that Fanny Mendelssohn Hensel (1805-1847) wrote for her own wedding in 1829. A stately march, it alternates between sections of full chords and imitative sections. Fanny is quickly becoming one of the best-known woman composers. This edition also contains an unfinished organ work by her. Recorded on CD by Hester Park CD 7704.

H304, 8 pages, $9.95

Prelude and Fugue for Solo Organ, Op. 16, No. 3

By Clara Schumann (1819-1896) • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

Clara Schumann was well-known as a pianist and interpreter of Romantic piano literature, including the music of her husband Robert Schumann and longtime friend, Johannes Brahms. This work, from a set of three keyboard works, is a well-crafted prelude and fugue from the Romantic period, obviously inspired by her love and study of Bach's music. CD Review (U.K.) asserts that this piece "shows something of the sobriety and strength which apparently characterised her piano playing." CD recorded by Gasparo (CD294).

H305, 12 pages, $8.95

Fanfare and Toccata on "Lasst Uns Erfreuen"

By Barbara Harbach

This bright-sounding toccata is built on the easily recognized "All Creatures of Our God and King." Appropriate for concert or for church, it opens and closes with full organ fanfare and features a central part of perpetual motion and interesting modulations.

Also available on compact disc recording.
H306, 8 pages, $8.95

Gratitude and Praise: Organ Works by Jewish-American Composers

Robert Starer Fantasy on a Sephardic Melody • Michael Isaacson Gratitude and Praise • Robert Strassburg Mosaic Horizons • Mary Jeanne van Appledorn Shabat Shalom

The title piece, by Michael Isaacson, is an exuberant work of rhythmic vitality. It has a syncopated pedal part and a hauntingly beautiful lyric line. Robert Starer, recently admitted into the American Academy of Arts and Letters, is one of the musical lights of our generation. This collection is appropriate for church or synagogue, and it is a particularly appropriate way to introduce a spirit of ecumenism into a special church service.

H307, 28 pages, $16.95

Asian Praise: Organ Preludes on Asian Hymns

By Philip Jones

Prelude on "Tokyo" (Japan) • Prelude on "Bai" (Korea) • Prelude on "Hsuan P'ing" (China) • Trio on "Toa-Sia" (Taiwan) • Prelude on "Vietnam" • Prelude on "Le P'ing" (China)

Each of these organ preludes is based on an Asian hymn found either in The United Methodist Hymnal (1989) or The Presbyterian Hymnal (1990). They are a great way to introduce the congregation to a new hymn or thematically integrate the prelude and the rest of the service. This new collection of preludes by English composer and organist Philip Jones is useful, interesting, and always accessible.

H308, 28 pages, $14.95

Summershimmer for Solo Organ

By Barbara Harbach

This immediately appealing work was premiered to great acclaim in the summer of 1993 in Fairbanks, Alaska. Later broadcast throughout the Inland Northwest on PBS, the work features lyric playfulness, a challenging pedal part, and acrobatic ornaments.

H309, 12 pages, $9.95

Works for Organ

By Padre Antonio Soler • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

Padre Antonio Soler (1729-1783) wrote over 120 keyboard sonatas as well as six organ concertos. These are a few of his most popular sonatas, arranged for organ. Intento is a magnificent fugue that builds to a thrilling climax after 250 measures of glorious counterpoint. Allegro Spiritoso is a witty character piece with lots of Spanish flavor. Sonata in D-flat Major, Allegro is a favorite piece with audiences because of its fanfare-like figures, arpeggiated flourishes, and a flurry of repeated notes.

H310, 40 pages, $17.95

Chorale Preludes for Organ

By Ethel Smyth • Edited by Colette Ripley Ethel Smyth (1858-1944) was one of the most significant English composers of her era. Written on well-known tunes from the German tradition (set also by Bach and Brahms), these chorale preludes are a welcome addition to the chorale prelude literature. This edition offers useful notes and registrations before each selection. Recorded on Hester Park CD7704.

H311, 32 pages, $14.95

Kandinsky: Six Images for Organ

By Stephen Gryc

The brightly colored paintings of Vasily Kandinsky inspired these musical pieces, premiered in 1992 for the San Joaquin Valley chapter of the AGO. The evocative titles include Capricious Line, Small Dream in Red, and Bright Unity. On the music faculty of the Hartt School of Music, Gryc has captured Kandinsky's spirit of boldness as well as his underlying sense of order.

H312, 24 pages, $14.95

Fantasy and Fugue on "My Lord, What a Mourning"

By Ralph Simpson

Written for the 75th Anniversary of the National Association of Negro Musicians, this work was premiered by Dr. Herman Taylor at that celebration. The fantasy opens with a bold call-response passage before leading into the melody of the famous spiritual. The fugue is a joyous expression of contrapuntal gymnastics ending with a triumphant flourish.

H313, 12 pages, $9.95

Concerto for Organ in G Major

By Pietro Pompeo Sales (1729-1797) • Edited by Jane Schatkin Hettrick

Originally attributed to Haydn, this concerto for organ or fortepiano is a worthy addition to the 18th-century concerto repertoire. Pietro Sales was an Italian composer prominent in German musical circles. He composed numerous oratorios, church pieces, and instrumental compositions. String parts include Violin I & II, Viola, and Violoncello (with optional horns).

H314, 48 pages, $24.95 H314B, string parts, $50.00

Fanfare and Toccata on "Joy to the World"

By Dennis Janzer

This piece is a joyous affirmation of one of the most important holy days of the church year. Beginning with a short improvisatory fanfare on the well-known tune, it blossoms into an energetic toccata with the melody in the pedal.

H315, 8 pages, $8.95

A Suite of Holiday Trios

By Barbara Harbach

Trio on O Come, All Ye Faithful • Trio on Silent Night • Holiday Trio

Effective either as a single suite or as individual preludes or offertories, these charming compositions will be popular with congregations year after year.

H316, 12 pages, $9.95

Mexican Composers for the Organ, Vol. 2

By José Jesús Estrada • Edited by James Welch

This is second volume of our highly acclaimed series on Mexican composers. It includes a lively processional in E-minor and a chaconne which builds to a thrilling climax rhythmically and registrationally. Providing a nice contrast to these is Aspiración, a work more meditative in character which will highlight the vox humana or celeste stops. The final work is a charming tribute to the 18th-century French style of Noël writing.

H317, 32 pages, $16.95

Six Concertos for Solo Organ

By Matthew Camidge • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

These four-movement concertos, by the English composer Camidge (1758-1844), are deliberately written in the musical style of Corelli and Handel. Each begins with an introduction and is followed by a voluntary-like fugue. A melodic slow movement precedes a final dance or march. Written with little pedal, these pieces are excellent choices for organists who need to round out a program or service without excessive demands on their time.

H318, 56 pages, $20.95

Lute Concerto for Solo Organ

By Antonio Vivaldi (1678-1741) • Edited by Marcia Hauff

A great audience pleaser, this arrangement continues the long-standing tradition of arranging concerto grosso for solo organ. This lute concerto has long been one of Vivaldi's most popular works.

H319, 12 pages, $9.95

Three Concertos for Solo Organ

By Giuseppe Tartini (1692-1770) • Edited by Marcia Hauff

These three movement concertos are immediately appealing recital openers. The music of Tartini abounds with delightful melodies. The contrast between full organ and softer solo sections presents the opportunity to highlight your organ's unique registrational possibilities. Extract a movement to use in worship services or program the entire work.

H320, 60 pages, $21.95

Rhapsody on Peace "Prelude on Oseh Shalom"

By Robert Stern

This evocative composition, essentially in theme and variation form, combines a bold opening, with a simple presentation of the melody, and culminates in a brio toccata-like fugue. This work is based on a well-known melody in the Jewish liturgy by Israeli composer Nurit Hirsch.

H321, 12 pages, $8.95

Prelude and Fugue for Solo Organ, Op. 16, No. 2

By Clara Schumann (1819-1896) • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

This work continues Harbach's critically acclaimed series of arrangements of Schumann's Preludes and Fugues. This prelude in B-Flat Major has a beautiful melody, with added depth in the pedal line. The fugue is robust and rhythmic. CD recording available on Hester Park CD 7704.

H322, 8 pages, $8.95

Six Fugues for Organ on English Psalm Tunes

By Elizabeth Stirling (1819-1895) • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Delightful fugues in the style of J.S. Bach's chorale fantasies, filled with interesting contrapuntal technique, all clothed with Romantic harmonies. Based on O Worship the King, St. Mary's, Tallis' Canon, Nun freut euch, and Old Hundreth; the last piece is Prelude and Fugue in B-flat. Recorded on compact disc CD Gasparo 294 and Hester Park CD 7704.

H323, 44 pages, $19.95

Romantic Pieces for Organ

By Elizabeth Stirling (1819-1895) • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Singing melodies and lush Romantic harmonies characterize these eight pieces. The Maestoso is a dramatic work with an impressive pedal part. These pieces work well to fill in gaps in recitals, and for last minute decisions for church repertoire as well as for teaching legato touch to your students. Recorded on Hester Park CD7704.

H324, 40 pages, $18.95

Festive Proclamation

By Samuel Adler

This energetic work--commissioned by the National Symphony Orchestra--adds to Adler's large body of dynamic works for organ. A short evocative introduction precedes the exciting toccata and returns at the end as a short conclusion.

H326, 12 pages, $8.95

Concerto I for Solo Organ

By Maddalena Lombardini Sirmen • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

This delightful three-movement concerto fills the gap in early Classical repertoire for organists. Sirmen (1745-1818) was a multifaceted composer who studied in Venice with Giuseppe Tartini before touring Europe, first as a violinist, and then as an opera star. The tuneful final movement has the serene symmetry, delicate ornamentation, and delightful melodies that are as indigenous to Sirmen as they are to the Classical style.

H327, 24 pages, $14.95

Figurierte Chorale for Solo Organ

By Anna Amalia • Edited by Calvert Johnson

Anna Amalia, Princess of Prussia (1723-1787) is an historically important royal patron of the arts and composer. Sister of Frederick the Great, she composed chamber music, Lieder, an oratorio, and these five chorale settings for organ. The thinly textured counterpoint shows her interest in Baroque music and performance practice.

H328, 12 pages, $8.95

Organ Works in G Major

By Fanny Mendelssohn Hensel • Edited by Calvert Johnson

This is the newly recovered wedding recessional that Fanny Mendelssohn Hensel (1805-1847) wrote for her own wedding in 1829. A stately march, it alternates between sections of full chords and imitative sections. Fanny is quickly becoming one of the best-known woman composers. This edition also contains an unfinished organ work by her. Recorded on CD by Hester Park CD 7704.

H329, 12 pages, $9.95

Easter Toccata for Solo Organ

By Barbara Harbach

This blazing toccata is built on the well-known seasonal hymn, "Jesus Christ is Risen Today" (Easter Hymn). It is a dynamic piece that features the melody in the pedals and bravura sixteenth-note motion in the manuals. A more introspective middle section offsets the two toccata sections.

H330, 16 pages, $9.95

Mexican Composers for the Organ, Vol. 3

By Alfonso de Elías and Manuel de Elías • Edited by James Welch

Sonata • Interludio • Canción de Cuna • Preludio Elegiaco Cancion de Cuna • Preludio Elegiaco
This volume showcases a unique father and son combination of talents. Alfonso de Elías (1902-1984) was perhaps the last composer of the Mexican Romantic tradition. His Sonata and Interludio are examples of his characteristic chromaticism and rich harmonies. Manuel de Elías (b. 1939) is a member of the Mexican Academy of Arts. His Canción de Cuna is an evocative lullaby, while Preludio Elegiaco moves from introspection to a forceful climax before ending in repose.

H331, 48 pages, $21.95

French Classical Noels and Magnificats for Solo Organ

By Mr. Benaut (fl. 1770s) • Edited by Barbara Harbach

These Noels and Magnificats are an excellent addition to the popular genre of noels for organ. Written in the eighteenth-century Classical tradition by an unknown French composer, these short, charming pieces offer a variety of moods and many opportunities for colorful registrations. Excellent pieces for the Advent season or throughout the year, these pieces are mainly for manuals.

H333, 40 pages, $18.95

Toccatas and Fugues on American Hymns for Solo Organ

By Barbara Harbach

Phoebe Palmer Knapp (1839-1908) Blessed Assurance, Jesus is Mine • Lizzie Tourjée (1858-1913) There's a Wideness in God's Mercy • Lelia Naylor Morris (1862-1929) Nearer, Still Nearer

This edition offers engaging interpretations of several beloved American hymns. Each is arranged with an opening toccata, a fugal section, and a closing flourish. Appropriate throughout the year, these appealing arrangements will quickly become favorites of the congregation or audience. Excellent historical notes included.

H334, 28 pages, $15.95

Variations on "Kum Ba Yah" for Solo Organ

By Philip Jones

Finally, an arrangement of one of the world's most popular spirituals. These variations evoke the mood of the verse--from the poignancy of someone crying to the uplifting energy of someone singing. Philip Jones is one of England's most gifted arrangers for organ.

H335, 12 pages, $8.95

Variations on "Jerusalem the Golden"

By Mary Jeanne van Appledorn

These variations are lush and romantic, ranging from the softest sounds to sections that build to immense climaxes before the toccata with the melody in the pedal. Another appealing organ work from prolific Texas composer van Appledorn.

Appropriate for concert, Palm Sunday celebrations and other services.

H336, 12 pages, $8.95

Fantasy and Fugue on "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot"

By Barbara Harbach

The dramatic fantasy section also includes a lyrical rendition of the melody; this is followed by a lively fugue based on this beloved tune.

H338, 8 pages, $8.95

Three Gregorian Preludes

By Robert Starer De Angelis, Orbis Factor, and Tantum Ergo

Robert Starer captures the serenity and spirituality of these three Gregorian chants: De Angelis, Orbis Factor, and Tantum Ergo. Written for manuals only, these pieces are appealing and appropriate for use as preludes and meditative moments. Starer was enchanted by the beauty of the plainsong, while wanting to use it "in a new way while maintaining the character of the original form."

H339, 12 pages, $8.95

Poema for Solo Organ

By Zhanna Kolodub

An intriguing, lyrical organ work from one of Ukraine's leading composers, Poema has the flavor of a Ukrainian folk song. Modal harmonies, tuneful melodies and ostinatos characterize this set of variations.

H340, 8 pages, $8.95

Prelude and Fugue for Solo Organ

By H. Leslie Adams

Well-known African American composer Leslie Adams enjoys a long and distinguished career with performances by major orchestras and performers. The lyrical prelude and rhythmic fugue are separated by a short Allegretto filled with staccatos and triads. The fugue is followed by a Largo section reminiscent of the prelude and the fugue.

H342, 20 pages, $12.95

Farewell from Rome for Solo Organ

By Fanny Mendelssohn Hensel • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

The separation of Fanny from her family produced this poignant and wistful three-part song without words. The organ, in this arrangement of a favorite piano work, combines a rhythmic pulse with a soaring melody. Her over 400 works are being slowly recovered and performed throughout the world.

H343, 8 pages, $8.95

French Suite on "Adeste Fideles" (O Come All Ye Faithful)

By Barbara Harbach

These four variations are based on Baroque dance forms. The opening French Overture is regal and rhythmic. The quiet Allemande recalls Bach's chorale preludes for manuals alone. The sprightly Trio has the melody in the pedal, with scales and joyous leaps in the manuals. The final Toccata exhibits a propulsive and breathless charm.

H344, 12 pages, $8.95

Pickles and Peppers Rag for Solo Organ

By Adaline Shepherd • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

An entertaining piece of ragtime for solo organ that utilizes the wonderful registrational capabilities of the organ and adapts the "raggedty" style of Pickles and Peppers into an immediately appealing audience pleaser.

H345, 8 pages, $8.95

Toccata on "All Hail the Power" (Diadem)

By Barbara Harbach

This appealing and exciting setting of the hymn tune Diadem features trumpet flourishes, a majestic setting of the melody in the pedal with toccata figurations in the manuals, and a lively fugue that combines the fanfare motives, the fugal subject, and the toccata elements, all leading toward a breathless ending.

H346, 12 pages, $8.95

O Filii et Filiae (Variations on "O Sons and Daughters of the King")

By Mr. Benaut (fl. 1770s) • Edited by Barbara Harbach

O Filii et Filiae (Variations on "O Sons and Daughters of the King") is an excellent addition to the Lenten literature. Written in the eighteenth-century Classical tradition by an unknown French composer, these short, charming variations offer a variety of moods and many opportunities for colorful registrations. An excellent piece for the Lenten season or throughout the year, these pieces are mainly for manuals.

H347, 16 pages, $9.95

Six Versets on Hildegard Chants for Solo Organ

By Philip Jones

Hildegard von Bingen was one of Medieval music's greatest composers. These short pieces are built on themes from one of her best-known chants. These are evocative and atmospheric works arranged for solo organ by Philip Jones. Included are "O praise a branch of great greenness," "For in you was growing a fair flower," "Therefore the skies dropped gentle dew on rolling meadows," as well as three other settings.

H348, 24 pages, $14.95

Mexican Composers for the Organ, Vol. 4

By Ramón Noble • Edited by Rossina Gómez

Toccata a Pedal • Danza Espagnola • Scherzino Mexicano • Fantasia-Toccata

We continue our acclaimed Mexican Composers series with another edition of the appealing works of Ramón Noble. This edition also welcomes Rossina Gómez as editor of the series.

Included are the three-part bravura Toccata a Pedal built on Mexican folk tunes, and Danza Espagnola, a folk-like dance of appealing melodies contrasted with rich harmonies.

Scherzino Mexicano offers fascinating rhythms and lyrical melodies, while Fantasia-Toccata opens with a short pedal solo and offers colorful contrasts of tempo and mood.

H349, 40 pages, $21.95

Christmas Pastorale

By Gustav Merkel (1827-1885) • Edited by Robert C. Mann

In this beautiful composition, Merkel evokes Christmas Eve in nineteenth-century Germany. The composer contrasts pastoral moods with musical elements that combine Volk and high art.

H350, 8 pages, $8.95

Fantasy for Solo Organ

By Wang An-Ming

This colorful and dynamic work opens with a flourish and whirl of sound. This infectious energy continues throughout the melodic middle section and the return to the vibrancy of the opening.

H352, 24 pages, $14.95

Festival Overture for Solo Organ

By Ruth Norman

This rhythmically majestic piece for organ features interesting harmonies alternating with melodic sections. It has been featured in many concerts including the opening musical concert of the National Museum of Women in the Arts in Washington, D.C.

H353, 12 pages, $9.95

Toccatas and Fugues on Hymns by European Women Composers for Solo Organ

By Barbara Harbach

Give of Your Best, known as Barnard, was written by Charlotte Alington Barnard (1830-1869), an English composer and poet. Give of Your Best opens with toccata figures with a full statement of the hymn melody in the pedal. A four-voice fugue follows with toccata interspersions and finishes with a short toccata section with the melody in the left hand. Suite on Jubilee is based on Frances Chattock's (1818-1901) hymn, Ye Boundless Realms of Joy, known as Jubilee. The Suite opens with a proclamation using gestures of the opening measures of the hymn tune. A two-part pedal section introduces the entire hymn tune, and then ends with the opening proclamation. The next movement uses canon at the octave as the unifying factor. The final movement is a rhythmic toccata with the hymn melody in the pedal. Who is on the Lord's Side?, known as Armageddon, was composed by C. Luise Reichardt (1779-1826), a German composer. It opens with an improvisatory-fantasia style, followed by a toccata with the hymn tune in the pedal. A four-voice fugue evolves interspersed with the improvisatory-fantasia material, and toccata elements.

H354, 28 pages, $16.95

Toccatas and Fugues on Hymns from the Sacred Harp

By Barbara Harbach

William Billings Chester • David Walker Hebrew Children • B.F. White The Morning Trumpet
Toccatas and Fugues on Hymns from the Sacred Harp is a collection based on hymns from early American composers William Billings, David Walker and B.F. White. The various works feature lively toccatas, modal tonalities and the compelling melodies of three of America's most memorable hymns.

H355, 20 pages, $14.95

Four Works for Organ and String Quartet

Arranged by Albert Zabel

Georg Böhm Vater unser im Himmelreich • Felix Mendelssohn Prelude in C Minor • Thomas Arne Siciliano • César Franck Sortie These simple arrangements for organ and string quartet (or small string orchestra) have immediate audience appeal. The effective transcriptions and arrangements by Albert Zabel will delight both audience and performers.

H356, 28 pages, $26.95 including string parts

Ten Voluntaries for Solo Organ

By George Berg • Edited by Barbara Harbach

George Berg (c. 1730s-1770s) was an English composer and organist of German origin. These voluntaries are written in the English Baroque style with trumpet tunes, compelling adagios, French overtures, echoes and interesting three-voice fugues. The melodies vary from step wise, to arpeggiated melodies, to trumpet tunes and derive from the harmonies.

Sequences elongate the melodies, and other ornaments are trills, slides, turns and appoggiaturas.

H357, Ten Voluntaries for Solo Organ, Vol. 1, 44 pages, $19.95 (contains Voluntaries 1-5)

H358, Ten Voluntaries for Solo Organ, Vol. 2, 36 pages, $19.95 (contains Voluntaries 6-10)

Introduction and Fugue for Solo Organ

By Ann Sheppard Mounsey Bartholomew • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Ann Sheppard Mounsey Bartholomew (1811-1891) was an English composer, teacher, and organist. The Introduction is majestic with dotted notes and trills and unexpected harmonic twists. Mounsey Bartholomew evidently enjoyed the Baroque style of fugal writing, for her Fugue is a rousing composition with creative countermelodies, skillfully woven together with descending sequences and arresting chromatic passages.

H359, 8 pages, $8.95

Fantasy and Fugue on a Hungarian Melody

By Barbara Harbach

Fantasy and Fugue on a Hungarian Melody is based on the Hungarian folk melody Erre Gyre and features toccata figurations, canon, inversion, retrograde and fugue.

H360, 8 pages, $8.95

Nights in Timisoara for Solo Organ

By Barbara Harbach

Nights in Timisoara for Solo Organ evokes the essence of the Romanian people in eastern city of Timisoara. Over the years many cultures have influenced and left their mark in the neighborhoods throughout the city even to the present time. Nights in Timisoara strives to portray in music the exotic architecture and vibrant culture life of this "Little Vienna" which is also called "the City of Flowers." Nights in Timisoara opens with a wide-range toccata flourish, evolving into a loose rondo form with a haunting melody over a moving accompaniment. This is followed by a tango section that elaborates on the melody before ending with a blazing French-style toccata with the melody in the pedal.

H361, 8 pages, $8.95

Gloria! Organ Music for Advent and Christmas

By Barbara Harbach

Gloria! • Good Christian Friends, Rejoice • Joy to the World • Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence/Hush! My Dear, Lie Still and Slumber • O Come, O Come/ O Morning Star • People, Look East • A Quodlibet of Carols

H364, 32 pages, $18.95

Festive Pieces for Organ

By Barbara Harbach

Festive Toccata • Quiet Joy Trio • Toccata on A Mighty Fortress • Sine Nomine, "For All the Saints" • Laudation - Variations and Fugue • Triumphant Procession

H367, 32 pages, $18.95

Blessing and Honor Organ, Settings for Gathering, Vol. 1

By Barbara Harbach

Blessing and Honor • Guide Me Ever, Great Redeemer • God of Our Life, All-glorious Lord • God Himself Is Present • Open Now Thy Gates of Beauty

H371, 28 pages, $17.95

Land of Rest, Organ Settings of Folk Tunes and Spirituals, Vol. 2

By Barbara Harbach

Argentine Santo (Holy, Holy, Holy) • Forest Green (Blessed Be the God of Israel) • In Babilone (As We Gather at Your Table) • Jefferson (Come, Thou Long-Expected Jesus) • Land of Rest (How Long, O God) • Star of County Down (Canticle of the Turning) • Sufferer

(They Crucified My Lord) • Tōa-Sīa (God Created Heaven and Earth) • Forest Green (As Saints of Old)

H372, 40 pages, $19.95

Holy Manna, Organ Settings of Folk Tunes and Spirituals, Vol. 3

By Barbara Harbach

Blessed Be the God of Israel/As Saints of Old • God, Who Stretched the Spangled Heavens • I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say • Bless Now, O God the Journey • Although I Speak with Angel's Tongue • Fantasy and Fugue on They Crucified My Lord • Wade in the Water

HMP 373, 32 pages, $18.95

Ride On, In Majesty, Organ Settings for Lent and the Passion, Vol. 4

By Barbara Harbach

All Glory, Laud, and Honor • Christ Jesus Lay in Death's Strong Bands • Ride On, Ride On in Majesty! • Were You There • What Wondrous Love Is This

HMP 374, 24 pages, $16.95

Go, My Children, Organ Settings for On Our Way, Vol. 5

By Barbara Harbach

Go, My Children, with My Blessing • Oh, for a Thousand Tongues to Sing • Before You, Lord, We Bow • Rise Up, O Saints of God! • On Our Way Rejoicing

HMP 375, 28 pages, $17.95

Three Hymn Introductions and Variations for Solo Organ

By Barbara Harbach

The Spirit Sends Us Forth to Serve (Chesterfield) • In a Lowly Manger Born (Mabune) • God the Sculptor of the Mountains (Jennings-Houston)

HMP 376, 8 pages, $8.95

Were You There (When They Crucified My Lord) for Solo Organ

By Barbara Harbach

HMP377, 6 pages, $7.95

RETURN

HISTORICAL PIANO OR HARPSICHORD

18th Century Women Composers for the Harpsichord or Piano, Vol. I

Edited by Barbara Harbach

Elisabetta de Gambarini • Maria Hester Park • A Lady

This volume contains Elisabetta de Gambarini's (1731-1765) Aria, Gavotte and Variations, and Gigue written on "Lover, Go and Calm thy Sighs." It also includes Sonata in F Major by Maria Hester Park (1760-1813) and Lesson VI in D Major by A Lady. Until publication in this series, this music was available only to those with access to one of a few libraries in the world. "The covers are attractive, the paper good, the commentary professional, the editing clean, and the music well laid out on the page. Best of all, the music sounds as good as it looks" Piano & Keyboard. Recorded on compact disc recordings Gasparo CD 281 and CD 272. H1801, 32 pages, $18.95

18th Century Women Composers for the Harpsichord or Piano, Vol. II

Edited by Barbara Harbach

Marianne Martinez • Maria Hester Park

Volume II of this two-volume series contains Sonata No. 3 in A Major by Viennese composer Marianne Martinez (1744-1812). "Numerous rhythmic subtleties make the Martinez sonata especially attractive" American Music Teacher. The English composer Maria Hester Park (1760-1813) is represented by Sonata in C Major, Op. 7. "This exciting two-volume publication . . . offers more than only musicological interest and is well worth performing" Clavier. "One can simply be grateful for all that these volumes provide" Piano & Keyboard. Recorded on compact disc recordings Gasparo CD 281 and CD 272.

H1802, 32 pages, $18.95

Historical Women Composers for Piano: Marie Bigot

By Marie Bigot • Edited by Calvert Johnson

Discover the music of the woman who taught Fanny and Felix Mendelssohn and Franz Schubert. Marie Ki  n   Bigot de Morogues (1786-1820) was a leading performer of her day who championed the works of her friends Joseph Haydn and Ludwig van Beethoven. The fifty six page volume contains her four-movement Sonate and the Suite d'etudes. Bigot's compositions show a sensitive, gifted composer writing in an early Romantic style while maintaining Classic conventions of form. American Music Teacher says, "Commendations to Harbach Music for beginning this series on French women composers." Piano and Keyboard maintains that these sonatas "have both poetry and brilliance and are well suited to smaller hands."

H1803, 56 pages, $18.95

Six Lessons for Harpsichord or Piano

By Elizabeth Turner • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Elizabeth Turner was active in the London musical scene in the 1750s. These appealing multiple-movement lessons or sonatas generally feature short dance movements such as the Courante, Savoyard, or Gigue. Medium Difficulty.

Recorded on Gasparo CD 281.

H1804, 68 pages, $23.95

Four Sonatas for Piano or Harpsichord

By Madame de Villeblanche • Edited by Calvert Johnson

Little is known about the French 18th century composer Madame de Villeblanche. These fresh-sounding sonatas were originally published (c. 1789) by her husband after her death at age 24. These four sonatas, in the late galant or early Classic style, may be played on the piano or harpsichord. Medium difficulty.

H1805, 60 pages, $21.95

Concerto in E-flat Major for Piano or Harpsichord

By Maria Hester Park • Edited by Barbara Harbach
 Orchestral Score by Robert J. Haskins

Maria Hester Park (1760-1813) was an English composer, pianist, and singer. This concerto is written so that the performer can play both the solo passages, and the orchestral reduction. The opening Allegro has a strong, pulsing theme, while the middle movement is a charming Andante. The final movement is a lighthearted, rollicking Rondo that showcases Park's virtuosic writing and wit. Recorded on Gasparo CD 281.

H1806, 32 pages, $18.95 (solo edition)

H1806B, String Parts, $50.00

H1839, 52 pages, $23.95 (conductor's score)

Six Sonatas for Harpsichord or Piano

By Elisabetta de Gambarini • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Working at the court of Frederick the Great, Anna Bon (1739-?) wrote these six sonatas when she was a teenager. The sonatas reflect the transition from late Baroque to the early Classical style. These three-movement sonatas feature charming melodies, elegant ornamentation, and unexpected melodic twists. Of medium difficulty, these pieces are a wonderful addition to early Mozart and Haydn sonatas. Elisabetta de Gambarini (1731-1765) was an English composer, soprano, and orchestra conductor who published three volumes of harpsichord works. These six sonatas are imaginative compositions—mostly with three movements. They often feature a final movement based on one of the exuberant dance rhythms typical of the Baroque period. The middle movements are often chromatic and filled with pathos and ornamented melodies. The subscription list from the original 1747 publication, attests to the popularity of Gambarini's music—it names over 200 subscribers, including G. F. Handel. For a compact disc recording see Sonatas by Elizabeth, Hester Park CD 7702.

H1807, 36 pages, $18.95

Sonatas for Piano, Vol. I

By Hélène Montgeroult (1764-1835) • Edited by Calvert Johnson

The first modern edition of one of the leading performers and piano pedagogues from the late Classic and early Romantic periods. Written sometime around 1810, Pièce pour le Fortepiano, Opus 3, is the last French work entitled pièce, a term seldom found after 1770 when sonate, concerto, and divertissement were the most popular genres. Also included in this volume is Opus 1, no. 1. These sonatas provide melodies with constant decorations of anticipations, appoggiaturas, passing tones, and similar non-harmonic tones. These are often introduced in unexpected and delightful ways.

H1808, 60 pages, $21.95

Sonatas for Piano, Vol. II

By Hélène Montgeroult (1764-1835) • Edited by Calvert Johnson

The life of Montgeroult is as remarkable as her music. Her talent for expressive playing spared her life during the French Revolution. Condemned to the guillotine, she was saved only at the intercession of the founder of the Paris Conservatoire who wanted her as a keyboard teacher for his newly founded school. This edition contains the Opus 1, nos. 2 and 3 (completing the opus begun in Volume I).

H1809, 52 pages, $20.95

Six Sonatas for Harpsichord or Piano

By Jane Freer • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Jane Freer was a blind composer raised and educated from infancy by the Foundling

Hospital of London. These sonatas are characteristic of the early Classic period (perhaps the 1770s), mostly in three movements. An excellent alternative to Mozart and Haydn sonatas. Medium Difficulty.

H1810, 68 pages, $23.95

Six Lessons for Harpsichord or Piano

By Elizabeth Hardin • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Elizabeth Hardin was the organist of St. Peter-le-Poor, on Broad Street in London. This volume was originally published in 1770. These charming lessons—generally two movements—have a music box quality. They feature hand crossovers in the Scarlatti fashion. Medium Difficulty. Recorded on CD, Sonatas by Elizabeth, Hester Park CD 7702.

H1811, 52 pages, $20.95

Preludes and Fugues for Piano, Op. 16

By Clara Schumann (1819-1896) • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Early in 1845, Clara Schumann, along with her husband Robert, embarked on a study of fugue and counterpoint. These three sets of preludes and fugues show to what great advantage she put her study of Bach and others. Haunting melodies, robust three and four voice fugues, sweeping arpeggios, and perpetual sixteenth-note motion are just a few of the characteristics you'll find in this collection.

H1812, 20 pages, $13.95

Three Sonatas for Piano

By Cecilia Barthélemon • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Op. 1, no. 1 in C major • Op. 3, no. 1 in G Major • Op. 3, no. 3 in E major

These multi-movement sonatas of the late Classical period exhibit a mature sense of form, melodic phrasing, and harmonic richness. These sonatas prove why Barthélemon was considered one of London's leading musicians. Included are Op. 1, no. 1 in C-Major, Op. 3 no. 1 in G-Major (dedicated to Haydn), and Op. 3, no. 3 in E-Major. Each sonata, originally published sometime around the early 1790s, ends with rhythmic rondo built on a folk-like theme.

H1813, 56 pages, $18.95

Three Sonatas for Harpsichord or Piano, Op. 1

By Elizabeth Weichsell Billington (c.1768-1818) • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Charming melodies, rhythmic energy, and Classical style characterize Elizabeth Weichsell Billington's Three Sonatas, Op.1. Written when she was eight years old, these pieces will inspire your younger students as well as challenge those students ready to perform an early Classical sonata. Recorded on Hester Park CD 7703.

H1814, 28 pages, $14.95

Six Sonatas for Harpsichord or Piano, Op. 2

By Elizabeth Weichsell Billington (c.1768-1818) • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Enjoy the youthful exuberance and energy which shape these pieces, written when she was eleven years old. Sonata- allegro forms, rondos and variations abound in Elizabeth Weichsell Billington's Six Sonatas, Op. 2. Audiences, performers, and students will respond enthusiastically to the graceful folk melodies and the exhilarating perpetual motion.

Recorded on Hester Park CD 7703.

H1815, 60 pages, $21.95

Six Sonatas for Harpsichord or Piano

By Anna Bon • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Working at the court of Frederick the Great, Anna Bon (1739-?) wrote these six sonatas when she was a teenager. The sonatas reflect the transition from late Baroque to the early Classical style. These three-movement sonatas feature charming melodies, elegant ornamentation, and unexpected melodic twists. Of medium difficulty, these pieces are a wonderful addition to early Mozart and Haydn sonatas.

H1816, 52 pages, $21.95

Six Sonatas for Piano or Harpsichord

By Jane Savage • Edited by Barbara Harbach

These six sonatas by the English composer Jane Savage (fl. 1780-1790) are engaging galant works of rhythmic energy. They are characterized by beautiful arias filled with pathos; perky, folk-like melodies; variety of rhythms; and sixteenth-note accompaniment.

H1817, 40 pages, $19.95

Sonata in E-flat Major for Piano or Harpsichord

By Maria Hester Park • Edited by Barbara Harbach

This second sonata to Park's Opus 4 (c. 1790) is three-movements in the galant style of the end of the eighteenth century. Variety of rhythms and bravura thirty-second note sections give the piece energy and vitality. Park (1760-1813) is an English composer well-known for the craft of her keyboard works.

H1818, 16 pages, $9.95

Two Pieces for Solo Piano or Harpsichord

By Teresa Agnesi • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Sonata in G Major • Allegro ou Presto

These two pieces were written by the Italian composer, harpsichordist, singer, and librettist Teresa Agnesi (1720-1795). Interestingly, she was primarily known in courts throughout Europe as an opera composer. Sonata in G Major and Allegro ou Presto have a lilting, Scarlatti-like style, with hand crossovers and fiery arpeggios.

H1819, 12 pages, $8.95

Sonata in A Major for Solo Piano

By Caroline Orger Reinagle • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Caroline Orger Reinagle (1818-1892), was an English composer, pianist, and writer. This four-movement Sonata sparkles with Romantic lyricism and energy. Its large structure, melodic invention, the exciting pace of each movement, and the varied accompaniments all blend together to produce this unique piano piece. This sonata is a welcome addition to the performing and teaching repertoire of the Romantic period. It is singular among nineteenth-century sonatas, well-constructed, interesting, and rewarding for the performer as well as the listener.

H1820, 56 pages, $20.95

Tarantella for Piano

By Caroline Orger Reinagle • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Caroline Orger Reinagle (1818-1892), was an English composer, pianist, and writer.

Reinagle's Tarantella in E Minor, is an exuberant piece leaving the performer and the listener breathless.

H1821, 16 pages, $9.95

Three Sonatas for Harpsichord or Piano

By Maria Hester Reynolds • Edited by Barbara Harbach

An English composer, Maria Hester Reynolds Park (1760-1813), worked in London. She was a harpsichordist and pianist. As was typical of the times she performed in public before her marriage, but not afterwards. These exciting, two-movement sonatas are a welcome addition to the performing and teaching repertoire of the late Classical period. They are well constructed, interesting, and rewarding for the performer as well as the listener.

H1822, 44 pages, $18.95

Sonata in A Major for Piano or Harpsichord

By Sophia Dussek • Edited by Barbara Harbach

The Scottish composer Sophia Corri Dussk (1775-1847) was an accomplished singer, pianist, harpist, and composer. This exciting sonata is a welcome addition to the performing and teaching repertoire of the late Classical and early Romantic periods. It is well constructed, interesting, and rewarding for the performer as well as the listener.

H1823, 12 pages, $8.95

Two Sonatas for Harpsichord or Harp

By Caroline Campbell • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Nothing is known of the life of Caroline Campbell except that she left us two compositions from the late eighteenth century. These two sonatas are a welcome addition to the performing and teaching repertoire of the Classical period. They are well constructed, interesting, and rewarding for both the performer and the listener.

H1824, 20 pages, $9.95

Two Works for Piano: Fantasia and Introduction & Variations on Non Più Mesta

By Olivia Dussek • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Olivia Dussek Buckley (mid 1790s-1845) was daughter of composers Jan Ladislav Dussek and Sophia Dussek. She had a successful career as a composer, harpist, organist and pianist. These works contrast the flamboyant and dramatic with lilting rondos, folk-like melodies, melodic inventiveness and cadenzas and arpeggiations.

H1827, 28 pages, $18.95

Divertimento and Military Rondo for the Piano

By Maria F. Parke • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Maria F. Parke (1772-1882) was born in London and made her debut as both a singer and pianist when she was nine years old. A Divertimento and Military Rondo for the Piano is a charming and sometimes virtuosic work of medium difficulty. It features tuneful melodies, martial rhythms and playful scalar runs.

H1828, 28 pages, $18.95

Six Easy Lessons for the Harpsichord

By John Camidge • Edited by Barbara Harbach

John Camidge (ca. 1734-1803) became a chorister at York Minster at an early age, and studied organ with Maurice Greene in London. His son Matthew became a well-known organist and composer. (See Harbach Music VIV 318 Matthew Camidge's Six Concertos for organ, Op. 13.) The style of the lessons glances back toward the Baroque period. They feature tuneful melodies, energetic rhythms and skillful crafting of Baroque dance forms and ornamentation.

H1829, 44 pages, $20.95

The Capture of the Cape of Good Hope for Solo Piano

By Cecilia Barthélemon • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Cecilia Maria Barthélemon (c. 1770) was active as a soprano, harpist, keyboardist and composer. In this piece she uses dramatic pacing, contrast of moods between themes, and exploits the power of rests in the programmatic re-telling of the capture of the Cape. The story is told in the titles of the movements and concludes with a rousing chorus praising the heroes.

H1830, 16 pages, $10.95

Three Grand Sonatas for Solo Piano

By Maria F. Parke • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Maria F. Parke (1772-1822) was a pianist, composer and singer, well-known throughout England. These three sonatas are well-developed three-movement sonatas typical of the London sonata style. The sonatas contain a variety of rhythms, scalar passages, broken-chord accompaniment patterns, phrase repetitions, melodic inventiveness and folk-like melodies.

H1831, Grand Sonata in F Major for Solo Piano, 36 pages, $18.95

H1832, Grand Sonata in E-flat Major for Solo Piano, 32 pages, $18.95

H1833, Grand Sonata in D Major for Solo Piano, 32 pages, $18.95

Sonatas for the Piano or Harpsichord with Violin Obligato

By Maria Hester Reynolds • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Although Maria Hester Reynolds Park (1760-1813) was active as an English composer and teacher from c. 1785-1811, there is not much information available about her early life. Her Op. 1 and 2 were published under her maiden name, Maria Hester Reynolds. Op. 1 contains six two-movement sonatas with melodic inventiveness and an interesting obbligato violin part. The first movements are well-developed sonata forms that demonstrate great freedom and proficiency of form.

H1834 Sonatas for the Piano or Harpsichord with Violin Obligato Vol. 1, 54 pages, $22.95 (contains Sonatas 1-3 from Op. 1)

H1835 Sonatas for the Piano or Harpsichord with Violin Obligato Vol. 2, 48 pages, $22.95 (contain Sonatas 4-6 From Op. 1)

Overture to Astarto for the Harpsichord or Piano

By Felice Giardini • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Felice Giardini (1716-1796) was a well-known Italian virtuoso violinist, teacher, and composer. This Overture for the harpsichord or piano is ensured an interesting position in the realm of keyboard pieces written on operatic melodies. It is inventive, charming, and gives a glimpse of the musical keyboard style in the Classical period. Performers, teachers, and students will enjoy this addition to the repertoire.

H1836, 20 pages, $13.95

Sonata in F Major for the Piano-Forte or Harpsichord

By Veronica Cianchettini • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Veronica Cianchettini composed solo piano sonatas, sets of variations, short pieces based on well-known melodies of the day, and two concertos. Sonata in F Major, Op. 2, has two movements. The first movement, Allegro moderato, is a sonata-allegro form with tuneful melodies and interesting harmonies. The second movement Andante, is a set of variations in B-flat Major based on the popular Christmas carol, Adeste Fidelis (O Come All Ye Faithful).

H1837, 24 pages, $15.95

Divertimento for Solo Piano or Pedal Harp

By Mrs. M. A. Bryan • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Nothing is known about the life of Mrs. M. A. Bryan except what appears on the title page of A Divertimento for Solo Piano or Pedal Harp. Even her full name is not known. Written in a late 18th or early 19th century style, the Divertimento in E-flat Major has four movements. Since the Divertimento was composed for the pianoforte or pedal harp, the composer probably tried to capture both instrumental markets for her piece. This Divertimento is a fascinating and intriguing addition in the study of women keyboard composers of the eighteenth century.

H1838, 12 pages, $8.95

RETURN

CONTEMPORARY PIANO

Five Interludes for Solo Piano

Music by African American Women Series By Rachel Eubanks

Dr. Eubanks was a student of the well-known French teacher Nadia Boulanger. This work for piano combines intellectual rigor with intense expressivity. The moods range from quiet and introverted to forceful and dramatic. Play them as a set or select your favorite to perform.

H6500, 12 pages, $8.95

Negro Dance

Music by African American Women Series By Nora Holt • Edited by Helen Walker-Hill

6501, 4 pages, $8.95

Works for Solo Piano: Irene Britton Smith

Music by African American Women Series

By Irene Britton Smith • Edited by Helen Walker-Hill

Two Preludes for Piano • Variations on a Theme by MacDowell • Passacaglia in C-sharp minor This edition by Chicago composer Irene Britton Smith (1907-1999) features the finely crafted and melodic Two Preludes for Piano, Variations on a Theme by MacDowell, and Passacaglia in C-sharp minor.

H6502, 32 pages, $18.95

Four Rhapsodies for Solo Piano

Music by African American Women Series By Lettie Beckon Alston

These compelling rhapsodies each address a specific issue of technique. This Michigan-based composer explores exciting rhythms and a profusion of colors and tempos.

H6503, 24 pages, $13.95

Nocturne

Music by African American Women Series By Rachel Eubanks

Dr. Eubanks was a student of the well-known French teacher Nadia Boulanger. This work for piano combines intellectual rigor with intense expressivity. The moods range from quiet and introverted to forceful and dramatic. Play them as a set or select your favorite to perform.

H6504, 8 pages, $8.95

The Runner & Other Piano Favorites

By Peter A. Petroff

This is an exciting new collection from the San Antonio-based melodist, Peter Petroff. Already well-known in Texas where his compositions have been performed in statewide competitions, Petroff's music combines lyricism with a compelling drive. Included in this volume is his flamboyant interpretation Let My People Go, the haunting Trilogy, the atmospheric Winter Dreams, a rousing March, and several other selections of medium difficulty.

H600, 32 pages, $14.95

Oddly Beautiful Times for Solo Piano

By Michael Isaacson

7:33 A.M. • 5:23 P.M. • 9:43 P.M.

This set explores the intermediate student's rhythmic development. The first movement is an optimistically buoyant morning waltz in 7/8. 5:23 P.M. is a merry Elizabethan pub frolic in 5/8. The final movement, written in 9/8, is reflective and romantic in its possibilities.

H601, 12 pages, $8.95

Moon Thoughts: Five Pieces for Piano

By Stephen Gryc

The Moon is a Gong • The Moon is a Skull • The Moon is a Candle Light • The Moon is a Scarab • The Moon is a Flower These pieces were inspired by the American poet Vachel Lindsay who wrote a long series of poems about the moon as viewed by different people and animals. These evocative and atmospheric pieces were commissioned by the Connecticut State Music Teachers Association specifically for the intermediate student.

H602, 12 pages, $8.95

Electric Church and the Walls of Jerusalem for Solo Piano

By Robert Starer

These two pieces, premiered by Dorothy Lewis at Carnegie Recital Hall, are each inspired by a visual image. Electric Church is inspired by a picture of a small rural church in New England surrounded by a mist during an electric storm. The music incorporates the opening notes of a Gregorian Kyrie. The second piece takes its title from the walls of the old temple in Jerusalem which are built with very large stones. This work uses the Hebrew chant Kol Nidre, one of the best-known ancient Jewish melodies.

H603, 16 pages, $8.95

Suite Alternatives for Solo Piano

By Barbara Harbach

I. Upturn • II. Nocturne • III. Return

The first piece is bright and imitative; the second composition has interesting contrasts between lyricism and unexpected melodic twists; the finale alternates between playfulness and percussiveness. This set is written for specific technical needs of advancing pianists. Playing in the outer ranges of the keyboard, accuracy with wide-spaced melodic lines, and balance between hands in imitative sections are just a few of the techniques these pieces will develop.

H604, 12 pages, $8.95

Impromptu and Presentiment for Solo Piano

By Ralph Simpson

Part of the ongoing series of Music by African Americans, these works are by the chair of the music department at Tennessee State University. The first of these works offers intriguing and challenging rhythms. The second is based on the spiritual "Everybody Talking About Heaven Ain't Going There." It was premiered by pioneer African American pianist Hazel Harrison (1893-1969).

H605, 16 pages, $8.95

Suite Impressions for Solo Piano

By Judith Lang Zaimont

I. Folk Song • II. In Pop Style • III. Jazz Waltz

This collection represents the newest keyboard works of one of America's leading composers. Folk Song has a flavor of nostalgia and gentleness. This is followed by In Pop Style, a lilting and refreshing work. The set closes with Jazz Waltz, a vibrant treatment of one of America's favorite genres.

H606, 12 pages, $9.95

Three Leaves of Grass for Solo Piano

By Robert Strassburg

This programmatic triptych celebrates the energy and enthusiasm of Walt Whitman's Leaves of Grass. The Dalliance of Eagles begins with a dreamlike reverie followed by a soaring flight of eighth notes. The second tender and expressive movement leads to the culmination of the set in a whirlwind of sound and sense.

H607, 16 pages, $8.95

Phantasy and Phugue for Solo Piano

By Barbara Harbach

Following a thunderclap opening, the mysterious atmosphere builds until the tolling of low octaves in the bass heralds a hypnotic middle section. One of the techniques employed in this section is a melody superimposed over a repeated rhythmic pattern. This moves into an athletic gigue-like fugue. Four or five minutes in duration, this is a spellbinding contemporary piece to round out a program.

H608, 16 pages, $8.95

Dances of the People: Piano Works from Ukraine

By Zhanna Kolodub.

Toccatina • Dance • Waltz

In this vibrant new collection, Kolodub captures the strong rhythms and modalities of the Ukrainian people. Toccatina has an immediately appealing melody and lots of sixteenth note energy. Dance is a rousing march, while Waltz is a stirring interpretation of a traditional waltz.

H609, 20 pages, $8.95

Calendar Collection for Solo Piano

By Judith Lang Zaimont

This collection successfully captures the spirit of each month's evocative title. Fanfare has called this "uncommonly attractive music" and American Record Guide has called them "especially pleasing for its variety of piano textures and evocative moods."

Medium difficulty.

H610, 32 pages, $16.95

Two Rags for Solo Piano

By Judith Lang Zaimont

Reflective Rag • Judy's Rag

Capturing the sounds and moods of one of America's most popular art forms, Two Rags show Zaimont's mastery of music of a bygone era. These two pieces have received considerable attention and recognition from Time magazine to National Public Radio to Northwest Airlines in-flight programming.

H613, 12 pages, $9.95

"Hesitation" Rag for Solo Piano

By Judith Lang Zaimont

Capturing the sounds and moods of one of America's most popular art forms, Hesitation Rag shows Zaimont's mastery of music of a bygone era.

H614, 8 pages, $8.95

Three Works for Solo Piano

By Robert Starer

The Carillon of Albany • Prelude for the Right Hand • Fughetta

Robert Starer (1924-2001) was a preeminent American composer and member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters. This charming set includes The Carillon of Albany, Prelude for the Right Hand, and Fughetta.

H615, 12 pages, $9.95

Toccat-Poem for Solo Piano

By Zhanna Kolodub

This vibrant and programmatic work by Ukrainian composer Zhanna Kolodub brims with energy and strong rhythms. An evocative tour of Eastern European harmonies and flavors.

H616, 16 pages, $9.95

Jupiter's Moons for Solo Piano

By Judith Lang Zaimont

This latest work by one of America's leading composers for piano features atmospheric writing and makes excellent use of the entire keyboard. Its six movements are inspired by Greek mythology.

H618, 44 pages, $18.95

Wizards: Three Magic Masters

By Judith Lang Zaimont

Full of vitality and emotion, Judith Lang Zaimont's latest piece explores magic and its relationship to the natural world. This mercurial work shifts between the distinct personas of the three "Magical Masters" evoking glittering arpeggiated cascades, furioso hammer strokes and soft, mystical droplets.

H619, 20 pages, $14.95

In My Lunchbox

Swimming Tuna (Arabesque) • Celery Stalks • The Banana Song – A Wistlin' Tune • Mandarin Orange • Sugar RUSH (Toccatina)

These charming and tasty tidbits are sure to delight young pianists.
H620, 20 pages, $14.95

RETURN

WORKS FOR FOUR-HANDS

Synergy for Piano Four-Hands

By Robert Starer

This work for piano four-hands was commissioned by the Tri-County Music Teachers Association of New York State. The term synergy implies that the combined efforts of two people are stronger than their individual efforts would be. The two-piano parts, of equal importance, are ideal for teaching variations of touch and timing.

H6400, 8 pages, $9.95

"Snazzy Sonata for Piano Four-Hands" An Entertainment for Two

By Judith Lang Zaimont

This delightful work captures American rhythms and idioms, from the Moderate Two Step to a Lazy Beguine, Bebop Scherzo to the final Grand Valse. Zaimont wrote this work for two players at one piano. Zaimont's symphonic, chamber and piano music is widely performed to excellent reviews and acclaim, and she has recorded this work on the 4Tay label.

H6401, 68 pages, $29.95

Favorite Duett and God Save the King for Four-Hands

By Jane Savage • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Jane Savage (fl. 1780-1790) wrote during the transition from the harpsichord to the pianoforte. She had a superb sense of what made appealing and popular galant style keyboard music as well as a complete grasp of the harmonic and counterpoint practices of the time period. A Favorite Duett contains three charming movements for four hands and God Save the King is our familiar My Country 'Tis of Thee.

H6402, 32 pages, $18.95

Two Sonata Duets with Violin Obligato for Piano or Harpsichord Four-Hands

By Maria Cosway • Edited by Barbara Harbach

Maria Cosway (1759-1838) was a cultured and inter-disciplinary woman who kept a popular salon. She was a composer, painter and keyboard artist and had a long relationship and correspondance with Thomas Jefferson. These two- movement sonatas can be performed by two harps, harpsichords, pianofortes or organs or any combination of the above. These pieces are truly duets and not merely melody and accompaniment.

H6403, 36 pages, $20.95

RETURN

WORKS FOR ORGAN AND BRASS

Arias for Trumpet and Organ

By J. S. Bach • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

Harbach's previous transcriptions for trumpet and organ have been called "brilliantly written and magnificent to hear" Sacred Music. These popular transcriptions are the latest from this well-known Bach performer who is "in the front rank of those who practice in the Baroque art in this country, if not the world" The New Records.

H400, 24 pages, $14.95

We Offer Thanks and Praise for Two Trumpets and Organ

By J. S. Bach • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

This is a rollicking arrangement of a duet from Cantata 134, written by J.S. Bach for a special Easter Sunday in Leipzig in 1724. It is sure to add a festive touch to weddings and Festival Days, and it can turn a simple Sunday service into a musical event.

H401, 24 pages, $15.95, including trumpet parts for both B-flat and C trumpets.

What is the World to Me for Brass Quartet and Organ

(Was frag ich nach der Welt from Cantata 129)

By J. S. Bach • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

Organists will love this rhythmic, pulsing arrangement, taken from Cantata 129. A serene statement of the chorale is bracketed by joyous outer sections in which the brass play the chorale straight, and the organist provides the countermelody. As much fun to play as it is to listen to.

H402, 8 pages, $10.95, including brass parts and trumpet parts for both B-flat and C trumpets.

Reviews for 401 and 402

The Journal of The Association of Anglican Musicians

... "superb arrangements"

... "superb music in superb arrangements"

... "highly recommend both"

Sonata for Two Trumpets and Organ

By Arcangelo Corelli • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

Playful imitations between the two trumpets characterize the prelude of this three-movement sonata. The second and third movements are based on dance movements. The Allemande is stately and rhythmic, with dotted figures, while the Gigue abounds with energy and delightful sequences. Equally successful on organ, piano, or harpsichord.

H407, 12 pages, $11.95, including trumpet parts for both B-flat and C trumpets

Sonata for Two Trumpets and Organ

By Giuseppe Tartini • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

This three-movement sonata is a delightful showcase for two trumpets and any keyboard instrument. In the typical Baroque style, the trumpets imitate each other and interweave throughout all movements. The gracious Andante is followed by a perky Minuetto and a sparkling and vivacious final movement. This arrangement is based on one of Tartini's famous sonatas for two violins.

H408, 12 pages, $12.95, including trumpet parts for both B-flat and C trumpets.

Sound the Trumpet for Trumpet and Organ

By Mary Jeanne van Appledorn

This expressive work by prolific composer Mary Jeanne van Appledorn explores a full range of trumpet and organ sounds and a variety of moods.

H409, 20 pages, $13.95

God is Love for Two Trumpets and Organ (Cantata) No. 33

by J. S. Bach • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

HMP 411, 20 pages, $14.95

Three Pieces for Organ and Brass (2-3 Trumpets, Timpani & Organ)

by J. S. Bach • Arranged by Barbara Harbach

- Now Vengeance Hath Been Taken (Christmas Oratorio S. 248)
- I Follow God with Happy Footsteps (Cantata S. 111)
- My Friend is Mine! (Cantata S. 140)

HMP 412, 52 pages, $29.95

Emily! for Soprano, Trumpet and Piano

By Barbara Harbach • 10 minutes

I Taste a Liquor Never Brewed • If You Were Coming in the Fall • Wild Nights! Wild Nights
Emily! for Soprano, Eb or Bb Trumpet and Piano is in three movements, based on the poetry of the great American poet, Emily Dickinson (1830-1886). The first movement, I Taste a Liquor Never Brewed, portrays a mystical state of experiencing the soul's awareness, an awareness that is so overwhelmingly uplifting that she feels as if she had become intoxicated by drinking alcohol. The second movement, If You Were Coming in the Fall, is about love, time and separation, and addressed to someone who is away. The third movement, based on two poems Wild Nights! Wild Nights! and For Each Ecstatic Instant. Wild Nights! Wild Nights! is a poem of unrestrained passion and rapture. For Each Ecstatic Instant describes a relationship of joy and pain, and joy is inevitably paid for by suffering – joy is brief but the resulting pain lasts. The soprano, trumpet and piano intermingle and weave the melodies, each an integral part of the whole, forming a true trio.

H944, 19 pages, $22.95

Two Italian Duets

by G. F. Handel, arranged by Barbara Harbach

- Quel fior che all'alba ride
- No, di voi non vuo darmi

Contains material used later in the Messiah.

These two Italian chamber duets are from those written in London in the years 1741-5. Handel's reason for writing them is not at all clear. The two given in this publication were composed in the early part of July 1741 and used a year later as the basis for several of the large choruses of The Messiah to which they contributed a certain lightness of texture. The original version was for soprano voices with a basso continuo, probably played on harpsichord with a supporting bass instrument. The version here presented seems to call for organ in order to balance the heavier tone of the trumpets. The ornamentation and articulation of the solo parts are only suggestions of the editor and certainly can be changed to suit the whims of the players.

H996, $22.95

RETURN

CHAMBER & ORCHESTRAL MUSIC

Concertino for Oboe and Strings

By Zhanna Kolodub • Edited by Cynthia Green Libby

This hauntingly romantic work for oboe and strings (with added effects from the tambourine and harpsichord) explores the rich harmony of colors and timbral essence of the oboe. Written by one of Ukraine's leading composers, the work received its American premiere in November 1994. The work is about 7 minutes long.

H900, 40 pages, $30.95 full score H901, set of parts $40.00

Concertino for Oboe and Piano

By Zhanna Kolodub • Edited by Cynthia Green Libby

This arrangement by the composer deftly translates the rich colors of the orchestra to the expressive idiom of the piano. This is a welcome addition to the performing and teaching repertoire.

H902, 20 pages, $14.95

Daystream Dances for Oboe and Piano

By Barbara Harbach
Rolling Brightness • Reeling Dusk

This exuberant set showcases the abilities of both pianist and oboist. Rolling Brightness is a rollicking and upbeat dialogue between oboe and piano. Its soaring lines and frequent key changes give it a playful character. Reeling Dusk is a headlong rush into a whirl of sound and sense. The unusual meter signature of 11/8 creates a slightly off-kilter sway. Rhythmic complexities lead into a dramatic oboe cadenza before returning to the opening theme and meter.

H903, 20 pages, $12.95

Sonata for Violin and Piano

By Irene Britton Smith • Edited by Helen Walker-Hill Music by African American Women Series

This accessible 1947 three-movement sonata is characterized by serenely flowing lyricism alternating with lively, mischievous counterpoint. Neoclassical in style, the two instruments intertwine in a deft duet that is as satisfying to hear as to perform.

H904, 32 pages, $16.95

Sonatas for Violin and Harpsichord or Piano

By Maria Margarethe Danzi • Edited by Barbara Harbach

This sonata was written by the German composer, pianist, and singer Maria Margarethe Danzi (1768-1800) She lived in the same house as Mozart and received piano and composition lessons from his father Leopold. The memorable melodies, clear phrases, and graceful ornamentation of all three sonatas are characteristic of the late Viennese classical style.

H905, Sonata I in E-flat Major, 28 pages, $14.95

H906, Sonata II in B-flat Major, 20 pages, $12.95

H907, Sonata III in E Major, 28 pages, $14.95

Frontier Fancies for Violin and Piano

By Barbara Harbach
Fiddleflirt • Twilight Dream • Dancedevil

This exuberant set showcases the interaction between the violin and the piano. In Fiddleflirt, the two instruments are protagonists in a duel of speed and energy. Twilight Dream is an evocative aria and lush respite before the wild tarantella of Dancedevil.

H908, 24 pages, $14.95

Rhapsodie Jardine for Oboe and Strings

By Barbara Harbach • 9:23 minutes

This work vividly evokes a landscape full of lush harmonies and exotic melodic perfumes, a musical vista of resonant colors and aromatic counterpoint. The opening fantasie-like section juxtaposes a minimalistic ostinato pattern in the lower strings with the evocative and expansive melodic line of the oboe. A somewhat askew waltz follows, an off-beat dance with a wry oboe serenading a slightly awry orchestra. A return to the fantasie material follows a brief contrapuntal transition. The fugue, alternating between 6/8 and 9/8, is passed among the strings and soloist. This leads to a plaintive duet between the oboe and cello and a unison statement of the fugal subject bring the piece to the end with a flourish.

H909, 24 pages, $26.95 H909B, parts $70.00

Arcadian Reverie for String Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach • 8 minutes

Arcadian Reverie begins with a simple setting of the pastoral theme that recurs in many forms from theme with gentle counterpoint to pulsing rhythms and undercurrents. A faster middle section with punctuating, slightly dissonant chords herald the introduction of melodic and rhythmic ostinatos and the melody in 6/8 time. The original theme makes several attempts at disrupting the frolicking fugue before gathering all the string forces into a lush concluding statement.

H910, 24 pages, $26.95

H910B, set of parts, $70.00 (8,8,5,5,5)

Pioneer Women: From Skagway to White Mountain for Soprano, Clarinet, and Piano

By Barbara Harbach • 21 minutes

Catherine Van Curler • Cordelia Nobel • Margaret Murie • Gertrude Fergus Baker

Pioneer Women is a collection of four portraits of American women who helped to settle the wilds of Alaska. Taken from their diaries, letters, monographs, and journals, the texts chronicle their journeys throughout Alaska, from Skagway, the Southeastern entrance into Alaska, to White Mountain, near Nome, on the western coast of the Bering Sea.

H911, 48 pages, $26.95

Transformations for String Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach • 16:30 minutes

I. Pastorale • II. Towards Liberty • III. Re-strain • IV. Commandment • V. For Life • VI.

One Out of Many • VII. Profit • VIII. Return

This eight-movement work for string quartet was inspired by pioneer director Alice Guy Blaché's 1912 silent film Making an American Citizen. The moods range from nostalgia to agitation to resolution. This haunting score captures a vein of folk America and utilizes the distinctive voice of each instrument.

H912, 32 pages, $18.95

H912B, set of parts, $70.00 (8,8,5,5,5)

Perambulations for Trumpet and Piano

By Barbara Harbach

Perambulations for Trumpet and Piano showcases the lyric possibilities and rhythmic energy of the trumpet. It opens with a blues-tinged melodic theme before moving to a bright Vivace toccata in the piano with emphatic chords and considerable interplay between the two instruments. Development of each theme is followed by a playfully relaxed trumpet cadenza before joining with the piano for a bravura finish.

H913, 12 pages, $10.95

American Dialogues for Flute and Piano

By Barbara Harbach

American Dialogues for Flute and Piano evokes the quintessentially American frontier character and spirit. Flute and piano imitate, chase, and call out to the other as they explore the full range and dynamic possibilities of both instruments. Folk-like melodies, harmonies built on fourths, dissonances of rubbing seconds, clashing sevenths, and devilish fourths (diabolous in musica) give color to the dialogues. The musical terrain includes calm, quiet conversations, ecstatic dancing, and fiery musical competition before settling on a common vision.

H914, 8 pages, $8.95

Four Dances for Two for Oboe and Violin

By Barbara Harbach

Rococo Promenade • Afternoon Divertimento • Get Reel • Holiday Glide

Rococo Promenade is based on the Baroque French overture style with a galloping fugal middle section before a return to the jaggedly dotted style of the beginning. Afternoon Divertimento alternates a calm, lullaby-like mood with bursts of frenzied energy typical of a weekend afternoon. Get Reel portrays a whimsically reeling, roiling, reel (really!) with rapid and smoothly flowing figures. Holiday Glide features clockwork precision interpolated with slides and glides and glissandi.

H915, 10 pages, $8.95

Three Fragments for Solo Oboe

By Zhanna Kolodub • Edited by Cynthia Green Libby

This hauntingly romantic work for oboe explores the rich harmony of colors and timbral essence of the oboe.

H916, 4 pages, $8.95

The Soul of Ra for String Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach • 10 minutes

In Memoriam • Phoenix Rising

The Soul of Ra has two contrasting movements: In Memoriam and Phoenix Rising. In Memoriam portrays all our lost loves, loved ones and the many war dead. The throbbing pulse of pain alternates with the soaring melody of hope and heart's ease. Phoenix Rising personifies the indomitable human spirit that transcends loss and this world's suffering. Amidst our joy there is always a reminder of In Memoriam and the gentle ache of remembrances past.

H917, 29 pages, $26.95

H917B, set of parts, $70.00 (8,8,5,5,5)

Lilia Polka for Woodwind Quintet

By Kate Chopin, arr. Barbara Harbach • 2 minutes

Kate Chopin (1850-1904) wrote Lilia Polka for piano for her daughter which was published by H. H. Rollman in St. Louis. Polkas were quite popular in the German and German American communities in St. Louis in 1899. Lilia Polka is a lively, spirited polka showcasing each instrument in the woodwind quintet.

H918, 6 pages, $16.95, full score and parts

Rhapsody Ritmico for Brass Quintet

By Barbara Harbach • 4:21 minutes

Rhapsody Ritmico for Brass Quintet opens majestically with fanfare punctuations. The second section is a gently lilting lullaby with imitation in the upper brasses and a melodic and rhythmic ostinato in the lower brasses. The horn introduces a merry fugue subject, and then each instrument joins the frolic. The various themes and sections are richly interwoven before a dramatic final flourish.

H919, 16 pages, $15.95, full score and parts

Frontier Fancies for Violin and Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach • 11:30 minutes

Fiddleflirt • Twilight Dream • Dancedevil

This exuberant violin concerto features spirited interaction between violin and orchestra.

Fiddleflirt is a dual of speed and energy. Twilight Dream is an evocative aria and lush respite before the wild tarantella of Dancedevil.

H920, full score, 82 pages, $32.95

H920B, set of parts, $90, string set (8,8,5,5,5)

Emanations of the Sacred Harp for Violoncello and Piano

By Barbara Harbach

The first movement, Morning Fantasy, is an eloquent fantasy beginning and ending with a quasi-improvisatory setting for the central hymn tune "The Morning Trumpet." The second movement, Reeling Chester, begins with an introductory fragment and then a complete statement of "Chester" in the cello, clothed in a polyphonic texture in the piano and evoking the energy and drive of the early New England style. The counterpoint then becomes the subject of a vintage Harbach fugue that weaves "Chester" into its fabric along with another fugue, reels, and more hymns.

H921, 16 pages, $12.95

Cherish - Caress for Soprano and Cello

By Barbara Harbach • 4:30 minutes

Cherish - Caress is a lyrical duet for soprano and cello. It is based on a warm and playful treatment of the etymology of charity. Barbara Harbach transforms these lyrics into a searchingly beautiful lullaby.

H922, 16 pages, $10.95

My Garden for Soprano and Orchestra

By Elizabeth Haskins • Orchestrated by Robert J. Haskins

My Garden, a set of three songs originally for voice, violin, and piano, is based on texts by Christina Rossetti. There is a Budding Morrow in Midnight begins with an "icy" atmosphere with voice and violin in imitative dialogue. Spring Quiet combines a fiddle tune in the Celtic style. Another Spring features a haunting melody and imitative exchanges between the voice and violin.

H923, full score, 56 pages, $28.95 H923B, $80.00 (8,8,5,5,5)

My Garden for Soprano, Violin and Piano

By Elizabeth Haskins

My Garden, a set of three songs originally for voice, violin, and piano, is based on texts by Christina Rossetti. There is a Budding Morrow in Midnight begins with an "icy" atmosphere with voice and violin in imitative dialogue. Spring Quiet combines a fiddle tune in the Celtic style. Another Spring features a haunting melody and imitative exchanges between the voice and violin.

H924, 16 pages, $12.95

Rustic Scene for Viola and Piano

By Barbara Harbach

Rustic Scene for Viola and Piano evokes the quintessentially American frontier character and spirit. Viola and piano imitate, chase, and call out to each other as they explore the full range and dynamic possibilities of both instruments. Folk-like melodies, harmonies built on fourths, dissonances of rubbing seconds, clashing sevenths, and devilish fourths (diabolous in musica) give color to the dialogues, vividly evoking a landscape full of lush harmonies and exotic melodic perfumes, a musical vista of resonant colors and aromatic counterpoint.

H925, 8 pages, $9.95

Sinfonia from Pallade e Marte

By Maria Margherita Grimani • Edited by Robert J. Haskins

Little is known about Grimani's education or life. This three-movement Sinfonia is from her oratorio Pallade e Marte. This style sinfonia was the model for the early symphony, with engaging melodies and expert string writing making it a vibrant addition to the early orchestral repertoire.

H926, full score, 8 pages, $11.95 H926B, $40.00 (8,8,5,5,5)

Forces at Play for Chamber Ensemble

By Barbara Harbach • 11:08 minutes

Flute/Piccolo, Clarinet, Piano, Violin, Viola, Cello and Percussion

Forces at Play was conceived of as a modern ballet or a landscaped musical journey conveyed through dance. The distinctive voice of each instrument weaves and interacts, collides, dances and floats through time and space. Forces at Play is written for flute/piccolo, clarinet in B-flat, violin, viola, cello, and percussion.

H927, 28 pages, $32.95

Pleasure Flow, Tender Mist for Soprano and Piano

By Barbara Harbach • 12.30 minutes

Wind • Tend • Mist • In the Calm in the Cool • Pleasure Flow

This song cycle for soprano creates a gently stirring atmosphere that draws on the simple but pleasing lyrics. Each movement is distinct in its affect and harmonic structure yet together form a flowing organic whole. The moods range from gently nostalgic to playful.

H928, 20 pages, $14.95

A Morning Trumpet for Oboe and Organ

By Barbara Harbach

A Morning Trumpet, written for oboe and organ, is based on five early American hymns: "The Morning Trumpet," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Morning Hymn," "How Firm a Foundation," and "Come Away to the Skies." The oboe and organ interact and imitate each other in spirited rhythms, and toccata and fugal figures.

H929, 12 pages, $11.95

Transformations for String Quartet

By Barbara Harbach

I. Pastorale • II. Towards Liberty • III. Re-strain • IV. Commandment • V. For Life • VI. One Out of Many • VII. Profit • VIII. Return

This eight-movement work for string quartet was inspired by pioneer director Alice Guy Blachés 1912 silent film Making an American Citizen. The moods range from nostalgia to agitation to resolution. This haunting score captures a vein of folk America and utilizes the distinctive voice of each instrument.

H930, 32 pages, $28.95

American Solstice for Chamber Ensemble

By Barbara Harbach • 11:23 minutes

Flute, Clarinet, Piano, 2 Violins, 2 violins II, 2 violas, 2 Celli and Bass

American Solstice is loosely based on an original fiddle tune that captures something of the flavor and independence of the American frontier spirit. The second theme reflects the influence of the American hymn collection known as The Sacred Harp, yet it features unexpected harmonies and yearning melodic lines. This is followed by a sprightly section of playful imitation and canon. The three themes develop and interweave, with an extended fugue built on the fiddle tune that culminates in an exhilarating crowning statement.

H931, 68 pages, $41.95, full score and parts

Separately Together: Synesthesia for Chamber Ensemble

By Barbara Harbach • 16:30 minutes

Flute/Piccolo, Clarinet, Piano, Violin, Viola and Cello

I. Lilted Lines – Careening Melodies II. Spattering Notes III. Dancing Rhythms IV. Lyrical Re-vision V. Crescendo of Colors

Separately Together, a five-movement work for chamber ensemble, was inspired by pioneer director Alice Guy Blachés 1913 silent film A House Divided. The piece explores a variety of emotions and atmospheres that reflect the sensory images of the film. The instruments form an integrated tapestry of sound yet retain their separate colors.

Separately Together is written for flute, clarinet in B-flat, piano, violin, viola and violoncello.

H932, 48 pages, $42.95, full score and parts

Carondelet Caprice for Chamber Ensemble

By Barbara Harbach • 5 minutes

Flute, Clarinet, Piano, Violin, Viola and Cello

Carondelet Caprice for Chamber Ensemble was inspired by pioneer American director Lois Weber's 1913 silent film How Men Propose. The moods and themes range from vibrant to nostalgic and feature a distinctly American idiom. The whimsical interaction between the instruments reflects the engaging nature of Weber's film. Carondelet Caprice is written for flute, clarinet in B-flat, piano, violin, viola and violoncello.

H933, 16 pages, $28.95, full score and parts

A Love Supreme for SSA and Woodwind Quintet & Piano

By Barbara Harbach • 9 minutes

Cheryl Walker's beautiful poem, A Love Supreme, provides the inspiration and text for this composition for women's voices. Walker's evocative words create several diverse sections that weave in and out of each other often returning with more intensity. A plain chant for solo voice sets the tone for "A love supreme sanctified and pure," and reminds us through music of the joy of unconditional love. The chant returns, each time higher and more ecstatic. The woodwinds introduce the soaring lyricism of "Anointed by Holy Ghost's healing." The gently lilting section in combinations of 6/8 and 12/8 meters underlay "She is sanctified and free, on a blues-licked freedom voyage." This is followed by a syncopated and rhythmic section for "Fervently awaiting a laying on hands." A fugal rendition for voices based on the familiar hymn, Amazing Grace, portrays "She's there in an amazing grace circle, how sweet the sound." A joyous fugue for the winds follows, also based on Amazing Grace. Several themes return briefly before the circle is completed with the beginning words "A love supreme sanctified and pure" and the final refrain, "Her liberation is at hand."

H934, 50 pages, $34.95, full score and parts

H934B, $2.70, choral part

Veneration for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach • 15: 29 minutes

Blessings: Gift of Blood • Charity – Caress • Grace: Pleasure Heart

The first movement features flowing melodies, pulses of rhythm and energy, and alternating currents of intensity and release. Charity – Caress is an idyll, a tender evocation that began life as a work for cello and voice. The fugal and imitative elements reflect those intertwined voices in a dialogue both intimate and playful. Grace: Pleasure Heart is a rondo for orchestra, beginning with a yearning theme reminiscent of the first movement and a relentlessly driving undercurrent and percussive piano part. The next section features contrapuntal interplay based on an expansive rising melody. After a brief return of the opening material, these elements are combined in a spirited frolic.

H935, full score, 68 pages, $34.95

H935B, set of parts, $90 string set A (8,8,5,5,5)

One of Ours – A Cather Symphony for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach • 14 minutes

On Lovely Creek • Autumn in Beaufort • Honor at Boar's Head

One of Ours is based on Cather's 1922 Pulitzer Prizewinner about World War I hero Claude Wheeler from central Nebraska. "On Lovely Creek" is an American pastorate, evoking Claude's youth on the Great Nebraska Prairie and the innocence of a youngish America just beginning to face the tragedies of the twentieth century. "Autumn in Beaufort" is a charming interlude in the War, the celebration of a town newly liberated from the Germans. The dead have been buried and honored, and those who remain savor the small joys of life. "Honor at Boar's Head" is a remembering of the life and service of the many thousands of war dead whose bravery and self-sacrifice ensures the many freedoms we enjoy.

H936, full score, 88 pages, $34.95

H936B, set of parts, $90.00, string set (8,8,5,5,5)

America, the Promised Land for SATB, 3 Trumpets, Snare Drum & Piano

By Barbara Harbach

A rousing and moving patriotic tribute to America featuring the entire SATB choir, with three trumpets, snare drums and piano with verses for men's chorus, women's chorus and an interlude for the instruments.

H937, 14 pages, full score with parts $24.95

H937B, 14 pages, choral part, $2.25

Fantasy and Fugue on "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" for Woodwind Quintet

By Barbara Harbach • 4:30 minutes

A woodwind quintet setting of one of America's most popular spirituals. The dramatic fantasy section includes a lyrical rendition of the melody; this is followed by a lively fugue.

H938, 8 pages, $12.95

Freeing the Caged Bird for Woodwind Quintet

By Barbara Harbach • 15 minutes

Maya Angelou • Sara Teasdale • Kate Chopin • Emily Hahn

Freeing the Caged Bird is a four-movement tribute inspired by the literary works of four native St. Louis women who struggled to give voice to their creativity. The first movement is based on the book I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings, by Maya Angelou, who is regarded as one of the great voices of contemporary literature. Inspired by Sara Teasdale's poem "Sunset St. Louis" the second movement evokes the swirling, twilight imagery of her poem. The third movement represents Kate Chopin's then notorious novel The Awakening, first published in 1899. The last movement, based on Emily Hahn's book, Hong Kong Holiday, expresses the joie de vivre of a woman who refused to accept society's dictums.

H939, 40 pages, $24.95, full score and parts

God Bless Your Church! For SATB, Trumpet & Organ

By Barbara Harbach

God Bless Your Church with Strength! is a joyous anthem for choir, trumpet and organ, based on the three hymns, St. Thomas, Festal Song and Heath.

H940, 9 pages, full score with parts $22.95

Abigail! for Soprano and Chamber Ensemble

By Barbara Harbach • 13:30 minutes

Miss Adorable • Lady Adams • Remember the Ladies • My Heart is Light

Abigail Smith Adams inherited New England's strongest traditions, and what she lacked in formal education her keen intelligence and curiosity molded her into a formidable woman: farm manager, financial manager, letter writer, political advisor, diplomatic wife and First Lady. Her letters to John Adams, pungent, colorful and witty detail her life in times of the American Revolution. As an intellectually open-minded woman of her day, Abigail's ideas on women's rights, education, equal rights and the government would eventually play a role in the founding of the United States. Her marriage to John was a marriage of the mind and of the heart, lasting more than half a century, deeply enriched by time.

I. Miss Adorable The lyrics for Abigail are taken from the letters that Abigail and John wrote to each other in 1762. John Adams called his Abigail, Miss Adorable, and the first movement captures the effervescence and the dreams and hopes of young love.

II. Lady Adams In 1776, Abigail wrote to John, "But if we mean to have heroes, statesmen and philosophers, we should have learned women." Lady Adams tells Abigail's views on education.

III. Remember the Ladies In Remember the Ladies, Abigail expresses her hope for equal treatment of women. In letters to John in 1776, she writes him, "For, if man is Lord, woman is Lordess."

IV. My Heart is Light At the end of her life Abigail tells John that she is sorry that she must leave her "dearest friend" and "please remember me with tenderest affection."

H941, full score, 71 pages, $34.95

Confluency for Bassoon and Piano

By Barbara Harbach

Confluency for Bassoon and Piano begins as a fantasy-rhapsody followed by a playful imitative section where bassoon meets piano, intermingles, and then go its separate way. A calm theme enters, reminiscent of the tunes from the Sacred Harp, and provides the canvas for a brief allusion to the haunting tune, Simple Gifts. Following a short cadenza for bassoon, a bravura toccata brings the piece to a close.

H942, 6 pages, $9.95

Echoes from Tomorrow for Chamber Ensemble

By Barbara Harbach • 26 minutes

Anticipation • Choices • Transitions • Remembrances

Flute, Clarinet, Bassoon, Piano, Violin, viola, Cello

Echoes from Tomorrow was inspired by Adolf Mérei's 1915 Hungarian-Jewish silent film Simon Judit (Judith Simon), based on the nineteenth-century ballad by Jewish poet József Kiss. Judith Simon is the sad and poignant story of a young woman who fell in love with a local man of a higher class. The music reflects the joy and exuberance of young love in the first movement, Anticipations and the heartbreaking decisions in Choices, when life goes a different way than expected. Transitions acknowledges the beginning acceptance of life's choices, while Remembrances brings self-forgiveness and the start of looking back without regret.

H943, 60 pages, $31.95

Emily! for Soprano, Trumpet and Piano

By Barbara Harbach • 10 minutes

I Taste a Liquor Never Brewed • If You Were Coming in the Fall • Wild Nights! Wild Nights!
Emily! for Soprano, Eb or Bb Trumpet and Piano is in three movements, based on the poetry of the great American poet, Emily Dickinson (1830-1886). The first movement, I Taste a Liquor Never Brewed, portrays a mystical state of experiencing the soul's awareness, an awareness that is so overwhelmingly uplifting that she feels as if she had become intoxicated by drinking alcohol. The second movement, If You Were Coming in the Fall, is about love, time and separation, and addressed to someone who is away. The third movement based on two poems Wild Nights! Wild Nights! and For Each Ecstatic Instant. Wild Nights! Wild Nights! is a poem of unrestrained passion and rapture. For Each Ecstatic Instant describes a relationship of joy and pain, and joy is inevitably paid for by suffering – joy is brief but the resulting pain lasts. The soprano, trumpet and piano intermingle and weave the melodies, each an integral part of the whole, forming a true trio.

H944, 19 pages, $34.95

Demarest suite for String Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Echoes of Our Youth begins the suite with lush sonorities and bold statements. Its range of emotions such as insecurity, joy, and nostalgia, are all feelings associated with childhood. Remember the Ladies is a phrase from a letter from Abigail Adams to her husband John Adams. The letter spoke to the fact that John was involved in the freeing of the country and yet, women could not vote or be educated. The seductive tango comes to a quiet close as Mrs. Adams' plea fell on deaf ears. Joyous Day is the development of a theme from Harbach's opera, O Pioneers!. In the opera, this theme was used at a joyous wedding and the joy in the theme translates well to strings as the suite comes to a close.

H945 $32.95 full score, H946B $90.00 set of parts (strings 8,8,5,5,5)

Lilia Polka for String Orchestra

Kate Chopin (1850-1904) wrote Lilia Polka for piano for her daughter which was published by H. H. Rollman in St. Louis. Polkas were quite popular in the German and German American communities in St. Louis in 1899. Lilia Polka is a lively, spirited polka showcasing each instrument in the string orchestra.

H946 $14.95 full score, VIV 946B $40.00 set of parts (strings 8,8,5,5,5)

Concerto in E-flat Major for Piano or Harpsichord

By Maria Hester Park • Edited by Barbara

Harbach
Orchestral Score by Robert J. Haskins

Maria Hester Park (1760-1813) was an English composer, pianist, and singer. The opening Allegro has a strong, pulsing theme, while the middle movement is a charming Andante. The final movement is a lighthearted, rollicking Rondo that showcases Park's virtuosic writing and wit.

H1839, 52 pages, $23.95 (conductor's score)

H1806B, String Parts, $50.00 (8,8,5,5,5)

Two Songs from the Sacred Harp for String Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

The Morning Trumpet • Chester

Barbara Harbach has always been fascinated with early American hymn tunes and has set many of them throughout her compositions.

The first movement, The Morning Trumpet for String Orchestra is based on the melody, "The Morning Trumpet," 1844, composed by Benjamin Franklin White (1800 - 1879), a singing master and compiler of the shape-note hymn book The Sacred Harp.

Early American composer, William Billings (1746-1800), wrote the tune in the second movement, II. Chester, adding his own patriotic text and it became the unofficial national anthem of the American Revolution. In music, Billings was largely self-taught, a tanner by trade. His New England Psalm-Singer (1770) was the first collection of music entirely by an American composer.

H947, 56 pages, $89, score and parts

In Memoriam: Turn Round O My Soul for String Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

In Memoriam: Turn Round, O My Soul, To Your Rest is a eulogy and elegy remembering the friends and loves that have passed through our lives. Strings evoke the feelings that words cannot express – sadness, beauty, mournfulness, grief, sorrow, and nobleness. The harshness of grief is portrayed by the dissonance near the end of the middle section with loud, tension and grief-stricken chords. Convertere, anima mea, in requiem tuam, requiem tuam.

H948, 27 pages, $49, score and parts

Nights in Timisoara for String Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Nights in Timisoara for String Orchestra evokes the essence of the Romanian people in the eastern city of Timisoara. Over the years many cultures have influenced and left their mark in the neighborhoods throughout the city even to the present time. Nights in Timisoara strives to portray in music the exotic architecture and vibrant culture life of this "Little Vienna" which is also called "the City of Flowers." Nights in Timisoara opens with a wide-range flourish spanning across the instruments, evolving into a haunting melody in the first violins over a moving accompaniment. This is followed by a tango ostinato with the violins dueling over the melodic motives. A four-voice jig fugue begins in the cello while the violins have their own imitative fugue. The opening flourish returns leading into a toccata for the string orchestra with the melody in the lower strings. Nights is an enlarged version which began as an organ composition.

H949, 40 pages, $89, score and parts

Freedom Suite for String Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

I. Harriet Scott – A Strong Woman is inspired by her memories as a child in Minnesota and St. Louis. She would have heard spirituals and dance music as an adult, and they, hopefully, would have reminded her of the good memories she had as a child and a young woman.

A brief introduction ushers in The Good Lord is Comin' for Me, a new spiritual based on the traditions of the 18th and 19th century American spirituals. Dance reels follow, in imitation of the Virginia Reels that were popular in the 19th century and in St. Louis, Missouri. The poignant spiritual Don't You Weep When I'm Gone, composed by Harry (Henry) Thacker Burleigh (1820-1869) has the melody in the cello that so wonderfully portrays the rich somberness of Burleigh's melody. The dance tunes and The Good Lord is Comin' for Me return and rush exuberantly toward the close.

When I'm gone, gone, when I'm gone, gone, gone, O mother; don't you weep when I am gone. For I'm goin' to heav'n above, Going to the God of Love, O mother, don't you weep when I am gone. When I'm gone, gone, When I'm gone, gone, gone. O mother, don't you weep when I am gone. O, mother meet me there, mother, meet me in de air, O mother don't you weep when I am gone. When I'm gone, gone, When I'm gone, gone, gone. O Mother, don't you weep when I am gone.

II. Eliza and Lizzie – Let My People Go!

The second movement is inspired by two spirituals – Sometimes I Feel Like A Motherless Child and Go Down, Moses. The movement seems to open with random-like pitches in long notes, but is built on the circle-of-fifths utilizing the notes in the chromatic scale. The first section features Sometimes in G Minor with a triple canon among the two violins and viola. An interlude of the opening material then precedes a combination of the two melodies in F-sharp Minor although the melody Go Down predominates. The final section combines as well as alternates between the two melodies.

III. Freedom opens with a rising and ecstatic fanfare. A joyous four-voice fugue begins. Even amid the celebration of freedom is the ache of memories from the past – Many Thousands Gone – a new spiritual melody inspired by the words of the spiritual of the same name. The fugue melody is then combined with Many Thousands Gone. With each return of the fanfare, excitement builds...but always touched by the memories of the many that have gone, until the feeling of freedom is wholly embraced.

H950, 72 pages, $89, score and parts

Sinfonietta for String Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Sinfonietta for String Orchestra is a petite symphony in three movements. The first movement, Hommage, is dedicated to all lost love and loved ones. The form is a loose rondo in six sections (ABACBA). The first section opens with a mournful descending line in the first violins. Beginning with imitation based on a two-measure motive, Jeu Jeu, plays with rests, slurs, and staccatos in a five-part form (ABACA). Pastiche is a combination of melodies, with the melodies playing happily together or juxtaposed together in a six-part form (ABACBC).

H951, 86 pages, $99, score and parts

Symphony No. 3 A State Divided – a Missouri Symphony

by Barbara Harbach

A State Divided – a Missouri Symphony contributes to the historiography of Missouri through music inspired by the state's entrance into the Civil War in 1862. The impetus for the Symphony was the 150th anniversary of the event in 2012. This composition continues to expand Harbach's musical work based on St. Louis and Missouri landmarks including Freedom Suite for String Orchestra, inspired by the Dred and Harriet Scott legal struggle for their freedom, and Harriet's Story for Soprano, Violin, and Piano, inspired by Harriet Scott and Harriet Tubman.

The rich history of the state is often overlooked when such events as the Missouri Compromise are discussed within the context of the Civil War. Of all the states, Missouri was the third in recorded battles and engagements – and that does not take into account the unrecorded guerilla warfare, which defined so much of the state's involvement. The music created will serve as a resource toward creating and mounting an American orchestral piece for students, scholars and researchers. In a small way, this symphony refocuses the historical lens on the pivotal role Missouri played in the Civil War.

A State Divided – Missouri Symphony for Orchestra is in three movements, each representing a major chapter in the history of Missouri's involvement in the Civil War.

I. Missouri Compromise – A Slave State (1820)

Missouri was initially settled by slave-holding Southerners coming up the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. Missouri entered the Union in 1821 as a slave state following the Missouri Compromise of 1820, in which it was agreed that no state north of Missouri's southern border with Arkansas could enter the Union as a slave state. Maine entered the Union as a free state in the compromise to balance Missouri. After a rising melodic introduction, a newly composed folk tune begins expanding, the same melody but with different harmonies each time highlighting the ambivalence of Missouri whether a free state or slave state. After a return of the introductory material, another newly composed folk tune emerges, flowing through many instruments with rhythmic activity in the high strings. Moments of unrest occur as well as a melancholy sadness that a state divided brings grief and sorrow to both sides.

II. Skirmish at Island Mound – African American Regiment (October 27-29, 1862)

The Skirmish at Island Mound occurred from October 27-29, 1862, in Bates County, Missouri. This Union victory was notable as the first known engagement of an African American regiment during the Civil War. Rising motives with increasing tension accelerate the ominous preparation for the fugal battle in the woodwinds and trumpet. A new spiritual, "When I Cross That River," infiltrates the fugal melody, and the new melody is reminiscent of happier times in the past. The ominous opening material returns interrupting the heartfelt spiritual and comes back at the conclusion of the battle as the troops celebrate their victory.

III. The Battle at Westport – the battle that saved Missouri (October 23, 1864)

This battle was one of the Civil War's largest battles west of the Mississippi and was fought in October 1864 with some 30,000 soldiers participating. The Union victory dashed Confederate hopes of occupying Missouri, and the battle has been called "The Gettysburg of the West." The Battle at Westport begins with a subdued trumpet call to arms. The battle begins with all instruments participating while a newly composed patriotic song "Mourning Glory" supports the troops in battle.

H953, 191 pages, $99 score and parts

Symphony No. 4 – Gateway Festival Symphony

By Barbara Harbach

Gateway Festival Symphony, 2013, is written for and dedicated to Dr. James Richards and the Gateway Festival

Orchestra for their 50th Jubilee Anniversary.

I. Confluency depicts the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers with the ebb and flow of two rivers playing and colliding, producing turbulence in early spring with melting snows and winds that whip the waters into a dangerous, dramatic frenzy. Other themes portray the waters as calm, with sparkling serenity. The themes interact, alternate and fuse before coming to the affirmation that the rivers will always be a life source.

II. Sunset: St. Louis is inspired by Sara Teasdale's poem, Sunset: Saint Louis. The themes reflect the structure and majesty of the city's natural and historic monuments coupled with the city's myriad cultural influences. The movement begins with the slow languidness of the hot St. Louis summers. A slow tango intertwines with a rippling water theme.

III. After Forever begins with a dramatic trumpet call-to-arms, reminding us of the struggle that Dred and Harriet Scott waged to win their independence. Their struggle helped catapult the United States into the Civil War. Of all the states, Missouri was the third in recorded battles and engagements, and that does not take into account the unrecorded guerilla warfare, which defined so much of the state's involvement. This movement reflects the pivotal role Missouri played in the Civil War, and the lasting, enduring strength of its people.

H954, 180 pages, $109, score and parts

Symphony No. 5 – Jubilee Symphony

By Barbara Harbach

Jubilee Symphony was commissioned by the University of Missouri–St. Louis for their 50th Jubilee Anniversary, 1963-2013. The symphony was premiered October 9, 2013.

The first movement, Bellerive, takes its name from the beautiful Bellerive Country Club which became the location for the university. The first building on the campus was the club house. The excitement of creating this new educational institution is portrayed by rhythmic energy and long soaring and sustained melodies. A fugue evolves from these opening materials to become a conversation among the many partners that were needed to realize this dream. The euphoria of this actually happening is based on a lively jig before the rhythmic energy and melodies return.

Mirth Day Fiesta (the second movement) is unique to the university – a day of celebration, showcasing many cultures and ethnicities. The day dawns quietly, slowly building to a Mexican Cinco de Mayo party with a flavor of Mariachi music. Dance-like rhythms and playful flourishes by the winds exhaust the revelers, returning to the quietness of the opening, but the seductive rhythms and melodies draw the dancers into merriment once again.

The mascot of the University of Missouri–St. Louis is the mythological Greek god, messenger of the sea, Triton. Like his father, Poseidon, Triton carried a trident. Tritons Ascending (the third movement) returns to the sea, beginning dark and mysterious like the deep recesses of the ocean. Slowly rising, swelling, and ebbing, the melodies lead to the fugal section in the strings with countermelodies in the winds, all contributing to the surging and fast-moving motion in the strings. The musical mood becomes noble and stately, with the low brass bringing Triton to the surface of the waters. The melodies and harmonies combine to bring Triton to the 50th Jubilee Anniversary celebration.

H955, 226 pages, $109, score and parts

Symphony No. 6 – Night Soundings for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Cloak of Darkness is the hour of the wolf, between night and light, just before the dawn awakens. It is believed to be the time when demons have intensified power, our nightmares are the most real, and the sleepless are haunted by their deepest fears. The only reality is unreality, and the terrified beating of your own heart. Beginning with chromatic whirlwinds of sound, evocative melodies emerge until the brass, with their rising themes, end the nightmare with a brief phrase of Dies Irae, our Day of Wrath.

Notturmo opens with luminous and eerie night sounds, twitters and chirps from the dark of night portrayed by the woodwinds over open fifths in the strings. Wisps of sounds and melodies portray the dry whisper of leaves, the rustle of night creatures, and the heaviness of a hot, languid night. Long melodies in the winds are reminiscent of John Field's haunting nocturnes. Melodies float above the gentle rising movement of the strings. As more instruments enter the melodic fabric, the texture becomes more dissonant as the instruments intertwine and then wander away in the darkness. Serenity and quietness return to the landscape until all is silent as the dawn approaches.

Midnight Tango is an exploration into the dance that originated in the 1890s in the Rio de la Plata in South America, with influences from both the European and African cultures. The dance quickly spread around the world. At this midnight hour, two lovers slowly approach, drawn to music that only they can hear – the midnight tango. They begin to dance in the style of open embrace, softly, slowly and seductively. As the music sinuously builds in volume and energy, more instruments embrace the themes, enticing the lovers to dance in close embrace before driving to the ecstatic, frenetic ending.

H956, 144 pages, $99, score and parts

Symphony No. 7 – O Pioneers!

By Barbara Harbach

Barbara Harbach's Symphony No. 7 "O Pioneers!" was adapted from her opera, O Pioneers! An American Opera, based on Willa Cather's lyrical novel of tragedy and transformation, O Pioneers! In 2014, Harbach transcribed three songs from the opera to paint musical portraits of the characters Emil, Maria, Alexandra and Frank.

I. Conflict – trio: Frank, Marie and Ivar, a savant

Frank is angry because his neighbor's pigs have gotten into his fields. Marie tries to console him, but their animosity escalates. A neighbor runs to tell them of the tragic news that their dear friend is dead. The trombones portray the anger and mean-spirit of Frank, and the high woodwinds reflect the strength of Marie who tries to assuage his anger. The horns carry the more melodic lines of Emil. The pounding timpani, octave leaps and the repeated notes in the strings all add to the tension. Near the end of the movement, a change of mood occurs signaling the tragic death of Amédée. The opening conflict returns with Frank unchanged in his dark and angry mood.

II. Now I See What Cannot Be – trio: Marie, Emil and Alexandra

In the wheat field amid the harvest, the men and women are just finishing lunch. Women are clearing tables and talking in groups to those who are finishing, men are tending their equipment and preparing to head back from the fields. Flirty repartee between Emil and Marie alternates between Emil's theme, a seductive tango between the horns and strings, and Marie's theme, lyrical and light with high woodwinds and harp. The scene ends with a rousing anthem dedicated to Nebraska, "Pioneers, O Pioneers!"

III. Always on Our Love Depend – duet: Alexandra and Carl

The deaths of Emil and Maria stun the community leaving Alexandra numb with grief and shock. Carl eventually returns after having heard news of the tragedy, and he and Alexandra begin a life of tenderness and measured happiness. With enduring and noble music in the brass, Carl tries to console the grieving Alexandra while she laments her loss with the melodic woodwinds and restive strings. A dialogue between the brass and woodwinds lead to a oneness of musical thought, a closure to her loss, and the abiding love of two people who have withstood the unthinkable.

H957, 146 pages, $99, score and parts

Symphony No. 8 – The Scarlet Letter

By Barbara Harbach

Based on Nathaniel Hawthorne's novel The Scarlet Letter (1850), Harbach's Symphony No. 8 contains musical portraits of the three main characters: Hester Prynne, Roger Chillingworth and Arthur Dimmesdale.

I. The first movement, Hester, highlights the conflicts that Hester faced: guilt and confession, sin and purity, sex and abstinence, making her a lasting heroine in American literature. The music reflects these turbulent and conflicting qualities in dissonance versus lyricism, both rhythmically and melodically. The opening five-note timpani motives convey Hester's indecision and anguish over her life choices. The woodwinds carry her "longing and searching" for redemption. A gentle, decrescendo leads into Hester's theme of solace, portrayed by the clarinets. The mood is abruptly interrupted by the timpani bringing back the opening agitation. The themes converge, leading to an ending that brings no resolution for Hester.

II. Chillingworth, Hester's husband, is obsessed with exacting revenge on Hester and Dimmesdale. The second movement portrays him as a symbol of evil who does the devil's bidding, using the bassoon, trombone and tuba. The music is restless and dark, using the lower ranges of the woodwinds and brass. There are moments reflecting the musical style of the 1850s, with drawn-out sequences to portray Chillingworth's obsession, conniving and manipulation. The slower tempos indicate his evil ability to use the aura of sacred music to further his nefarious desires.

III. In the last movement, Dimmesdale, the ordained Puritan minister struggles with the status of his soul: he ably carries out his pastoral duties but knows he has sinned and is eternally damned. Themes from the first movement, including the five-note timpani themes, are reminders of Dimmesdale's fragility and guilt, and his confession on the scaffold. Statements in the tuba and trombone portray his inner conflict and the conflicts with Chillingworth. Dimmesdale's torture is depicted by the alternation of major and minor intervals and keys.

H958, 170 pages, $99, score and parts

Symphony No. 9 – Celestial Symphony

By Barbara Harbach

The Celestial Symphony is an arrangement of excerpts from Barbara Harbach's silent film score, The Birth, Life and Death of Christ, which was premiered in 2014. The film was directed by the trailblazing French filmmaker, Alice Guy Blaché (1873-1968), and is considered her crowning achievement.

The first movement, The Annunciation, portrays the first three tableaux of the film: Arrival in Bethlehem; Nativity and Arrival of the Magi; and The Sleep of Jesus. The repeated motive in the bells depicts the serenity of the sleep of baby Jesus while another motive in the flutes and violins, in 6/8 time versus 3/4, contribute to the joy of the occasion. The clarinet and bassoon lead to a short fanfare in the brass and woodwinds, welcoming the Magi. Then a short rollicking fugue portrays the adulation given to the Christ child with the bell tree punctuating the fugue.

Celestial Vaults, the second movement, is the scene describing Saint Veronica. She was so moved with pity when she saw Jesus carrying his cross, she gave him her veil to wipe his face. The mysteriousness of the miracle is shown by the instruments subtly entering on the same pitch as another instrument. In the opening, the clarinet enters on the same pitch as the muted trumpet and a beat later, violin II sneaks in on violin I. The restless harmonic language suggests the mysteriousness of the miracle of Saint Veronica.

The final movement, Temptations, reflects the three temptations that Satan offered Christ before his crucifixion. Syncopated rhythms are enhanced with the cellos leading the fray with sinuous melodies. The angels are portrayed by the flutes and upper strings chasing each other while the triangle comments on motives that are reminiscent of a French noel. The timpani ushers in a rhythmic section before returning to the opening sinuousness, followed by the angels' music. The full orchestra joins in the final temptation, only to be rebuffed.

H959, 173 pages, $109, score and parts

Symphony No. 10 – Symphony for Ferguson

By Barbara Harbach

Commissioned by the Missouri Humanities Council the Symphony for Ferguson was premiered October 2015 at the Touhill Performing Arts Center at the University of Missouri-St. Louis by the University Orchestra under the direction of Dr James Richards. The commission sought to have familiar and meaningful tunes for the city of Ferguson, St. Louis County, and the state of Missouri. The Ferguson tragedy of 2014 has been deeply troubling to people all around the world. In response, countless performing and visual artists have gone deep into their hearts and minds to find meaning, acceptance and peace in this troubled time. Harbach composed Symphony for Ferguson to help her in dealing with the Ferguson tragedy.

The first movement, Heroes, portrays the men and women who came forward to help during the time of crisis and the months that followed. The first theme heard is "Johnny, You're No Hero" from Harbach's musical Booth! It is a tumultuous melody that crystallizes the public scorn and indignation over the death of Abraham Lincoln as seen through the eyes of Edwin Booth and his daughter Edwina, the assassination having been committed by Edwin's brother, John Wilkes Booth.

Now I See What Cannot Be, the second movement, is a trio of Marie, Emil and Alexandra (from Act 2, Scene 1) from Harbach's opera, O Pioneers! Women are clearing tables and talking in groups to those who are finishing, men are tending their equipment and preparing to head back from the fields. Flirty repartee between Emil and Marie alternates between Emil's theme, a seductive tango between the horns and strings and Marie's theme, lyrical and light with high woodwinds and harp. The scene ends with a rousing anthem, "Pioneers, O Pioneers!"

The third movement, Always on Our Love Depend is a duet between Alexandra and Carl (from Act 2, Scene 6 of O Pioneers!). The deaths of Emil and Maria stun the community, leaving Alexandra numb with grief and shock. Carl eventually returns after having heard news of the tragedy, and he and Alexandra begin a life of tenderness and measured happiness. With enduring and noble music in the brass, Carl tries to console the grieving Alexandra while she laments her loss with the melodic woodwinds and restive strings. A dialogue between the brass and woodwinds lead to a oneness of musical thought, a closure to her loss, and the abiding love of two people who have withstood the unthinkable.

H960, 185 pages, $109, score and parts

Hypocrisy – Suite for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Barbara Harbach wrote Hypocrisy, an original film score to the 1915 silent film, Hypocrites, directed by the legendary American director, Lois Weber (1888-1939). The film points out the intriguing, aggravating, moralizing indictment of hypocrisy, especially applied to religion, business, politics, love, and family. The film's use of religious imagery and innovative special effects is also noteworthy. The newly composed score is of special artistic significance for its focus on raising the awareness of contemporary and original music with an historical silent film.

The film follows the two parallel stories of an early Christian monk, Gabriel, and a modern minister. The Medieval monk devotes himself to completing a statue of "Truth." When his work turns out to be an image of a naked woman, an ignorant mob murders him. The contemporary minister is the pastor of a large wealthy urban congregation for whom religion is a matter of appearances and not beliefs. A series of vignettes in which the Naked Truth, a female nude, reveals the hypocrisy of the congregation and then exposes their voracious appetite for money, sex, and power. In the film, the nudity is barely visible due to the film technique of double exposure, producing a ghostly appearance. This technique was revolutionary for the time, as was Weber's intricate editing.

Hypocrites was a shocking and controversial film. Distribution of the film did not occur for months due to the debate over the release of a film with frontal nudity. Interestingly, the British Board of Film Censors accepted the film. However, because of the recurring nudity throughout the film, it caused riots in New York, banned in Ohio, and the mayor of Boston demanded the film negatives be painted over in order to cover the woman with clothes. Although there were calls for censorship, the film was as an artistic and cultural milestone. Most of the film has survived, though some early scenes have suffered from nitrate decomposition in places. A print of the film resides in the Library of Congress and is now available on DVD by Kino.

Lois Weber was the leading female director-screenwriter in early Hollywood. She began her career alongside her husband, Phillips Smalley. Her films were well scripted and acted, as well as very popular, and financially successful. They addressed topics that contained controversial social issues: abortion, birth control, capital punishment, religious hypocrisy, a living wage, child labor, prostitution, and white slavery. The New York Evening Journal described the film as "the most startlingly satisfying and vividly wonderful creation of the screen age." Considered one of the top talents in Hollywood, Lois Weber is regularly mentioned with such outstanding film directors as D. W. Griffith and Cecil B. DeMille. She was the first and only woman elected to the Motion Picture Directors Association in 1916, an honor she held for decades.

Harbach has divided the forty-nine minute film into eleven short movements, each portraying the underlying pathos of the scene.

H961, 495 pages, $139, score and parts

Symphony No. 11 – Retourner Symphony

By Barbara Harbach

Retourner Symphonie is Barbara Harbach's eleventh symphony. The first movement, Return-Debate, loosely based on a scene from Willa Cather's 1913 novel, O Pioneers! takes place in Nebraska in the early twentieth century. Emil Bergson has just returned home to Nebraska from Mexico and with much eagerness goes to an orchard where he plans to meet his childhood sweetheart, who awaits him. She is now Marie Shabata, married to an ill-tempered man. The movement is a compilation of themes and motives, and they are always changing and morphing into new versions of themselves – all related but different. As conversations between lovers often unfold, they may be seductive, or a debate, strident, or joyous with anticipation and reconciliation.

The conversation begins with the French horn airing a carefree, light-hearted, flirtatious theme. The second theme interwoven with the trumpet and harp is imploring in its expression, and then the violins take over and finish the theme. As in most works by Harbach, imitation abounds, this time between the violins, flute, and oboe. The brass interjects with rhythmic rudeness, followed by the clarinets, xylophone, and more woodwinds. The clamor strengthens, and the violins introduce a breezy waltz to lighten the mood. Imitative questionings and snippets of themes toss about among the instruments. A scrambling fugal section in the strings introduces a more emphatic theme with the harp and orchestra bells punctuating the fabric. Tensions flare as the dynamics and rhythmic values escalate, but a saner voice prevails when the flute introduces a theme of gentle persuasion. Imitation and the interplaying of themes mounts until forceful chords brings on a shouting match among the instruments. After the debate quiets, the violins try to restore order with a calm theme reminiscent of an earlier one, but the trumpet, ever capturing the spotlight talks over the violins. Strife begins again but builds only to a quiet, passionate outburst. The oboe melody returns the conversation to civility, but not for long as an undercurrent of murmurings begin to escalate. Calmer voices try to be heard over the growing volume until all participate in the loud climax before dwindling to a soft dynamic. Suddenly, a new theme emerges, clearing the air of tension, with the instruments calling to each other with the new theme, while remnants of motives past, contribute and then end the conversation.

Our Sweet and Carefree Youth, the second movement of Retourner Symphonie is also inspired from a scene from Cather's O Pioneers! It is a moment when the soon-to-be lovers, Alexandra Bergstrum and Carl Linstrum, look back on their youth, and remember the tender scenes of their childhood. To set the stage, Alexandra Bergstrum, who runs a successful farm in spite of her brothers, is in her office, working with her ledgers and a Burroughs adding machine. The opening theme represents her adding machine in its methodical and steady beat begun with the trumpet and upper woodwinds. The xylophone adds ascending scales in sixteenth notes with the piccolo providing the ending of the machine simulation. Looking out her window over the land, she imagines a stately anthem to Nebraska, again with the trumpet taking the lead followed by the piccolo and flute. The scene dissolves as Alexandra returns to the reality of bookkeeping, but this time with rhythmic interjections by clarinet, bassoon, horn, and xylophone. In the next scene, the oboe has a plaintive melody with the harp and lower strings as the accompaniment – Alexandra feels alone, yearning for love. The strings take up the lush melody. The xylophone contributes to the richness followed with imitation between the trumpet and trombone. Superimposed over Alexandra's sad song the adding machine theme predominates. Dialogue between the woodwinds brings a new conversation with the trombone and pizzicato strings. The theme continues to be developed with many instruments joining the discussion at varying times. The horn brings in Carl's voice as the two of them remember their youth when milking cows and going to the General Store. The woodwinds take over the theme and the strings happily join them – ours is a sweet and carefree youth. Reality returns once again, as the adding machine theme again takes over the scene, but this time ending with a happy ode to the adding machine.

The Art of Tarot, the third movement in D major, takes place at the fair in a nearby French church. Marie is the Queen of Hearts who will all your fortunes tell. The scene opens with a short string introduction in 2/4 time, and then the trumpet gives the lilting first statement of the theme in 6/8 time. The strings alternate between 2/4 time and 6/8 time. Now the piccolo, flute, and oboe carry the theme with the trumpet in canon a measure later. A shift to F major gives a lift to the string's rendition of the theme. The next section starts with a sense of foreboding of the impending tragedy in F-sharp minor. The festive aura keeps trying to return and is successful now in F-sharp major. The introduction material returns in B-flat major successfully returning to D major with the brass and woodwinds varying the theme. In a capricious and flirtatious scene, the piccolo takes a short cadenza, leading into a new theme in the clarinet. Harmonically restless, an ominous atmosphere prevails, with attempts at striving for a happier message. While the triumphant ending should be celebratory, impending tragedy masks the tone anticipating the deaths of Emil and Marie.
H962, 238pages, $119, score and parts

Early American Scandals for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Early American Scandals (2017) are four snapshots that look back to the turbulence, Revolution, slavery, Civil War and social unrest of the 18th and 19th centuries. Harbach has always been intrigued by this time period, and has written several compositions exploring the moods and pathos of that time, including Booth! an American Musical; Two Songs from the Sacred Harp for string orchestra; Frontier Fancies for violin and orchestra; Freedom Suite for string orchestra; Symphony No.3 "A State Divided"; Symphony No.8 "The Scarlet Letter"; Pioneer Women for soprano, clarinet and piano; Harriet's Story for soprano, violin and piano; and Emanations of the Sacred Harp for cello and piano. Early American Scandals won the TUTTI orchestral composition prize and was premiered 7 March 2019 at Denison University in Granville, Ohio.

I. Love - Revenge uneasily evokes a happier time, with hints of conflict and revenge, as when "the master" makes unwanted advances toward a slave or when the love object chooses another. The movement has two themes. One is a subtly menacing waltz with descending half steps, often accompanied with flourishes in the upper strings; the other, a rising and descending melody that contains repeated notes, first enunciated by the bassoon, and later more forcefully by trumpet and trombone.

II. River Styx focuses around the choices we make – some are abhorrent and some fulfilling. The first of four themes is gently nostalgic, full of longing for a lost love or for one who has died. The desire to be reunited is strong, accompanied by a willingness to brave the River Styx to pass into hell to see the beloved one more time. Shortly after the introduction of the gentle opening motive, the River Styx theme provides a jolt of reality, with short-dotted rhythms and powerful strident horn and brass iterations. A little later, the flute and clarinet introduce the third theme, Looking for an Angel. Imitation abounds in transitions as well as within these three themes. Emotions become more complex when the Angel theme, with flute and oboe in canon at the octave, combine with the River Styx on the clarinet. The last theme, introduced by trombone and imitated by trumpet, may represent a call before the Divine. In the final section, the three themes intermingle and intertwine, and conclude with the River Styx theme, reminding us that one doesn't always get what one wants!

III. The Vulture Hours occur in the night when sleep does not come, and one's mind tortures with thoughts of things done and not done. The past rears up like a winged phantom, cruel memory rips into the darkness with a terrifying shriek. Each dream becomes a nightmare when the vulture hours descend. The Vulture Hours was inspired by the horror John Wilkes Booth brought upon his family, never to be forgotten. The clarinet is heard in a short vorimitation before the bassoon introduces the first theme of ambiguous tonality and melancholy, and an ever-so-slight hint of tango. The clarinet joins the bassoon with another statement of the melody, while the flute and oboe join with a canon at the octave. The trombone adds darkness as the texture grows to fortissimo, then returning to the sadness of melancholy. One last crescendo is heard before the music dissolves into the darkness.

IV. Virginia's Real Reel is a romping, early American period dance piece that originates from the Revolutionary War and Civil War era. It is based on three fiddle tunes: Five Miles out of Town; Johnny, Bring the Jug Around the Hill; and Jack Danielson's Reel. The tunes are stated individually, with each featuring a section of the orchestra – strings, woodwinds, and brass – before bringing in the entire orchestra for a show-down, hoe-down finish. The trombone acts as the caller for dancing a reel and abounds with imitation, mode changes, string glissandos and flourishes.

H963, 178pages, $99, score and parts

Eclipsis lunae for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

When the people saw that the moon was beginning to cover the sun, they became deeply distressed and anxious. To drive out the evil spirit that was covering the sun, they thought that music might dispel the darkness. First, they offered up a prayer by having the instruments play while sneaking in on each other; as the sky grew darker, the timpani brought in a tranquil melody that rises toward the sky in worship for the sun. Perhaps the music needs to be louder, so they combined the music of the opening with the snare drum and other percussion instruments ushering in a loud Dies Irae. Still, the sun was disappearing, so the trumpets began a fanfare, but the fanfare was not strong enough to stop the moon covering the sun. In a panic, they tried an homage to the sun, In Memoriam, a solemn dirge. It did not stop the creeping darkness, so they tried a snare drum and timpani solo with slow-moving chords. The sun was almost gone, so the last effort was to invoke a jazz-style piece alternating with some of the previous melodies. As the sun began to reappear and get larger, the people rejoiced in 'how high the moon,' joyously playing the song that Ella Fitzgerald made famous.

H964, 100 pages, $99, score and parts

Arabesque noir for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Arabesque Noir was inspired by the ornamental designs found in Arabic and Moorish decoration. The music reflects the florid ornamentation with flowing melodies and motifs that are sinuous, spiraling and undulating. It seeks to capture the complicated relationships between slaves and their masters; the subtle, hidden and forbidden interactions that can occur, such as the relationship between Thomas Jefferson and Sally Hemings.

Looking for an Angel opens with a sweeping melody for solo flute that spans more than two octaves. Upon the second statement of the theme, the flute melody is imitated by the oboe, accompanied by the strings. The two instruments cross parts and intertwine until the bassoon, clarinet and trumpet join the imitative texture. The oboe states a second theme, similar to one heard in Harbach's Early American Scandals, Looking for an Angel, found in the second movement of that work, River Styx. One can interpret the second theme as representing the seeking out of an angel to bring happiness to a life without hope. After a short transition, the horn takes up the theme with the trumpet, oboe and clarinet joining the imitation. The sweeping first theme returns with the melody now in the first violins. The mood changes as the horn states a new theme, She's a Woman, Simply Woman, which depicts the enchantment between lovers and features an expansive range with strings interjecting "comments" as would a Greek chorus. The trombone takes over while the Looking for an Angel theme returns in a three-part canon in the woodwinds. As the She's a Woman theme finishes, the woodwinds begin a three-part canon in diminution, having half rhythmic values. The conversation is ended when the timpani begins an insistent five-note motive. The violins and oboe play the opening theme in imitation, being joined by the flute, horn and viola. The movement ends quietly with only a fragment of Looking for an Angel.

Evening Love depicts lovers wrapped in the arms of the night, with arabesque melodies descending in a tetrachord in the bass, viola gently repeating its motive while the second violins enter on a single pitch. The first violins follow with a slow, gently moving theme. Pizzicatos in the viola, cellos and bass provide accompaniment under the flute and violin duet. A second theme emerges in the trumpet, echoed by the oboe. Their interplay continues until the flute starts a descending and then ascending motive that is imitated by the first violins. All themes begin to vie for attention until the horn introduces the melody, A Slave to Love, with its double meaning of being a slave, but also being in love – “now I’m a slave to love, and so enslaved by love remain”. All themes return and compete for dominance, interacting and intertwining, sinuous and seductive.

In the Still I will Wait continues exploring clandestine trysts of lovers, and even if parted by death, I will wait for you, my heart. The movement opens with a descending cadenza-like figure in the solo first violin accompanied by the flute. A gentle and beguiling ascending waltz melody opens with the clarinet in canon with the flute – an octave higher – and strings, with 3/4 passages being interrupted by passages in 2/4. A new ascending theme emerges in the trumpet imitated by the oboe in canon at the unison, followed by a return of the first theme as a horn and trumpet duet, imitated by flute, oboe and clarinet. The trombone introduces a new theme, with numerous comments from the woodwinds, which is repeated with a canon among the trumpet, horn and clarinet that leads to a climax using material from the introductory cadenza. The first theme returns, but this time in the first violins. Imitation in the strings and woodwinds is heard, leading to a section of several themes weaving in and out, with instruments vying to project their lines. In the Still I will Wait closes with gestures of the opening cadenza motif, fading away like the memories of long ago.

H965, 143 pages, $99, score and parts

Recitative & Aria for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Recitative and Aria for Orchestra (2017) are two movements inspired by the life of Edwin Booth (1833-1893), perhaps the greatest American actor, and the greatest Prince Hamlet of the 19th century. As an actor, Booth toured throughout the United States as well as Europe. He was also the older brother of John Wilkes Booth who assassinated President Lincoln, and Edwin carried that stigma with him for the rest of his life. Recitative is a complex organism of varying moods, meter, tempi, instrumentation, and themes – like a soliloquy where one might rant, repeat, and contradict oneself in a stream of consciousness. The horn (often doubled with the trombone) is prominent throughout as Edwin’s voice. For Edwin might have thought, “For here’s the horrifying truth: That Booth is Hamlet, Hamlet Booth.” Another tragedy in Edwin’s life was the loss of his wife after only three years of marriage, when he was too inebriated to read the telegrams telling him of her failing health. In Aria – Our love Forever New, Edwin dreams of a time when they can be reunited, in the flowing stream of time, with our hearts forever young, our love forever new. After the introduction, again using the horn as Edwin’s voice, the oboe and bassoon begin the first theme, capturing the nostalgic and wistful mood. Several themes, often using the full orchestra, create a lush and provocative fabric. Closing quietly, the horn again asserts, “I will always love you,” and Mary responds, “Our love forever new.”

H966, 78 pages, $99, score and parts

Suite Luther for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

In 1517, Martin Luther purportedly nailed 95 theses to the door of All Saints’ Church in the German town of Wittenberg. His criticisms challenged the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church and led to a split with the Church, giving birth to the beginnings of Protestantism and the Reformation which, as it spread throughout Europe, was marked by horrific episodes of warfare and violence. The 500th anniversary of the nailing of the theses has spurred many creative projects, and as Barbara Harbach was a Minister of Music at an Evangelical Lutheran Church in Missouri, she, too, was inspired to pay homage to Martin Luther.

Harbach's five-part Suite Luther (2017) for orchestra follows the centuries-old practice of invigorating traditional melodies with contemporary harmonizations, rhythms and orchestral colors. The melody she uses in three of the five movements (I, III and V) is A Mighty Fortress is Our God (Ein' feste Burg ist unser Gott), one of the best-known hymns by Luther, who wrote the words and music sometime between 1517 and 1519. Ein' feste Burg is also known as the "Battle Hymn of the Reformation" since it increased support for the Reformation movement. The Luther hymn of the second movement, In Peace and Joy I Now Depart (Mit Fried und Freud ich fahr dahin), is a paraphrase in German of the Nunc dimittis, the canticle of Simeon written in 1524, often used for funerals. The third Luther hymn, heard in Movement IV, is From Deepest Depths I Cry to Thee (Aus tiefer Not schrei ich zu dir). Written in 1524, it is a paraphrase of Psalm 130.

I. Motet – A Fortress Strong is an exuberant arrangement of the original rhythmic melody of Ein' feste Burg. Harbach follows the form of the hymn, AABA1 (A1 indicating a variation of A), featuring counterpoint preceding each presentation of the phrases with "pre-imitation" as did Buxtehude, Pachelbel and J.S. Bach. Opening with a five-note timpani fanfare with cymbals, the trumpet and trombone announce the first phrase of the hymn, seemingly in double time. The woodwinds follow with new material, and then close the introduction with the ending phrase of the 'A' section. A short imitative section precedes Luther's original rhythmic notation, with the flute regally playing the melody soaring above the orchestra. The lively middle 'B' section has transitional material featuring the brass instruments in close harmony and a more subdued presence for the words "And armed with cruel hate." This is followed with cascading flourishes in the strings before the echoes of the familiar opening phrases herald the end of the movement.

II. In Peace and Joy I Now Depart is a six-phrase hymn by Luther. Harbach was inspired to write a two-part piece with the form of ABA1B1. The 'A' parts are newly composed with the ethos underscoring a feeling of Peace, while the 'B' portions evoke the feeling of Joy. The 'A' section begins with a decorated flute melody, with the oboe taking over the melody with comments from the lower woodwinds and horn. The Joy section is reminiscent of a Renaissance dance, with the trumpet presenting the chorale melody with decorations, and then being joined by the horn with string accompaniment. The flute melody heard at the beginning of the piece returns, but with the decorated melody in a major tonality. 'A1' returns with a fuller and richer harmonization while the xylophone and timpani enhance the musical fabric in 'B1'.

III. Chorale Fantasy – Ein' feste Burg, or "Christ, the New Contender," is a powerful and lively setting of the second verse of Ein' feste Burg, which announces Christ as the triumphant advocate. The melodies of the imitative introduction are derived from the first two phrases of the famous hymn melody, with conversations between the woodwinds and strings. The woodwinds state the 'A' section followed by more introductory material. The brass section and flute lead the next 'A' section, while the winds and brass alternate in the 'B' portion with strings, busily commenting on the introductory material. The entire orchestra joins in the noble final phrase.

IV. From Deepest Depths I Cry to You (Aus tiefer Not schrei ich zu dir) is a newly harmonized rendition of the four-part chorale in AAB form. The movement creates a mood of introspection with recurrent plaintive petitions, with an orchestra here of only flute, horn, trumpet, trombone, and strings. The pre-imitation is original material as well as utilizing some motives derived from the original melody. The horn and trombone play the melody in unison with the counterpoint weaving around them. The rising motives reflect the pathos or word painting of trying to climb out of the depths to a holier place.

V. Ein' Feste Finale marks the return of Luther's famous hymn, Ein' feste Burg, but this time with more familiar rhythmic notation. The hymn tune pulsates with many different simultaneous rhythms and key changes, with trombone and tuba in unison and in canon, and sections with three-part canons. The triumphant ending is rendered by full orchestra in traditional harmony for the final iteration.

H967, 194 pages, $99, score and parts

Spaindango – a Tango Caprice for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Spaindango - a Tango Caprice began life as a piece for harpsichord, and Harbach transformed it into a "fetching piece, full of antique flourishes mixed with 20th-century rage and madness, a cauldron of churning notes," as CD Review has called Harbach's Spaindango.

H968, 89 pages, $69, score and parts

Mischances of Life for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

From Harbach's opera O Pioneers! – the first movement of Mischances of Life for Orchestra, In the Cold, in the Deep, in the Dark is the dark place where one retreats after a horrendous tragedy occurs. Alexandra begins to contemplate her feelings after the death of her brother and his lover, Maria were murdered. Sadness and melancholy are sweetly portrayed by the mournful brass and comforting woodwinds.

The second movement is another vignette from O Pioneers! – Away, Away, O Monstrous Choice. When the lovers Emil and Maria try to resist their deadly attraction to each other, they sadly agree to part. Agitation in the strings sets the mood of indecision, as solo woodwinds and brass try to find a resolution regarding the fate of the lovers. Foreboding becomes clear with a brief reference to the Latin sequence, Dies Irae (the Day of Wrath). Theme and motives are tossed amongst the instruments in a conversation that has no answers.

In the third movement, Misfortune's Folly, playful repartee, and bantering transpires between Emil and Marie, the language lovers often use with one another. They meet at a Church fair where the crowds and activities hide their assignation. Emil's voice is often portrayed by the trombone, and Marie's voice by sweet woodwinds or the beguiling trumpet. Their duet of love is richly resonant with the trombone and trumpet. A slight flavor of Mexican music is reminiscent of Emil's return from Mexico, and before the love duet blossoms and engages the full orchestra.

In Dreams Among the Trees, the fourth movement, Alexandra, Emil, and Marie's thoughts return to a more innocent time of their lives with playful motives intertwining and chasing each other. Then Marie's Moon Waltz begins and transports the trio to Dreams Among the Trees, and all are entranced by the rapturous moment.

A sinister reminder that love may be a double-edged sword.

Turn back, O dreamers, from these paths

Control yourselves, forget the past,

And we will leave our dreams among the trees.

The last movement, Fly Low, Stay Out of Sight foreshadows the tragedy that is about to befall the lovers Emil and Marie. Frequent meter changes and the ominous coloring of the orchestral themes underscore the tensions of Fly low, stay out of sight. Once put wrong, the world is hard to right.

H969, 241 pages, $109, score and parts

The Sound the Stars Make for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

This cycle of three pieces for orchestra is inspired by the Jane Johnston Schoolcraft's Ojibwe name, The Sound the Stars Make Rushing Through the Sky.

Jane Johnston Schoolcraft (1800-1842) was an extraordinary Native American princess in the Ojibwa tribe of the North Shore of Lake Huron and both shores of Lake Superior. The Sault Ste. Marie tribe of Ojibwa Indians lived in this region of the Great Lakes for more than 500 years. Her Indian name was Bame-wa-wa-ge-zhik-a-quay, which translates as "Woman of the Sound that Stars Make Rushing through the Sky." She was the granddaughter of the famous Ojibwa chief Waub Ojeeg, and her mother, Susan, or Shau-gush-co-da-way-Quay was the daughter of the chief. Jane's father, John Johnston, was a white fur trader. Jane was educated, which was unusual for a young Ojibwa girl at that time but gained a great deal of education from her Anglo-American father teaching her English, reading, writing, the Bible, and his love of history and poetry. Her father even took her to study in Ireland and then to England. She married Henry Rowe Schoolcraft, a white man (as did her mother). Since Jane spoke both English and Ojibwa, she provided access to the Ojibwa community for her husband to learn its oral history and traditions and publish the stories.

Jane Johnston Schoolcraft was the first known Native American poet and the first known Native American woman writer. Her husband published her poems and stories. Her writings and poems in English paralleled those of Anglo-American and British writers such as William Wordsworth and Lydia Sigourney.

I. And Musing Awhile, the first movement, is an excerpt taken from Schoolcraft's poem, "Pensive Hours." The last line of the poem, "So pensively joyful, so humbly sublime," captures the essence of the poem with the searching and yearning motives with imitation among the strings, woodwinds, and brass that circle round with percussive chordal punctuations. Orchestral colors portray the musings and whispers, the glistening stream, and the murmurings of kind voices.

II. The second movement, Luna and Stella, is a playful addition to The Sound the Stars Make Rushing Through the Sky between the moon and the stars. In 7/8 meter with a loose rondo form of ABACAB, the movement opens with a slow ascending and descending motive in the low range of the cellos and bassoon, and as instruments are added, the tempo becomes faster and more frantic until arriving at a 6/8 rhythmic section with rhythms vying for supremacy between 6/8 and 3/4. An eerie descending motive soars over the rhythmic cellos and basses. The languid opening returns but now with different instrumentation and the accelerando and pulsing tempos drive forward until the texture thins and a fugue begins. The slightly skewed rhythm of the fugue subject is accompanied with rising fourths while the lower strings continue their rhythmic punctuations. The adagio opening returns followed by the 6/8 rhythmic section of 6/8 versus 3/4. All instruments join in the fray driving impulsively to the final thunderclap last chord.

III. Trail of Tears – words and music by Harbach.

Evicted from their Southeastern homelands by the federal government in the 1830s, Native Americans were sent on forced marches to eastern Oklahoma that became known as the Trail of Tears, an ordeal of disease, starvation, and death. The Cherokee Nation was one of the largest native groups in America, and their removal took the longest. The Cherokee were forced to leave their homes and march more than 5,045 miles inland to present-day Oklahoma. Beginning in the summer of 1838 and continuing into the winter, approximately 15,000 Cherokee were relocated, and more than 4000 died from disease, exhaustion, or exposure. In the Cherokee language, this event is referred to as "the trail where they cried," giving rise to the English title Trail of Tears. Many meter changes, dramatic dynamics, use of the entire orchestral colors, imitation, with the entire story told through a child's eyes.

H970, 159 pages, $99, score and parts

Visions of Hildegard for Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Visions of Hildegard was inspired by Hildegard of Bingen of the Order of Saint Benedict. She lived from 1098-1179, and she was known as Saint Hildegard, Sibyl of the Rhine, as well as an abbess, writer, composer, philosopher, mystic, and visionary. Many consider her to be the founder of natural history in Germany. She is well-known as a composer of sacred monophony and is the most recorded Medieval composer in modern history.

The first movement, O vis eternitatis (O power within Eternity) is a Responsory for the Creator and Redeemer. O nobilissima viriditas (O noblest green viridity), the second movement, is a Responsory for Virgins. The last movement, O ignee Spiritus (O fiery Spirit) is a Hymn to the Holy Spirit. The movements have varying meters; sections that reflect the words from a gentle lullaby to rhythmic and exciting, energetic, and propelling tempos, all using the vivid colors of the orchestra.

H971, 138 pages, $99, score and parts

The Birth, Life, and Death of Christ

By Barbara Harbach

La Naissance, La Vie et La Mort du Christ (The Birth, Life and Death of Christ) is a 33-minute silent film from 1906 comprised of twenty-five scenes or tableaux, directed by the trail-blazing French filmmaker Alice Guy Blaché (1873-1968). This religious film, the very first of its kind and the one for which she is best known, is her crowning achievement. Harbach has grouped the twenty-five scenes into eleven movements, where each movement retains the same emotional impact whether being a standalone scene, or a combination of several. This work was premiered 16 November 2014 at the St. Louis Art Museum under the auspices of the St. Louis International Film Festival and sponsored by the French-language channel TV5MONDE. The event was co-presented by the University of Missouri-St. Louis. The viewing of the 1906 film La Naissance, La Vie et La Mort du Christ was accompanied by Harbach's piece, performed by thirteen musicians and conductor.

H972, 366 pages, $139, score and parts

Emanations from the Sacred Harp for Tuba and Piano

By Barbara Harbach

Emanations of the Sacred Harp is a two-movement work for tuba and piano. The first movement, Morning Fantasy, is an eloquent fantasy beginning and ending with a quasi-improvisatory setting for the central hymn tune "The Morning Trumpet." The second movement, Reeling Chester, begins with an introductory fragment and then a complete statement of "Chester" in the tuba clothed in a polyphonic texture in the piano and evoking the energy and drive of the early New England style. The counterpoint then becomes the subject of a fugue that weaves "Chester" into its fabric along with another fugue, reels, and more hymns. It is based on five hymn tunes primarily from the First New England School of Composers of the Revolutionary and Federalist Periods. The hymns are "How Firm a Foundation," "The Morning Trumpet," "Jordan," "Morning Hymn" and most prominently, William Billings' "Chester."

H973, 24 pages, $14.95, score and parts

Terezin Children's Songs for Soprano, Violin & Piano

By Barbara Harbach

The ghetto of Terezin (Theresienstadt), located in the hills outside Prague, was an unusual concentration camp in that it was created to cover up the Nazi genocide of the Jews. Billed as the "Führer's gift to the Jews, this "model ghetto" was the site of a Red Cross inspection visit in 1944. With its high proportion of artists and intellectuals, culture flourished in the ghetto – alongside starvation, disease, and constant dread of transports to the death camps of the east. Every one of its inhabitants was condemned in advance to die.

97,297 died among whom were 15,000 children between the years 1942-1944; less than 100 children survived. In the poems and drawings of the children, many smuggled out of the camp, we see the daily misery of these uprooted children, as well as their courage and optimism, their hopes and fears. These innocent and honest depictions allow us to see through the eyes of the children what life was like in the ghetto. Their art reveals a maturity beyond their years, are haunting reminders of what no child should ever have to see. In spite of the circumstances, the poetry is beautiful and uplifting – telling a story that resonates in each of us.

I. Birdsong – 1941 Anonymous

Anonymous Child, Written in Terezin Concentration Camp

The poem is preserved in manuscript and is written in pen on a sheet of white paper together with the poem “Night in the Ghetto.”

II. Forgotten – Anonymous

The poem is preserved in manuscript and is written in pen on a square piece of paper torn from a notebook.

III. On A Sunny Evening – 1944 Anonymous

The poem is preserved in a typewritten copy. There is the date “1944” in the upper right corner.

IV. The Butterfly – 1942 by Pavel Friedman

The poem is preserved in typewritten copy on thin copy paper in the collection of poetry by Pavel Friedmann, which was donated to the State Jewish Museum during its documentation campaign. It is dated June 4, 1942, in the left corner. Pavel Friedmann was born on January 7, 1921, in Prague and departed to Terezin on April 26, 1942. He died in Auschwitz on September 29, 1944. Pavel Friedman was a young poet, who lived in the Theresienstadt Ghetto. Little is known of the author, but he is presumed to have been 17 years old when he wrote “The Butterfly”. It was found among a hidden cache of children’s work recovered at the end of the Second World War. He was eventually deported to Auschwitz where he died on September 29, 1944.

V. Do Not Stand at My Grave and Weep – 1932

“Do Not Stand at My Grave and Weep” is a poem written in 1932 by Mary Elizabeth Frye. Although the origin of the poem was disputed until later in her life, Mary Frye's authorship was confirmed in 1998 after research by Abigail Van Buren, a newspaper columnist.

H974, 48 pages, $19.95, score and parts

Two Renaissance Motets for Double Brass Quartet

By Sulpitia Lodovica Cesis (1577-c. 1619)

Sulpitia Cesis came from Modena, the daughter of nobility. She entered the convent of San Geminiano in 1593. The convent was known for its excellent music. Cesis played the lute well, and she composed an important collection of motets for two to twelve voices, Motetti spirituali, in 1619, several for antiphonal choirs. Io son ferito sì (I Am Wounded, Yes) and Cantate Domino (O Sing Unto the Lord a New Song) from Psalm 98 were written for Trumpets I-II, Trombones I-II - Trumpets III-IV, Trombones III-IV and showcases the imaginative interweaving and combined brilliance of the eight brass instruments.

Cantate Domino (O sing unto the Lord a new song) is one of Cesis’ most favored genre – the antiphonal motet for two four-voice choirs. This joyful text has lively rhythms, syncopations, and playful alternation between choirs.

Io son ferito sì (I Am Wounded, Yes) is a parody of the celebrated madrigal by Palestrina and is to be sung on the feast day of St. Francis. She took the typically baroque images of unrequited love and suffering present in the original madrigal and transformed them into a soliloquy by St. Francis on the stigmata. Cesis skillfully juxtaposes imitation and free composition.

H975, 60 pages, $22.95, score and parts

Dorothy Parker Love Songs for soprano, Violin & Piano

By Barbara Harbach

An American poet, short story writer, screenwriter, satirist and critic, Dorothy Parker (1893-1967) had an unerring acuity for commenting on twentieth-century urban peculiarities. She became renowned for her writing as in The New Yorker and as a member of the Algonquin Round Table.

Her poetry often has an ironic twist – a declaration of love in A Certain Lady that conceals the true feelings of the poet. Nocturne is a love affair that she knew would end – sooner or later. There are conflicting feelings in Love Song – on one side there is an ode to her lover, and on the flip side she wishes he were far away or worse! The music attempts to portray the poet's feelings with piquant harmonies, unusual key changes, and imitation between the soprano, violin, and piano.

I. A Certain Lady by Dorothy Parker 1926

II. Nocturne by Dorothy Parker 1926

III. Love Song by Dorothy Parker

H976, 43 pages, $19.95, score and parts

Civil-Civility for Chamber Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Civil-Civility depicts the acts and writings of courageous women who defied all odds to help women and humanity. Women have historically struggled to achieve their rights in patriarchal societies even from the time of 9th-century Kassia, born in Constantinople into a wealthy family. She refused to accept the dictums for feminine behavior and therefore founded a convent. The chamber ensemble piece, Civil/Civility, continues the resistance by highlighting six women who made a difference in their lifetimes despite prejudice, ignorance, arrogance, and chauvinism, all were quintessential role models.

Written in six movements, the various ensembles capture the spirits of these intrepid women and create musical portraits.

I. Sentiments – Elizabeth Cady Stanton (1815 – 1902)

II. Gift of Mystery – Eleanor Roosevelt (1884 – 1962)

III. Memories of Our Lives – Rosa Parks (1913 – 2005)

IV. Committed – Margaret Mead (1901 – 1978)

V. Light of Truth – Ida Wells-Barnett (1862 – 1931)

VI. Ain't I a Woman – Sojourner Truth (1797 – 1883)

H977, 232 pages, $119, score and parts

Petite Rhapsody for Solo Flute

By Barbara Harbach

A 'petite' flight of fancy filled with runs, skips, thrills, and trills.

H978, 8 pages, $8.95, score and parts

Cuatro Danzas para Flauta y Piano

By Barbara Harbach

Cuatro Danzas para Flute y Piano (2018) is a four-movement piece with a Spanish flavor and frenzied outer movements. The music anticipated Harbach's move to the Southwest with its Spanish influences.

Danza Flamenco begins with a whirling waltz with toccata-like sixteenth notes in the high register of the piano, and then rapidly descends to the lower range. Beginning with a trill, the flute joins with the melody while the piano again whirls down the keyboard but only halfway. Odd juxtapositions of intervals, swiftly changing modes, sequences, clashes of seconds, interjections of 4/4 time, phrase repetitions but with different accompaniments in the piano, until a descending section ff with trills in the flute and tremolos in the piano introduce the Tango section. The Tango in 2/4 is introduced by the piano with dotted rhythms typical of the tango. The right hand has clusters of chords with seconds and sevenths. Glissandi and trills abound leading to the last section which combines the two styles Flamenco and Tango. The opening material of whirling sixteenth notes returns, and then the piece ends abruptly with a sfz staccato note in both parts.

La Mente (Only in the Mind) is a three-part ABA form. A plaintive, soaring, improvisatory, and decorated solo flute opens the movement and is repeated for seven times often starting on a different beat in the measure. A flourish in the piano introduces the B section with several variations that have rhythms reminiscent of tango rhythms. In the final section, the tango rhythm continues while the flute and right hand play melodic adaptations of the first section.

Andante para vihuelo de penole begins with the left hand of the piano resembling the sound of a plectrum-plucked Spanish Renaissance guitar. The first part has a slow-moving lyrical melody in the flute over a walking bass in the left hand. The next section is faster with a swing, a wider range, with the right hand and flute in duets at the octave, thirds, and canons until a ff is reached with demanding chords in the piano and trills in the flute.

Danza-Delirio is a two-part movement with a coda. Each part has its own ostinato bass part, rapid scales, three octave glissandi, fast arpeggios, and dramatic left-hand clusters. The coda deceptively sounds like a recapitulation, but it is whimsically truncated.

H980, 42 pages, $19.95, score and parts

Visions of Hildegard for Violin and Piano

By Barbara Harbach

Visions of Hildegard was inspired by Hildegard of Bingen of the Order of Saint Benedict. She lived from 1098-1179, and she was known as Saint Hildegard, Sibyl of the Rhine, as well as an abbess, writer, composer, philosopher, mystic, and visionary. Many consider her to be the founder of natural history in Germany. She is well-known as a composer of sacred monophony and is the most recorded Medieval composer in modern history.

The first movement, O vis eternitatis (O power within Eternity) is a Responsory for the Creator and Redeemer. O nobilissima viriditas (O noblest green viridity), the second movement, is a Responsory for Virgins. The last movement, O ignee Spiritus (O fiery Spirit) is a Hymn to the Holy Spirit. The movements have varying meters; sections that reflect the words from a gentle lullaby to rhythmic and exciting, energetic, and propelling tempos, all using the vivid colors of the violin and piano.

H981, 40 pages, $20.95, score and parts

Incantata for Chamber Ensemble

By Barbara Harbach

Incantata for Chamber Ensemble was inspired by Paul Muldoon's poem, Incantata, written in memory of the artist Mary Farl Powers. The poem, published in The Annals of Chile (1994), is both an elegy and a celebration. The premiere was October 30, 2011, at the Touhill Performing Arts Center, University of Missouri-St. Louis.

I was drawn to the many feelings and emotions in the poem, the cry of heartbreak, enduring love, humor, pathos, giddiness, allusions to music, literature, art, liquor, and food. The premiere performance interspersed a reading of the poem with the four movements of Incantata for Chamber Ensemble.

I. Perplexities

II. Nocturne

III. Ireland Remembered

IV. Bitter-sweet

V. Coda

H984, 208 pages, $99, score and parts

The Sounds of St. Louis – A Suite in One Movement for Brass Octet

By Barbara Harbach

When the St. Louis Low Brass Collective asked me to write a piece for them and the 125th Anniversary of the Sheldon 2012, I was delighted and intrigued by the coincidence that not only was it the Sheldon's anniversary but also the Sesquicentennial of the State of Missouri's entrance into the Civil War. The Sounds of St. Louis – a Suite in One Movement is a free-flowing stream of St. Louis consciousness with twelve short sections.

The Sounds of St. Louis incorporates and combines my original fugues and melodies with the popular Civil War song, Missouri! Missouri! Bright Land of the West!, the wistful folksong, Shenandoah (Away, I'm bound away 'cross the wide Missouri), and the St. Louis Blues, an American popular song written by W.C. Handy. I imagined a piece that used my original music with these three songs, weaving and interweaving vying and playing among the instruments with the melodies teasing and flirting.

H985, 82 pages, $34.95, score and parts

Harriet's Story for Soprano for Violin and Piano

By Barbara Harbach

Harriet's Story contributes to the rich historiography of Missouri and Midwest through music. The impetus for this dramatic song cycle was the 150th anniversary of the state's entrance into the Civil War in 1862. Harriet's Story was inspired by the life of Harriet and Dred Scott whose legal struggles to obtain their freedom helped catapult the nation into the Civil War. The lyrics of the first two movements were created in the voice of Harriet Scott, and the lyrics of the third movement are the inspirational quotes of Harriet Tubman, who led hundreds to freedom in the North as the most famous "conductor" of the Underground Railroad.

I. Frontier Slave – Lyrics and Music by Barbara Harbach

II. No Reason to Learn – Lyrics and Music by Barbara Harbach

III. Sister Harriet Tubman – Lyrics by Harriet Tubman, Music by Barbara Harbach

H986, 31 pages, $22.95, score and parts

Fanfare for Grand Center for Brass Quintet

By Barbara Harbach

Fanfare for Grand Center for Brass Quintet by Barbara Harbach was commissioned by St. Louis Public Radio and the University of Missouri-St. Louis for the opening of UMSL at Grand Center. The ceremony was for major donors to UMSL and KWMU, St. Louis Public Radio, September 14, 2012, 7:30PM.

Fanfare for Grand Center for Brass Quintet by Barbara Harbach is an exuberant celebration for brass with triumphant rising themes and exciting rhythms that provide an exhilarating nobility and resonance that welcomes the new partnership between UMSL and Grand Center. The piece was premiered by the Clarion Brass of St. Louis under the direction of Dr. James Richards.

H988, 24 pages, $16.95, score and parts

Phantom of the Dreams' Origin for Chamber Orchestra

By Barbara Harbach

Phantom of the Dreams' Origin is a new musical meditation on the poetry of Andreas Embirikos, in English translation by poets Stefene Russell and Chris King. The piece sets to music a selection of prose poems from Embirikos' 1935 masterpiece Blast Furnace, which Nikos Stabakis translated into English in his anthology Surrealism in Greece (University of Texas Press, 2008).

Barbara Harbach's new composition for chamber orchestra was commissioned by Poetry Scores, a St. Louis-based non-profit arts organization that translates poetry into other media. Barbara Harbach's musical composition is divided into eight movements, each named after a phrase from Stabakis' translation of Embirikos: Procession, Lamentation, Semaphores, Desolation, Deprived, Tranquility, Polyhedral bell, Spinning Mill of Nocturnal Repose.

Befitting a musical meditation on a Mediterranean poem that often looks to its east, the flute and cello in one movement have complex Middle East rhythms, with various instruments contributing to those rhythms. The score is dramatically percussive throughout, with musical features calling for glockenspiel, castanets, triangle, bell tree, crotales, timpani and suspended cymbals.

H990, 311 pages, $119, score and parts

In Peace and Joy for SATB, Flute & Piano

By Barbara Harbach

In Peace and Joy I Now Depart is a six-phrase hymn by Martin Luther. Harbach was inspired to write a two-part piece with the form of ABAB. The A parts are newly composed with the ethos underscoring a feeling of Peace, while the B portions evoke the feeling of Joy. The A section begins with a decorated flute melody with comments by the altos, tenors, and basses. The Joy section is reminiscent of a Renaissance dance with the flute melody soaring above with ecstatic fervor. The flute melody from the beginning of the piece (A) now returns and is joins in the dialogue by the piano, followed by the dancelike B section. The piece ends on a joyous note for the final words "That death is but a slumber."

H991, 14 pages, $14.95, score and parts, Singers score, 14 pages, $2.75

The Sound the Stars Make for Soprano, Violin and Piano

By Barbara Harbach

Jane Johnston Schoolcraft was the first known Native American poet and the first known Native American woman writer. Her husband published her poems and stories. Her writings and poems in English paralleled those of Anglo-American and British writers such as William Wordsworth and Lydia Sigourney. The name of the cycle is taken from Schoolcraft's Indian name, Bame-wa-wa-ge-zhik-a-quay, which translates as "Woman of the Sound that Stars Make Rushing through the Sky."

I. And Musing Awhile is an excerpt taken from Schoolcraft's poem, "Pensive Hours." The last line of the poem is "So pensively joyful, so humbly sublime." Searching and yearning motives with imitation among the strings, woodwinds, and brass circle around with percussive chordal punctuation. Orchestral colors portray the musings and whispers, the glistening stream, and the murmurings of kind voices.

II. Ojibwe Prayer - Author unknown, music by Harbach.

Harbach's setting, for soprano, violin and piano, sets in music the wind of the Great Spirit, the weakness of the many children, the beauty of the sunsets and the many things that the Spirit has made. The prayer asks for wisdom from the lessons that come from earthly beauty, so when life fades, we come to you.

III. The Sound the Stars Make Rushing Through the Sky - lyrics and music by Harbach
Virtuosity and lyricism comingle to musically portray the many aspects of Schoolcraft's life.

IV. Trail of Tears - lyrics and music by Harbach.

Evicted from their Southeastern homelands by the federal government in the 1830s, native Americans were sent on forced marches to eastern Oklahoma that became known as the Trail of Tears and ordeal of disease, starvation, and death. Many meter changes, dramatic dynamics, use of the entire orchestral colors, imitation, and the entire story is told through a child's eyes.

H992, 60 pages, $23.95, score and parts

Many Thousands Gone for SATB, Flute, Cello and Piano

By Barbara Harbach

While writing Freedom Suite for string orchestra which was inspired by the empathy I felt for Harriet and Dred Scott, I was standing on the steps of the St. Louis Courthouse and thought of the many thousands that had stood there and been sold at auction. Many Thousands Gone is for SATB choir, flute, cello, and piano.

*Mama's on the auction block,
Mama's on the auction block,
No time yet for mournin'
Many thousands gone.*

H993, 15 pages, $14.95, score and parts; Singers score, 8 pages, $2.25

Ojibwa Prayer for SATB, Flute and Piano

By Barbara Harbach

The author of this poignant text is unknown, the language of the Ojibwa Prayer is also known as Chippewa, Saukteaux, Southern Ojibway, and Mississippi Ojibwa. The prayer was taken from Bishop Frederick Baraga's Catechism written in the middle 1800s. Harbach's setting, for SATB, flute, and piano, sets in music the wind of the Great Spirit, the weakness of the many children, the beauty of the sunsets and the many things that the Spirit has made. The prayer asks for wisdom from the lessons that come from earthly beauty, so when life fades, we come to you.

H994, 18 pages, $14.95, score and parts, Singers score, 18 pages, $2.75

Quirky Trios à la Baroque for Violin, Clarinet and Cello

By Barbara Harbach

When I was a choir director and organist, I found there was a need for moderately easy arrangements for violin, clarinet, and cello, or any combination of instruments that fit the ranges of the violin, clarinet, or cello. Bagatelle and Holiday Trio are the two pieces that are newly composed. There are two arrangements of the same tune, "Praise to the Lord, the Almighty" and "Lobe den Herren." Rounding out the volume are two Christmas arrangements. "O Come, All Ye Faithful" and "Silent Night, Holy Night." All pieces are inspired by Baroque trios with a walking bass and canons and imitation between the two treble instruments. Sometimes there are quirky harmonic changes in the arrangements as well as unusual key changes.

H995, 43 pages, $18.95, score and parts

Two Italian Duets for Two Trumpets and Keyboard

By Barbara Harbach

These two Italian chamber duets are from those written in London in the years 1741-5. Handel's reason for writing them is not at all clear. The two given in this publication were composed in the early part of July, 1741 and used a year later as the basis for several of the large choruses of The Messiah to which they contributed a certain lightness of texture. The original version was for soprano voices with a basso continuo, probably played on harpsichord with a supporting bass instrument. The version here presented seems to call for organ in order to balance the heavier tone of the trumpets. The ornamentation and articulation of the solo parts are only suggestions of the editor and certainly can be changed to suit the whims of the players.

H997, 56 pages, $21.95, score and parts

Four Dances for Two for Flute and Violin

By Barbara Harbach

Rococo Promenade is based on the Baroque French overture style with a galloping fugal middle section before a return to the jaggedly dotted style of the beginning. Afternoon Divertimento alternates a calm, lullaby-like mood with bursts of frenzied energy typical of a weekend afternoon. Get Reel portrays a whimsically reeling, roiling, reel (really!) with rapid and smoothly flowing figures. Holiday Glide features clockwork precision interpolated with slides and glides and glissandi.

H1001, 25 pages, $15.95, score and parts

For Unto Us a Child is Born (Parvulus Filius) for Double Brass Sextet

By Sulpitia Cesis, arr. by B. Harbach

For Double Brass Sextet (Two six-voice choirs: a solo choir and a ripieno)

Sulpitia Lodovica Cesis came from Modena, the daughter of nobility. She entered the convent of San Geminiano in 1593. The convent was known for its excellent music. Cesis played the lute well, and she composed an important collection of motets for two to twelve voices, Motetti spirituali, in 1619, several for antiphonal choirs.

Parvulus Filius (For unto Us a Child is Born) is the only motet by Cesis for twelve voices, composed for two six-voice choirs. The text is from Isaiah 9:6 and is the well-known "For unto us a child is born." The motet with its interesting rhythms, syncopation, and antiphonal play between the two choirs makes a sonorous and exciting transcription for brass.

Sextet 1 includes Trumpets 1 and 2, Horn 1, Trombones 1 and 2, Tuba 1

Sextet 2 includes Trumpets 3 and 4, Horn 2, Trombones 3 and 4, Tuba 2

H1002, 48 pages, $19.95, score and parts

Renaissance Madrigals for Brass Ensembles, Vol. 1

By Raphaela (Raffaella) Aleotta, arr. by B. Harbach

The identities of Raphaela (Raffaella) Aleotta and Vittoria Aleotti are not fully documented. They may have been sisters, but it is not determined who was the elder, or even if Vittoria took the name of Raphaela when she entered the convent of San Vito.

Vittoria was a musical prodigy and was placed in the convent San Vito to further her musical studies when she was seven years old. She decided to remain in the convent, and perhaps changed her name to Raphaela when she took her holy vows. Raphaela stayed at the convent for forty-nine years from 1591-1640. In 1593 Raphaela published Sacrae cantiones, and wrote the dedication herself, the first sacred music by a woman to appear in print.

Ghirlanda de madrigali by Vittoria Aleotti contains eighteen four-voice madrigals for soprano (canto), alto, tenor, and bass. The madrigals are short, imitative, alternating with chordal sections, and with the expected meter changes from duple to triple. Duets and trios are common in the musical fabric. Dissonance is carefully placed both in the melody as well as in the chords. Renaissance Madrigals for Brass ensembles Vol. 1, includes Baciai per aver vita (I Kissed with Expectation), Hor che la vaga Aurora (Now with the Dawn the Sun Wakes), Io v'amo vita mia (I Love You my Life), and T'amo mia vita, la mia cara vita (I Love You My Life, My Dearest Life), and are examples of her secular, madrigal style.

Also included in Vol. 1 is a sacred motet, Se je souspire/Ecce Iterum (Thus I Sigh and Lament / Behold, again a New Sorrow Comes!) by Margaret of Austria (1480-1530), written on the death of her brother, Philip the Handsome.

H1003, 56 pages, $21.95, score and parts

Renaissance Motets for Brass Ensembles, Vol. 2

By Raphaela (Raffaella) Aleotta, arr. by B. Harbach

The Sacrae cantiones by Raphaela Aleotta/Vittoria Aleotti contains eighteen motets for a variety of voices from five-part motets to a ten-part motet. The ten-part motet was written by her teacher, Ercole Pasquini. Raphaela states in her dedication that she composed music when she was free from her convent duties of teaching, performing, and participating in religious affairs.

Vol. 2, contains Exurgat Deus (Let God Arise and Scatter His Enemies), a five-voice motet from Psalm 67. Imitative texture predominates with overlapping cadences. Her melodies are particularly well-constructed and singable. Motets were usually performed by trained singers, and the range of these motets is extended with the soprano going higher than the usual tessitura, while the alto and bass sing lower than the usual range. Also included are the motets Angelus ad pastores ait (Gabriel Said unto the Shepherds), Ascendens Christus in altum (Christ has Ascended to Heaven), and Facta est cum angelo (With the Angel Suddenly).

Besides her talents as a composer and organist, Raphaela also made major contributions to the convent of San Vito as music teacher and conductor. She participated in the concerto grande, an ensemble of twenty-three singers as well as instrumentalists. Raphaela trained women musicians within the convent and taught young children in the public sphere.

H1004, 46 pages, $19.95, score and parts

Together in Harmony for Brass and Percussion

By Barbara Harbach

Together in Harmony, is a wish for hope and peace. It begins with an animated fanfare followed by a short fugue before evolving into W. C. Handy's "St. Louis Blues." The 'blues' begin in a medium rock style, before morphing into a New Orleans Groove style for full orchestra with the addition of a drum set, electric bass guitar, and bass trombone. The music sways, syncopates, and imitates, while all enjoy playing 'together in harmony.'

H1005, 44 pages, $19.95, score and parts

Follow the Sacred Sun for Chamber Ensemble

By Barbara Harbach

Following the Sacred Sun – Suite for Chamber Ensemble was commissioned by and dedicated to the American Wild Ensemble's septet of flute, clarinet, horn, violin, viola, cello, and percussion, and will be presented by Missouri State University, and led by faculty members Daniel Ketter and Emlyn Johnson. It will be performed in celebration of the Missouri Bicentennial on a statewide concert tour in fall 2021, including performances in St. Louis, Kansas City, Springfield, and Columbia.

Following the Sacred Sun is a four-movement suite that follows the adventures of Sacred Sun or Mi-Ho'n-Ga, (1809? - 1836?), an eighteen-year-old young woman who left her Osage fur-trapping family and friends in Saline County, central Missouri, to travel to France. She was a beautiful woman, and the French embraced her and her fellow Osage travelers. Lauded and treated royally, she stayed in luxury hotels, ate rich and exotic foods and attended French operas arriving in fancy carriages. As the French tastes turned to other exoticisms, the Osage people along with their manager became destitute. Sacred Sun had twin daughters that were born in Belgium, and she gave one away to a wealthy Belgium woman. The Osage spent the next few years traveling in Europe. Fortunately, when the Marquis de Lafayette, French hero of the American Revolutionary War, heard about Sacred Sun and her Osage companions, he sent them back to America. When she returned to St. Louis in 1830, her tribe had moved to the Oklahoma territory near Fort Gibson.

The musical narrative, Following the Sacred Sun – Suite for Chamber Ensemble, has the following movements:

I. Anticipation - Traveling to St. Louis

II. Arrival in France

III. Lullaby for a Lost Child

IV. Looking for a Homeland

H1006, 113 pages, $64, score and parts

YOUTH MUSICALS AND LARGE CHORAL WORKS

Daniel and the Beastly Night

By Barbara Harbach and Jonathan Yordy

Daniel and the Beastly Night is a 30-minute musical for youth. Written for unison or two-part choir, it dramatizes the popular Biblical story of the prophet Daniel who faces death because of his commitment to prayer. Incorporating humor and a variety of musical styles, Daniel and the Beastly Night promises to be an educational and entertaining addition to any worship service or special event.

The speaking parts reflect an attempt to get all choir members involved in the dramatic action. Most parts have only two or three lines and can be given to choir members of any age. The action revolves around four characters: Daniel, King Darius, Marduk, and Adad; these roles are the most demanding. This play can easily be performed with fewer actors by condensing several smaller parts into a single role. The various characters have authentic Babylonian names; the story of Daniel and the Lions' Den can be found in Daniel, chapter six.

H701 Daniel and the Beastly Night complete score $9.95

H702 Daniel and the Beastly Night singer's edition $6.95

A Page from the Christmas Story

By Barbara Harbach and Jonathan Yordy

The title character, Zak, is a young servant to the Three Wise Men. This energetic, playful page finds himself on a journey he doesn't understand to a destination that no one exactly knows. Mystic Star, Magnet Bright captures some of the wonder of the wise men who follow the star across the world. But a few on the trip are getting tired of Zak's mischief; they proclaim him a pain-in-the-neck and A Single-Page Disaster. Zak is not having a much better time. Discouraged by the endless sun and sand and by all the discomforts of travel, he complains to the others in A Thousand Miles from Nowhere. But the journey continues, driven by the Kings' determination to find out what the star means. They consider the cosmic perspective on this event in From Celestial Vaults Sublime. The difficult journey is made somewhat easier for Zak when he is told that A Small Step Forward can make the difference between feeling overwhelmed and feeling in control.

As the caravan draws nearer to Bethlehem, the Kings decide on gifts for the Christ child; Polished Gold and Bitter Myrrh examines how each gift expresses a different vision of who Christ will be. They reach the manger and are deeply moved by the stillness and beauty of This Wondrous Place. Having seen the Lord, Zak and the Kings begin the trip back home, but now they are filled with Christmas joy and hope. No longer guided by the Star of Bethlehem, they are guided by the light of what they have seen. The Star Within expresses how each has been transformed by the wondrous spectacle they have witnessed.

A Page from the Christmas Story is a 35-minute musical for youth, written for unison choir with optional two and three-part choruses. It has opportunities for 14 characters, but many of the speaking parts may be combined or divided as needed.

H705 A Page from the Christmas Story

complete score $9.95

Light Out of Darkness

By Barbara Harbach (SSA & Piano)

Light Out of Darkness is an evocative work taken from Helen Keller's own words.

This inspiring work portrays some of the poignant realities of Keller's world: "my fingers are wise" is lyrical and suggestive, "my fingers split the sands" evokes the play of the rippling music of the sea and the final sections capture the strong soaring spirit of the poet.

H522, 12 pages, $2.95

Luther Cantata

By Barbara Harbach

(SATB) 7 movements: choruses, chorales, and solos

Arranged by Barbara Harbach; translation by Jonathan Yordy; text and melodies by Martin Luther.

Our God is Like a Fortress Strong (chorus) • Chorale on Aus Tiefer Not (chorale) • From Deepest Depths I Cry to You (baritone or alto solo) • Christ the New Contender (chorus) • Chorale on Vater Unser (chorale) • Our Father, Lord of Sea and Sky (soprano or alto solo) • Ein Feste Finale (chorus).

H709 32 pages, $6.95

CHORAL COLLECTIONS by Barbara Harbach

Advent & Christmas for Solo Voice with Piano, #1 H710

Come Back, Oh Christ • Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence • Come, Baby Jesu, Come • He is Born, the Heav'nly Child

Come Back, Oh Christ is a poignant setting of Thomas Hubert's mystical words,
 "Come back, oh Christ, come back a little child...
 Show us yourself once more this Christmastide."

Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence are the powerful words from Habakkuk 2:20.

Come, Baby Jesu, Come is an imploring setting from the poem of B. Harbach,

"Come, Baby Jesu, Come, Come tonight."

He is born, the Heav'nly Child is from the popular French Carol arr. by B. Harbach, Il est né le divin enfant.

Advent & Christmas SATB with Piano, #2 H711

This Night in Bethlehem • Sing! Christ is born • Our Christmas Gift • Infant of Light • The Christmas Babe

This Night in Bethlehem is a serene, a cappella setting telling the story of the mysterious night of Christ's birth.

Sing! Christ is Born is an exuberant setting,

"Sing with loud and joyful voices.

Sound the trumpet! Sound the horn!

Earth is glad, and heaven rejoices. Christ is Born"

Our Christmas Gift is a tribute to Alfred Burt and his carols:

"Behind ev'ry gift is a promise of love, Recalling God's gift, Christ sent from above.

Infant of Light portrays Christ's divinity,

"Infant of light, O Child Divine, Born Infant King by holy design."

The Christmas Babe is a setting of the poem by Robert Southwell and tells the story of an extraordinary sight, a little babe, and intertwines heat, smoke, ashes with love. And then,

"With this he vanished out of sight and swiftly shrank away, and straight I called unto mind that it was Christmas day."

Advent & Christmas SATB, SSA, SA with Piano, #3 H712

Audible Light • Bethlehem Wind • Listen to the Angels • Zither Carol • Today Christ Is Born • Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence

Audible Light is a joyous song featuring synesthesia, "Radiate singing! Reverberate light! Brightness and music together this night.

Bethlehem Wind tells the struggle and hope of "We travel once again the road to Bethlehem."

"The wind blows still; We onward drift,

But now goodwill and peace uplift,

And Hope is seen afar,

Now shining like a star.”

Listen to the Angels Sing! is an SATB arrangement inspired by a spiritual. At dramatic moments, the voicing becomes SSAATTB. Imitation between the voices and close harmonies coupled with a large range of dynamics provides an exciting addition to the Christmas choral repertoire.

Listen, O hear the angels sing.

Sing, O sing, O sing.

Do you my sister hear them sing?

Do you my brother hear them sing?

Zither Carol for Soprano, SSA, Triangle and Piano is a setting of the charming Czech Carol, “Hallelujah the church bells ring, Hallelujah the angels sing, Hallelujah from everything. God-head made man.”

Today Christ is Born is a two-part setting of the words from the Gregorian chant that is sung at Christmas (Hodie Christus natus est). It has been a popular text with composers for centuries. This gently rocking setting welcomes the Christ child. Words and phrases are tenderly tossed between sopranos and altos with imitation in an ABA form.

Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence is from the French tune, Picardy, and the scripture Habakkuk 2:20. The words and music are suitable for use during the Lord's Supper services at Christmas time but may be used at any time during the Christmas season, or at the Lord's Supper at other times of the church year. Scholars suggest that the text may date back to the fifth century.

Advent & Christmas SATB with Piano, #4 H713

Amid the World's Bleak Wilderness • Gloria to the Most High God

Amid the world's Bleak Wilderness is a powerful new arrangement of this striking hymn featuring a charming introduction and interlude, key changes, meter changes, and passing dissonances. The verses start with women in unison, then soprano and alto, SATB, an a cappella verse, and ending with a strong SATB setting.

Gloria to the Most High God is from Luke 2: 14. This gently rocking anthem is appropriate for Christmastime or any time that is in need of a blessing.

Lent & Easter Solo/SATB with Piano, #1 H714

Now the Green Blade Riseth • Were You There? • Bathe My Soul • To Kindle Every Frozen Heart

Now the Green Blade Riseth is a setting of the popular French carol, Noël Nouvelet, a traditional French Christmas and New Year's carol. It was translated into English with the poignant line, "Love is come again like wheat arising green."

Were You There? for solo soprano, arranged by Barbara Harbach and Thomas George, is a tender, beautiful, and moving spiritual. Focusing on the details of the crucifixion, the separate stanzas add only a single line each to the song. The arrangement features some blues and jazz chords to complement the plaintive new melody in the first and third verses.

Bathe My Soul is a SATB a cappella motet featuring bleakness and hope at the end,

“As in a desert,

desolate, I wander...

Bathe my soul in gentle rain...

And let a stream of soothing words refresh me as the morning dew.”

To Kindle Every Frozen Heart is a solo or unison setting of a poem that begins in despair and triumphs to hope, “His life brought hope to all the earth and warmth where there was none.”

Lent & Easter SATB with Piano, #2 H715

As Sun Disperses the Mourning Clouds • Of Christ's Dark Cup • Come, Sweet Death (Bach) • Mary's Joyful Shout

As Sun Disperses the Mourning Clouds is an Easter Meditation for a cappella SATB with the message, "So Christ is risen Lord, our source of faith, of hope, and life through death."

Of Christ's Dark Cup is a dramatic Holy Week anthem,
 "Of Christ's dark cup of sorrow, drink,
 And of his crucifixion think..."

The litany pleads, "Grant us, Lord, your mercy."

Come, Sweet Death, Come, Blessed Rest (Komm, süßer Tod, komm selge Ruh) is a song for solo voice and basso continuo from the 69 Sacred Songs and Arias that Johann Sebastian Bach contributed to Musicalisches Gesangbuch by Georg Christian Schemelli (BWV 478), edited by Schemelli in 1736. This beautiful tune is arranged for SATB with the first verse in German, followed by the same verse in English.

Mary's Joyful Shout for SATB with piano is an ecstatic cry, "Awake! Awake! Come see what God has done. Come see! Come See! The resurrected Son!"

African American Spirituals Solo Voice with Piano, #1 H716

Jesus Walked This Lonesome Valley • Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child • All Alone Blues

Jesus Walked This Lonesome Valley has the first and third verses with an improvisatory, plaintive melody, while the other two verses follow the original spiritual, "Oh, nobody else can walk it for us, we have to walk it by ourselves."

Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child has an improvisatory feel over a walking bass line with key changes and a wide range for the soloist and pianist.

All Alone Blues also has an improvisatory ambiance with a slight jazz and blues feel.

African American Spirituals SATB with Piano, #2 H717

Rolled Away • Give Me Jesus • When I Cross That River

Rolled Away begins with a slow antiphonal introduction which weaves into an exciting and rhythmic section, filled with hope, "Ev'ry worry in my heart rolled away, Hallelujah! Hallelujah!"

Give Me Jesus, for Soprano Solo and SATB has an a cappella first and third verse, and the second and fourth verse has a rhythmic and dramatic approach with a flowing piano accompaniment.

When I Cross That River is a newly composed spiritual by B. Harbach begins with a mournful earthly existence, followed by a rousing chorus with full chords, texture changes, and vibrant piano, "When I cross that river, what a day that will be!" There is opportunity for bass solos, two-part singing, and full lush chords.

Joy and Praise Solo/SATB with Piano or Organ, #1 H718

Rise Up, My Love • Reach Out! • Praise Him with the Trumpet • What is the World to Me

Rise Up, My Love text is from Song of Solomon 2: 10-13 (KJV), and the music lovingly portrays the haunting quality of the contralto voice.

Reach Out! was written as a Mission Song for unison Children's Choir. The refrain,

"Reach out! Help those in need.

Reach out! You will succeed.

Reach out to the poor and many more.

Reach out! Reach out! Reach out!"

Praise Him with the Trumpet is from Psalm 150 with vocal trumpet calls, rollicking bass lines, tightly knit harmonies and vocal glissandi.

What is the World to Me is an arrangement of Bach's Cantata 129 for choir and organ. The organ part is a tuneful and exciting partner with the choir.

Joy and Praise SATB with Piano, #2 H719

We Proclaim the Wondrous Glories of His Name (Mouret) • Sing, Alleluia • He Will Care for Me • Love Has Opened Wide the Door

We Proclaim the Wondrous Glories of His Name uses J.J. Mouret's popular Rondeau from

"Sinfonie de Fanfares" with new lyrics, "We proclaim the glories of His Name, and we sing out with our praise triumphant.

Sing, alleluia begins with a meditative mantra and uses only the two words "Sing, Alleluia." The strong middle section still uses the two words but transforms them into a glorious section praising God.

He Will Care for Me begins with unison voices and the morphs into a Gospel rendition with the words. "Jesus Christ is there for me," a support throughout my life.

Love Has Opened Wide the Door is from Psalm 84:4 and was written for the dedication of a new sanctuary, "Let us praise the Lord, whose love has opened wide the door."

There's a City on a Hill is a haunting anthem with the poignant words There's a city on a hill, it has many rooms, we'll never fill. All are welcome up on that hill.

Joy and Praise SATB with Piano, #3 H720

The Hills Shout Glad Hosannas • Come, Holy Spirit • Praise the Lord and Sing to Him a New Song • I Know Who Holds Tomorrow

The Hills Shout Glad Hosannas is a rousing anthem with an exuberant piano part, "The earth itself awakens to greet the Prince of Peace. And sings of restoration of energy released.

Come, Holy spirit (Veni Creator Spiritus) is believed to have been written by Rabanus Maurus, a 9th-century German monk, teacher, and archbishop. Changing meters, tempos, and the English text follows the Latin to explain the meaning of the poem. The music alternates unison writing with two-part, while the four-part writing adds a strong interpretation to the text.

Praise the Lord and Sing to Him a New Song uses Jeremiah Clark's famous and popular Trumpet Tune with words from Psalm 150.

I Know Who Holds Tomorrow is an anthem of faith with words by Thomas Hubert:

"Sometimes the Way is dark and narrow,
Sometimes this Way is bright with joy.
I don't know what tomorrow holds.
But I know Who holds tomorrow."

Psalms SATB with Piano, #1 H721 The Psalm Collections #1-5 are a weaving of English and Latin texts taken from the psalms with graceful and lyric melodies and piquant harmonies, and the piano is an equal partner in the musical fabric.

Psalm 54 – The Lord Takes My Life

Psalm 138 – I Will Give Thanks

Psalm 118 – This is the Day the Lord Has Made

Psalm 118 – Sing Jubilation

Psalm 54 – The Lord Takes My Life – Dominus Susceptor est Anima – a Psalm of support.
The Lord takes My Life into His hands, the Lord sustains my breath, my life.

Psalm 138 – I Will Give Thanks (in English only) – a Psalm of praise.

I will give thanks to you, O Lord! I will give thanks to you, O Lord, with my whole heart

Psalm 118 – This is the Day the Lord Has Made – a Psalm of thankfulness.

Alleluia. Praise the Lord. Exsultemus. Jump for joy. Haec est dies. This is the day the Lord has made.

Psalm 118 – Sing Jubilation – a Psalm of rejoicing.

Sing Jubilation is a celebratory response to Psalm 116: 15, 16. Dextera Domini is the right hand, the dexterous hand, of the Lord, and jubilatio is jubilation, wild shouting, and whooping. The soaring melodies and jubilant spirit are especially appropriate for the celebration of the Easter Vigil where it was first sung.

Psalms SATB with Piano, #2 H722

Psalm 51 – Create in Me a Clean Heart

Psalm 33 – Sing Him a New Song

Psalm 4 – Have Mercy on Me, O Lord

Psalm 25 – Enlarge My Narrow Heart

Psalm 51 – Create in Me a Clean Heart – a Psalm of penitence.

Create in Me a Clean Heart is from Psalm 51: 2,12. "Miserere mei, Deus": These words of penitence from this well-known Psalm are used in many ceremonies throughout the Church year. Misericordia is tender-heartedness, pity, compassion, and the cor in misericordia means heart. The music invokes a contrite and gentle spirit.

Psalm 33 – Sing Him a New Song – a Psalm of praise.

Sing Him a New Song is from Psalm 33: 3 and is a joyous and playful hymn of praise that features constant motion and counterpoint as the sections of the choir toss around phrases of song and psalm.

Psalm 4 – Have Mercy on Me, O Lord – a Psalm of penitence.

*Miserere mei, Deus. Have mercy on me, O God.
Miserere mei et exaudiorationem mea. Pity me and hear my prayer.
Cum invocarem, exaudivit me. When I call, you listen.
Deus Justitiae meae. O my righteous God.
Miserere mei, Deus, etc.*

Psalm 25 – Enlarge My Narrow Heart – a Psalm of praise.

*Ad te, Domine, levavi animam meam.
To Your, Lord, I lift up my breath and my soul.
To You, Lord, I lift up my life and my breath.*

Psalms SATB with Piano, #3 H723

Psalm 23 – The Lord Shepherds Me

Psalm 16 – I Will Say to the Lord

Psalm 31 – Into Your hands

Psalm 116 – Turn Round, O My Soul

Psalm 18 – I Call to the Lord

Psalm 23 – The Lord Shepherds Me – a Psalm of support.

Dominus pascit me, animam meam refecit. Dominus pascit me, animam meam refecit.

The Lord shepherds me, nurtures me, feeds me, renews me, refreshes my breath and restores my soul. The Lord shepherds me, nurtures me, feeds me, renews me, refreshes my breath and restores my soul.

Psalm 16 – I Will Say to the Lord – a Psalm of praise.

*Dixi Domino Dominus, I will say to the Lord, You are my Lord.
Benedicam Dominum, I will bless the Lord*

Psalm 31 – Into Your hands – a Psalm of trust.

Into Your Hands is based on Psalm 31:6. These words are immediately recognizable as Christ's words on the cross: "Into Thy hand I commit my spirit" or "in manus tuas commendo spiritum meum" (Luke 23:46). Interestingly, commendo (Commend, entrust) comes from the same root as manus (hands). The line "Into your hands I hand my spirit" is based on that etymological connection. This psalm setting alternates driving rhythms with swirling melodies.

Psalm 116 – Turn Round, O My Soul – a Psalm of pleading and hope.

Turn Round, O My Soul, To Your Rest is a eulogy and elegy for All Souls Day, remembering the friends and loves that have passed through our lives. The melodies and harmonies evoke the feelings that words cannot express – sadness, beauty, mournfulness, grief, sorrow, and nobleness. The harshness of grief is portrayed by the dissonance near the end of the middle section with loud, tension, and grief-stricken chords. Convertere, anima mea, in requiem tuam, requiem tuam.

Psalm 18 – I Call to the Lord – a Psalm of praise and supplication.

*Laudabilem invocabo Dominum. I call to the Lord, worthy of praise.
The Latin is from the Nova Vulgata Bibliorum Sacrorum Edition.*

Psalms SATB with Piano, #4 H724

Psalm 103 – Bless the Lord, O My Soul

Psalm 40 – Here I Am, O Lord

Psalm 22 – I Will Fulfill My Vows

Psalm 25 – The King of Glory Enters!

Psalm 139 – O Lord, You Have Searched Me (SSAA)

Psalm 103 – Bless the Lord, O My Soul – a Psalm of supplication.

Bless. Bless me. Bless my soul. Bless the Lord. Bless the Lord, O my soul. O bless the Lord.

Benedic. Bless. Benedic Speak well, Benedic, anima mea, Domino.

Psalm 40 – Here I Am, O Lord – (in English) – a Psalm of praise.

Here I Am, O Lord is from Psalm 40: 2, 7, 8, and has a lyrical melody and features imitation between men and women's voices.

Psalm 22 – I Will Fulfill My Vows – a Psalm of promise.

I Will Fulfill My Vows is from Psalm 22: 25 and reflects the strong promise "I will fulfill my vows in the sight of those who fear the Lord," alternating plainchant with lyricism with interaction between women and men's voices. In Latin and English: Laus mea in ecclesia magna. Apud te laus mea in ecclesia magna. My praise to you in the great congregation.

Psalm 25 – The King of Glory Enters! – a Psalm of anticipation.

The King of Glory Enters! is from Psalm 24: 7, 9, "Lift up your heads, the King of Glory enters" from Psalm 24: 7, 9, is suitable for Palm Sunday or other festive occasions. Changing meters from duple to triple, changing tempos, imitations, and Latin versus English all add excitement to this noble, processional anthem in Latin and English: Attollite, portae, capita vestra. The King of Glory enters. Lift up your heads, ye gates. Raise up your heads, ye gates.

Psalm 139 – O Lord, You Have Searched Me – (in English) – a Psalm of thankfulness.

O Lord, You Have Searched Me for SSAA is from Psalm 139: 1-6 and reflects the words "Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is so high; I cannot attain it," with soaring lyricism, changing and unexpected harmonic twists, imitation, and dueling duple versus triple meter.

Psalms SATB with Piano, #5 H725

Psalm 150 – Praise the Lord and Sing to Him a New Song

Psalm 146 – As Long As I Have Breath

Psalm 23 – The Lord's My Shepherd (with tune of Amazing Grace)

Psalm 19 – The Law of the Lord is Spotless

Psalm 95 – Come, Let Us Worship

Psalm 150 – Praise the Lord and Sing to Him a New Song – (in English) - A Psalm of praise.

Praise the Lord and Sing to Him a New Song uses Jeremiah Clark's famous and popular Trumpet Tune with words from Psalm 150.

Psalm 146 – As Long As I Have Breath – a Psalm of praise.

Lauda, anima mea, Dominum: I will praise the Lord as long as I breathe. Anima is the spirit, and also literally the air breathed by an animal, the life-breath. The Psalm is a celebration of life and breath and praise for the Lord with one's entire being. This work alternates chant-like sections with flowing melodies.

Lauda, anima mea, Dominum.

Laudabo Dominum in vita mea,

Psallam Deo meo

Psallam Deo quamdiu fuero

As long as I have breath, I will praise the Lord

I live to praise the Lord.

I will sing to God

I will sing to God as long as I exist.

Psalm 23 – The Lord's My Shepherd (with tune of Amazing Grace) – a Psalm of praise and support. The Lord's My Shepherd is set to the tune of William Walker's Amazing Grace in five stanzas.

Psalm 19 – The Law of the Lord is Spotless – a Psalm of promise.

The Law of the Lord is Spotless is from Psalm 19: 7 and reflects the strong promise "The lessons of the Lord are radiant, giving light to the eye," Changing meters, tempos, and the English text follows the Latin to explain the meaning of the poem. The music alternates unison writing with two parts, while the four-part writing adds a strong interpretation to the text. Latin and English: Lex Domini immaculata, reficiens animam. "The law of the Lord is spotless, restoring my soul."

Psalm 95 – Come, Let Us Worship – a Psalm of rejoicing.

Venite adoremus is a joyous treatment of Psalm 95: 1, 6. This anthem is a round in two to four parts, ending with a four-part canon. The line Venite exsultemus Domino is here translated "Let us sing with joy" and "Let us sing with leaping voices to the Lord." Exsultatio is elation, exultation, and leaping with excitement. Venite adoremus, Come, let us worship.

Soprano Voice with Instruments, #1 H726

Vocalise Lament for Soprano & Cello

Vocalise Lament was written for the 40th Anniversary of the Laumeier Sculpture Park in St. Louis, Missouri, and was premiered October 15, 2016. It features several sections with syllables of the singer's choice guaranteed to impress the audience and demonstrate the musicality and technical bravura of the voice and cello.

Cherish-Caress for Soprano & Cello

Cherish - Caress is a lyrical duet for soprano and cello. It is based on a warm and playful treatment of the etymology of charity. Barbara Harbach transforms these lyrics into a searchingly beautiful lullaby.

Pleasure Flow, Tender Mist for Soprano & Piano

Pleasure Flow, Tender Mist is a song cycle for soprano that creates a gently stirring atmosphere and draws on the simple but pleasing lyrics. Each movement is distinct in its affect and harmonic structure yet together form a flowing organic whole. The moods range from gently nostalgic to playful.

Voices with Instruments, #2 H727

A Love Supreme for SSAA, Woodwind Quintet, and Piano
(Singers Edition available)

Cheryl Walker's beautiful poem, A Love Supreme, provides the inspiration and text for this composition written for the St. Louis Women's Chorale with the Equinox Chamber Players. Walker's evocative words create several diverse sections that weave in and out of each other often returning with more intensity. A plain chant for solo voice sets the tone for "A love supreme sanctified and pure," and reminds us through music of the joy of unconditional love. The chant returns, each time higher and more ecstatic. The woodwinds introduce the soaring lyricism of "Anointed by Holy Ghost's healing." The gently lilting section in combinations of 6/8 and 12/8 meters underlay "She is sanctified and free, on a blues-licked freedom voyage." This is followed by a syncopated and rhythmic section for "Fervently awaiting a laying on hands." A fugal rendition for voices based on the familiar hymn, Amazing Grace, portrays "She's there in an amazing grace circle, how sweet the sound." A joyous fugue for the winds follows, also based on Amazing Grace. Several themes return briefly before the circle is completed with the beginning words "A love supreme sanctified and pure" and the final refrain, "Her liberation is at hand."

America, the Promised Land for SATB, 3 Trumpets, Snare Drum, and Piano

A rousing and moving patriotic tribute to America featuring the entire SATB choir, with three trumpets, snare drums and piano with verses for men's chorus, women's chorus and an interlude for the instruments.

God Bless Your Church with Strength! for SATB, Trumpet, and Organ

God Bless Your Church with Strength! is a joyous anthem for choir, trumpet and organ, based on the three hymns, St. Thomas, Festal Song and Heath.

Soprano Voice with Violin and Piano, #3 H728

Terezin Children's Songs

The ghetto of Terezin (Theresienstadt), located in the hills outside Prague, was an unusual concentration camp in that it was created to cover up the Nazi genocide of the Jews.

97,297 died among whom were 15,000 children between the years 1942-1944; less than 100 children survived. In the poems and drawings of the children, many smuggled out of the camp, we see the daily misery of these uprooted children, as well as their courage and optimism, their hopes and fears. These innocent and honest depictions allow us to see through the eyes of the children what life was like in the ghetto. Their art reveals a maturity beyond their years, are haunting reminders of what no child should ever have to see. In spite of the circumstances, the poetry is beautiful and uplifting – telling a story that resonates in each of us.

Birdsong – 1941 Anonymous Child, Written in Terezin Concentration Camp

The poem is preserved in manuscript and is written in pen on a sheet of white paper together with the poem "Night in the Ghetto."

Forgotten – Anonymous The poem is preserved in manuscript and is written in pen on a square piece of paper torn from a notebook.

On A Sunny Evening – 1944 Anonymous The poem is preserved in a typewritten copy. There is the date "1944" in the upper right corner.

The Butterfly – 1942 by Pavel Friedman

The poem is preserved in typewritten copy on thin copy paper in the collection of poetry by Pavel Friedmann, which was donated to the State Jewish Museum during its documentation campaign. It is dated June 4, 1942, in the left corner. Pavel Friedmann was born on January 7, 1921, in Prague and departed to Terezin on April 26, 1942. He died in Auschwitz on September 29, 1944.

Do Not Stand at My Grave and Weep – 1932 "Do Not Stand at My Grave and Weep" is a poem written in 1932 by Mary Elizabeth Frye. Although the origin of the poem was disputed until later in her life, Mary Frye's authorship was confirmed in 1998 after research by Abigail Van Buren, a newspaper columnist.

Dorothy Parker Love Songs

An American poet, short story writer, screenwriter, satirist and critic, Dorothy Parker (1893-1967) had an unerring acuity for commenting on twentieth-century urban peculiarities. She became renowned for her writing as in The New Yorker and as a member of the Algonquin Round Table.

Her poetry often has an ironic twist – a declaration of love in A Certain Lady that conceals the true feelings of the poet. Nocturne is a love affair that she knew would end – sooner or later. There are conflicting feelings in Love Song – on one side there is an ode to her lover, and on the flip side she wishes he were far away or worse! The music attempts to portray the poet's feelings with piquant harmonies, unusual key changes, and imitation between the soprano, violin, and piano.

I. A Certain Lady by Dorothy Parker 1926

II. Nocturne by Dorothy Parker 1926

III. Love Song by Dorothy Parker

Harriet's Story

Harriet's Story contributes to the rich historiography of Missouri and Midwest through music. The impetus for this dramatic song cycle was the 150th anniversary of the state's entrance into the Civil War in 1862. Harriet's Story was inspired by the life of Harriet and Dred Scott whose legal struggles to obtain their freedom helped catapult the nation into the Civil War. The lyrics of the first two movements were created in the voice of Harriet Scott, and the lyrics of the third movement are the inspirational quotes of Harriet Tubman, who led hundreds to freedom in the North as the most famous “conductor” of the Underground Railroad.

I. Frontier Slave – Lyrics and Music by Barbara Harbach

II. No Reason to Learn – Lyrics and Music by Barbara Harbach

III. Sister Harriet Tubman

SATB Voices with Instruments, #4 H729

In Peace and Joy I Now Depart for SATB, Flute, and Piano

In Peace and Joy I Now Depart is a six-phrase hymn by Martin Luther. Harbach was inspired to write a two-part piece with the form of ABAB. The A parts are newly composed with the ethos underscoring a feeling of Peace, while the B portions evoke the feeling of Joy. The A section begins with a decorated flute melody with comments by the altos, tenors, and basses. The Joy section is reminiscent of a Renaissance dance with the flute melody soaring above with ecstatic fervor. The flute melody from the beginning of the piece (A) now returns and is joins in the dialogue by the piano, followed by the dancelike B section. The piece ends on a joyous note for the final words “That death is but a slumber.”

Many Thousands Gone for SATB, Flute, Cello, and Piano

While writing Freedom Suite for string orchestra which was inspired by the empathy I felt for Harriet and Dred Scott, I was standing on the steps of the St. Louis Courthouse and thought of the many thousands that had stood there and been sold at auction. Many Thousands Gone is for SATB choir, flute, cello, and piano.

Ojibwa Prayer for SATB, Flute, and Piano

The author of this poignant text is unknown, the language of the Ojibwa Prayer is also known as Chippewa, Saukteaux, Southern Ojibway, and Mississippi Ojibwa. The prayer was taken from Bishop Frederick Baraga’s Catechism written in the middle 1800s. Harbach’s setting, for SATB, flute, and piano, sets in music the wind of the Great Spirit, the weakness of the many children, the beauty of the sunsets and the many things that the Spirit has made. The prayer asks for wisdom from the lessons that come from earthly beauty, so when life fades, we come to you.

*Oh Great Spirit, whose voice I hear in the winds
And whose breath gives life to ev’ry one, hear me.
I come to you as one of your many children;
Small and weak,
I need your strength and wisdom.*

Secular Solo Voice with Piano, #1 H730

The King of High Fashion – a Political Humor song (verse 1)

*Darius had swagger; mmm he had chic;
Darius had swagger; mmm he had style.
Silk and gold brocade, he purchased by the mile!
Darius had style, purchased by the mile!
He wore expensive fabrics with fashion and with flair,
And most of every morning was spent fussing with his hair.*

Twenty-first Century Pioneer

Twenty-First Century Pioneer was written to celebrate the courage, strength, and resilience of women from the past, the present, and the future. Premiered at the Notes from Home at the Sheldon Concert Hall, St. Louis, MO in 2007. Presented with lead sheet and lyrics in the style of a blues ballad.

*I don't wear a big blue bonnet.
And a covered wagon's not my thing. But if there's a job to be done,
You know I'm on it.
'Cause I'm a pioneer woman
And I'm goin' to sing:*

Here I Stand

Here I Stand is from Hester, An American Musical, expressing a sense of aloneness many women feel while overcoming many obstacles and tragedies.

*Here I stand, I face the world alone.
All my dreams, all hope and love have flown.
Now everything has changed from what I've known,
But come what may, I'll face it on my own.
For each new life, comes to the world alone,
Is given breath, then is cast adrift
Onto the barren, shifting sands of life
With nothing else, but fate alone to sift.*

Light Out of Darkness

Light Out of Darkness is an evocative work taken from Helen Keller's own words. This inspiring work portrays some of the poignant realities of Keller's world: "my fingers are wise" is lyrical and suggestive, "my fingers split the sands" evokes the play of the rippling music of the sea and the final sections capture the strong soaring spirit of the poet.

H522, 12 pages, $2.95

Secular SATB and SSAA with Piano, #2 H731

The Cause of Jealousy TTB – a Political Humor song (verse 1)

*If Daniel gets promoted, I'll turn green with jealousy.
I don't want to be misquoted, but him? Why not me?*

*My stomach churns with envy, and I'm sick with jealousy,
But the question that concerns me is why him? Why not me?*

The thought of his promotion makes me burn, burn with jealousy, and the thrust of that emotion is why him? Why not me?

Intoxicated by the Wine of Love SATB

Barbara Harbach wrote Intoxicated by the Wine of Love in 2016 and the text is by Farid al-Din 'Attar, who was born at Nishapur in northern Persia on November 12, 1119, but sources on his date of death vary from 1193 to 1234. He was a Persian Muslim poet, theoretician of Sufism, and hagiographer from Nshapur who had an immense and lasting influence on Persian poetry and Sufism.

*Intoxicated by the Wine of Love.
From each a mystic silence Love demands.
What do all seek so earnestly? 'Tis Love.*

Laumeier Sculpture Anthem SATB

Laumeier Sculpture Park is a novelty song along the lines of "Tchaikovsky," the Ira Gershwin Kurt Weill song that launched Danny Kaye's career. That was a patter song listing fifty-two Russian composers (all of them male). Our song, Laumeier Sculpture Park, uses the same rhyme and metrical schemes as "Tchaikovsky," and lists most of the Laumeier Sculpture Park installations.

Partial Lyrics:

Laumeier Sculpture Park, One-two-five-eight-zero Rott Road, a living laboratory, an outstanding art museum. St. Louie Bones, and Alpha, Walking Roots, and Falling Man, Cubed Squared, and Not Without My Dog, and Wattle and Daub. Old Temple, and Untitled, Recess, and Ball? Ball! Wall? Wall! Laumeier Lamps, and Java, Topiary, Hunt and Gather. And Ada's Will, and Pool Complex, and Virtual Laumeier, Free Hanging Chain, and Redwood One, and Sugabus, and Bornibus. There's Tower Hybrid, Cromlech Glen, and Flooded Chambers Maid.

Symptom Recital SSA – an ironic Love Song? Lyrics by Dorothy Parker

Dorothy Parker was an American poet, writer, critic, and satirist based in New York; she was best known for her wit, wisecracks, and eye for 20th-century urban foibles. (Wikipedia)

Partial Lyrics:

*I do not like my state of mind;
I'm bitter, querulous, unkind.
I hate my legs, I hate my hands,
I do not yearn for lovelier lands.
I dread the dawn's recurrent light;*

The Cause of Jealousy SSA – a Political Humor Song (verse 2)

(Whiningly)

*If Donald gets elected, I'll turn green with jealousy.
I don't want to be misquoted, but him? Why not me?*

*My stomach churns with envy, and I'm sick with jealousy,
But the question that concerns me is why him? Why not me?*

*The thought of his election makes me burn, burn with jealousy,
and the thrust of that emotion is why him? Why not me?*

Secular SATB and SSAT with Piano, #3 H732

When I Am Dead, My Dearest

Christina Georgina Rossetti, one of the most important women poets writing in nineteenth-century England, was born in London December 5, 1830 - 1894

Partial lyrics:

*When I am dead, my dearest,
Sing no sad songs for me;
Plant thou no roses at my head,
Nor shady cypress tree:
Be the green grass above me
With showers and dewdrops wet;
And if thou wilt, remember,
And if thou wilt, forget.*

St. Louis Blues (W.C. Handy)

St. Louis Blues is a popular American song composed by W. C. Handy in the blues style and published in September 1914. It was one of the first blues songs to succeed as a pop song and remains a fundamental part of jazz musicians' repertoire. The song was an outstanding success. The form is unusual in that the verses are the standard twelve-bar blues in common time with three lines of lyrics, the first two lines repeated. In addition, it has a 16-bar bridge written in a habanera or tango rhythm. St. Louis Blues for choir and piano begins in a medium rock style, before morphing into a New Orleans Groove style. The music sways, syncopates, and imitates, and all enjoy playing 'together in harmony.'

Sunset St. Louis

Sunset St. Louis for SATB choir is inspired by Sara Teasdale's poem of the same name, and we are reminded of the uniqueness of St. Louis. The musical themes are reflective of the city's natural and artificial structures. As the piece begins, imagine gazing upon the sunset as it shines upon the Arch and the Mississippi River, reflecting light to create amusement and amazement. As the themes develop, imagine the St. Louis of the past while you ride on a steamboat and gaze upon the city as it shimmers in the sunset. Through the text of St. Louisan Sara Teasdale, the piece creates a picturesque view of St. Louis, its structures, rich history, the rivers, and its cultural influences.

Youth Musical with Piano, H733

Daniel and the Beastly Night, Unison/Solo, SA, SSA

By Barbara Harbach and Jonathan Yordy

Daniel and the Beastly Night is a 30-minute musical for youth. Written for unison or two-part choir, it dramatizes the popular Biblical story of the prophet Daniel who faces death because of his commitment to prayer. Incorporating humor and a variety of musical styles, Daniel and the Beastly Night promises to be an educational and entertaining addition to any worship service or special event.

The speaking parts reflect an attempt to get all choir members involved in the dramatic action. Most parts have only two or three lines and can be given to choir members of any age. The action revolves around four characters: Daniel, King Darius, Marduk, and Adad; these roles are the most demanding. This play can easily be performed with fewer actors by condensing several smaller parts into a single role. The various characters have authentic Babylonian names; the story of Daniel and the Lions' Den can be found in Daniel, Chapter six.

H701 Daniel and the Beastly Night complete score $10.95

H702 Daniel and the Beastly Night singer's edition $3.95

Youth Musical with Piano, H734

A Page from the Christmas Story

By Barbara Harbach and Jonathan Yordy

A Page from the Christmas Story is a 35-minute musical for youth, written for unison choir with optional two and three-part choruses. It has opportunities for 14 characters, but many of the speaking parts may be combined or divided as needed.

The title character, Zak, is a young servant to the Three Wise Men. This energetic, playful page finds himself on a journey he doesn't understand to a destination that no one exactly knows. Mystic Star, Magnet Bright captures some of the wonder of the wise men who follow the star across the world. But a few on the trip are getting tired of Zak's mischief; they proclaim him a pain-in-the-neck and A Single-Page Disaster. Zak is not having a much better time. Discouraged by the endless sun and sand and by all the discomforts of travel, he complains to the others in A Thousand Miles from Nowhere. But the journey continues, driven by the Kings' determination to find out what the star means. They consider the cosmic perspective on this event in From Celestial Vaults Sublime. The difficult journey is made somewhat easier for Zak when he is told that A Small Step Forward can make the difference between feeling overwhelmed and feeling in control.

As the caravan draws nearer to Bethlehem, the Kings decide on gifts for the Christ child; Polished Gold and Bitter Myrrh examines how each gift expresses a different vision of who Christ will be. They reach the manger and are deeply moved by the stillness and beauty of This Wondrous Place. Having seen the Lord, Zak and the Kings begin the trip back home, but now they are filled with Christmas joy and hope. No longer guided by the Star of Bethlehem, they are guided by the light of what they have seen. The Star Within expresses how each has been transformed by the wondrous spectacle they have witnessed.

H705 A Page from the Christmas Story complete score $9.95

Luther Cantata for Solo/Unison and SATB with Piano H735

7 movements: choruses, chorales, and solos

Arranged by Barbara Harbach; translation by Jonathan Yordy; text and melodies by Martin Luther.

Our God is Like a Fortress Strong (chorus) • Chorale on Aus Tiefer Not (chorale) • From Deepest Depths I Cry to You (baritone or alto solo) • Christ the New Contender (chorus) • Chorale on Vater Unser (chorale) • Our Father, Lord of Sea and Sky (soprano or alto solo) • Ein Feste Finale (chorus)

Single Choral Anthems by Barbara Harbach

All choral titles SATB and $2.45 unless otherwise noted.

Advent & Christmas Solo Voice with Piano

Come Back, Oh Christ H103

Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence H105

Come, Baby Jesu, Come H106

He is born, the Heav'nly Child H109

Advent & Christmas SATB with Piano

This Night in Bethlehem H502

Sing! Christ is Born H503

Our Christmas Gift H504

Infant of Light (SA/TB) H509

The Christmas Babe H510

Audible Light H520

Bethlehem Wind H544

Listen to the Angels H567

Zither Carol (SSA) H575

Today Christ is born (SA) H576

Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence H577

Amid the word's Bleak Wilderness

H531

Gloria to the Most High God H558

Lent & Easter Solo/SATB with Piano

Now the Green Blade Riseth (solo voice) H107

Were You There? (solo voice) H114

Bathe My Soul H512

To Kindle Every Frozen Heart (unison) H513

As Sun Disperses the Mourning Clouds H514

Of Christ's Dark Cup H515

Come, Sweet death J.S. Bach arr. B. Harbach

Mary's Joyful shout H561

African American Spirituals Solo voice with Piano arr. B. Harbach

Jesus Walked This Lonesome Valley H108

Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless child H111

All Alone Blues H115 (composed by B. Harbach)

African American Spirituals SATB with Piano arr. B. Harbach

Rolled Away H511

Give Me Jesus H565

When I Cross That River H581

Joy and Praise for Solo/SATB with Piano

Rise Up My Love (solo voice) H113

Reach Out! (unison) H116

Praise Him with the Trumpet (SATB) H501

What is the World to Me (SATB) H505

We Proclaim the Wondrous Glories of His Name (SATB) H506

Sing Alleluia (SATB) H508

He Will Care for Me (SATB) H516

Love Has Opened Wide the Door (SATB) H521

There's a City on a Hill (SATB) H507

The Hills Shout Glad Hosannas (SATB) H523

Come, Holy Spirit-Veni Creator (SATB) H538

Praise the Lord and Sing to Him a New Song (SATB) H568

I Know Who Holds Tomorrow (SATB) H580

Proclaim God's Greatness (SATB) (Samuel Adler) H517

Let the People's Praise You (SATB) (Bruce Neswick) H518

Psalms SATB with Piano (with alternating phrases of English and Latin)

Psalm 54 The Lord Takes My Life Into His Hands H532

Psalm 138 I Will Give Thanks to You, O Lord H534

Psalm 118 This is the Day the Lord Has Made H537

Psalm 118 Sing Jubilation H539

Psalm 51 Create in Me a Clean Heart H540

Psalm 33 Sing Him a New Song H541

Psalm 4 Have Mercy on Me, O Lord H542

Psalm 25 Enlarge My Narrow Heart H543

Psalm 23 The Lord Shepherds Me H545

Psalm 16 I Will Say to the Lord H546

Psalm 31 Into Your Hands H547

Psalm 116 Turn Round, O My Soul H556

Psalm 18 I Call to the Lord H559

Psalm 103 Bless the Lord, O My Soul H560

Psalm 40 Here I Am, O Lord H562

Psalm 22 I Will Fulfill My Vows H563

Psalm 24 The King of Glory Enters! H564

Psalm 139 O Lord, You Have Searched Me (SSAA)

Psalm 150 Praise the Lord and Sing to Him a New Song H568

Psalm 146 As Long As I Have Breath H569

Psalm 23 The Lord's My Shepherd (tune of Amazing Grace) H574

Psalm 19 The Law of the Lord is Spotless H582

Psalm 95 Come, Let Us Worship H583

Anthems with Instruments SATB

In Peace and Joy I Now Depart with Flute and Piano H991

Many Thousands Gone with Flute, Cello, and Piano

Ojibwa Prayer with Flute and Piano

Secular Songs for Solo voice with Piano

The King of High Fashion (baritone solo) H101
Twenty-First Century Pioneer (for Soprano) H104
Here I Stand (Soprano) H110
Light Out of Darkness (for Soprano) H112

Secular Songs for TTB/SSA/SATB with Piano

The Cause of Jealousy (TTB) H524
Intoxicated by the Wine of Love (SATB) H525
Laumeier Anthem (SSA) H526
Symptom Recital (SSA) H528
The Cause of Jealousy (SSA) H573

Secular Songs for SSAT/SATB with Piano

When I am Dead, My Dearest - a Madrigal of Love (SSAT) H552
St. Louis Blues (SATB) H578
Sunset St. Louis (SATB) H579

RETURN

COMPACT DISCS

Classical Prodigies: Elizabeth Weichsell Billington (1765/68-1818) & Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart

Barbara Harbach, harpsichord
 Billington: Six Sonatas - G major, A major, B-flat major, E-flat major, F major, and G major Mozart: Eight Variations in G, KV 24, Untitled in F KV 15, and Seven Variations in D, KV 25
CD 7703 Hester Park Records, 72 minutes 46 seconds

Close Your Eyes: Women Jazz Composers

Thomas George, piano and Michael Kaupa, trumpet/flügelhorn
 Bernice Petkere • Billie Holiday • Maria Grever • Dee Libbey • Mable Wayne • Sarah Hannah Sheppard • Dana Suesse • Dorothy Fields • Kay Swift • Ann Ronell • Sadie Vimmerstedt • Ruth Lowe
CD 7701 Hester Park Records, 64 minutes 50 seconds

Daystream Dances: Women Composers for Oboe

Cynthia Green Libby, oboe and Peter Collins, piano
 Madeleine Dring Three Piece Suite • Williametta Spencer Adagio and Rondo • Barbara Harbach Daystream Dances • Zhanna Kolodub Concertino for Oboe and Piano • Rhian Samuel Sonata for Oboe • Vivian Fine Sonatina • Roselyne Masset-Lecocq L'Oiseau des Galaxies • Libby Larsen Kathleen, As She Was • Dulcie Holland The Fallen Leaf • Diane Keech Scherzo Rondoso
CD 7707, Hester Park Records, 63 minutes 18 seconds

Pièces Parisiennes: Madame de Villeblanche and Marie Bigot

Susan Chan, piano
CD 7705, Hester Park Records, 67 minutes 55 seconds

Sonatas by Elizabeth: Elisabetta de Gambarini & Elizabeth Hardin

Barbara Harbach, harpsichord
CD 7702, Hester Park Records, 72 minutes 58 seconds

Summershimmer: Women Composers for Organ

Barbara Harbach, organ

Elizabeth Stirling Maestoso • Barbara Harbach Summershimmer • Fanny Mendelssohn Hensel Prelude for Organ in G Major • Ellen Taaffe Zwilich Praeludium • Christina Harmon Built on a Rock • Maddalena Lombardini Sirmen Concerto I for Solo Organ • Jeanne Demessieux Réspons pour le Temps de Pâques • Julia Smith Prelude in D-flat • Ethel Smyth O Gott du frommer Gott • Elizabeth Stirling Tallis' Canon • Libby Larsen Sonata in One Movement • Clara Schumann Prelude and Fugue for Organ, Op. 16, no. 2 • Mary Jeanne van Appledorn Shabat Shalom • Christina Harmon Joyful, Joyful
 CD 7704, Hester Park Records, 73 minutes 40 seconds

Women Composers for Organ: Music Spanning Five Centuries

Barbara Harbach, Organ

Roberta Bitgood • Amy Beach • Elizabeth Stirling • Edith Borroff • Fanny Mendelssohn • Marga Richter • Violet Archer • Clara Schumann • Gwyneth Walker • Miss Steemson Gracia Baptista • Mary Jeanne van Appledorn • Jeanne Demessieux • Barbara Harbach • Grete von Zieritz

CD 294 Gasparo Records

18th Century Music by Women Composers, Vol. I

Barbara Harbach, Harpsichord

Cecilia Barthélémon Sonata in E Major • Marianne Martinez Sonata in E Major and Sonata in A Major • Marianna d'Auenbrugg Sonata in E flat: Rondo • Elisabetta de Gambarini Pieces for the Harpsichord • Maria Hester Park Sonata in F Major

CD 272 Gasparo Records

18th Century Music by Women Composers, Vol. II

Barbara Harbach, Harpsichord

A Lady Lesson VI in D Major • Cecilia Barthélémon Sonata in G Major • Maria Hester Park Concerto in E flat Major and Sonata in C Major • Elizabeth Turner Lesson I in g minor and Lesson II in G Major

CD 281 Gasparo Records

Anna Bon de Venezia Six Sonatas for Harpsichord, Opus 2

Barbara Harbach, harpsichord

CD MSR Classics 1241

Goldberg Variations by Bach for Harpsichord

Barbara Harbach, harpsichord

CD Gasparo Records (Gallante), GG 1018

Pachelbel Canons

Barbara Harbach, organ

CD Gasparo Records, GSS-2001

Bach & Handel: Music for Two Trumpets and Organ

Barbara Butler & Charles Geyer trumpets, Barbara Harbach, organ

Arrangements available from Harbach Music

CD Gasparo Records, GSS-2002

20th Century Harpsichord Music, Volume I

Barbara Harbach, harpsichord

Bohuslav Martinu, Virgil Thomson, Vincent Persichetti, William Albright, Samuel Adler, Rick Sowash, Alec Templeton

CD Gasparo Records, GSCD-251

20th Century Harpsichord Music, Volume II

Barbara Harbach, harpsichord

Arnold Rosner, Dan Locklair, Vivian Fine, Barbara Harbach, Randall Thompson, Edith Borroff

CD Gasparo Records, GSCD-266

20th Century Harpsichord Music, Volume III

Barbara Harbach, harpsichord
 Dan Locklair, Samuel Jones, Arnold Rosner, Daniel Pinkham, Samuel Adler
CD Gasparo Records, GSCD-280

20th Century Harpsichord Music, Volume IV

Barbara Harbach, harpsichord
 Emma Lou Diemer, Michael Rose, Gardner Read, Edith Boroff, Mary Jean Van Appledorn,
 Barbara Harbach, Vincent Persichetti, Robert Stern, Ellen Taaffe Zwilich, Robert Starer
CD Gasparo Records, GSCD-290

American Hymn Preludes

Barbara Harbach, organ
 Samuel Adler (Hymnset for Organ, When Jesus Wept), Gardner Read (Preludes on Old Southern Hymns)
CD Gasparo Records, GSCD-258

Contemporary Organ: Samuel Adler / Dan Locklair

Barbara Harbach, organ
 Dan Locklair (Rubrics, Ayre for the Dance, Pageant for Sally, Inventions), Samuel Adler
 (Toccat, Recitation & Postlude; Two Meditations; Reflection; Wind songs)
CD Gasparo Records, GSCD-277

RETURN

BARBARA HARBACH COMPACT DISC RECORDINGS OF COMPOSITIONS

All compositions published by HMP (Harbach Music Publishing)

Music of Barbara Harbach, Chamber VI, Volume 14, MSR Classics 1706, 2020 (in press)
 Civil-Civility * Visions of Hildegard for Violin and Piano * Cuatro Danzas for Flute and Piano * The Sound the Stars Make Rushing through the Sky for Soprano, Violin and Piano

Music of Barbara Harbach, Orchestral Music V, Expressions for Orchestra, Vol. 13,
 MSR Classics 1672 London Philharmonic Orchestra, 2019
Suite Luther 2017

I. Motet – A Fortress Strong II. In Peace and Joy I Now Depart III. Chorale Fantasy:
Ein' feste Burg IV. From Deepest Depths I Cry to You V. Ein' Feste Finale
Arabesque Noir 2017

I. Looking for an Angel II. Evening Love III. In the Still, I Will Wait
Early American Scandals 2017

I. Love – Revenge II. River Styx III. The Vulture Hours IV. Virginia's Real Reel
Recitative and Aria 2017

I. Recitative – Soliloquy II. Aria – Our Love Forever New

Music of Barbara Harbach, Orchestral Music IV, Symphonic Storytelling, Vol. 12,
 MSR Classics 1646, London Philharmonic Orchestra, 2018
Hypocrisy – Orchestral Suite 2016

I. The Gates of Truth II. Conversations III. Deceptions IV. Elusive Truths V. Gabriel the Ascetic

VI. Curiosity VII. Fated Fête Day VIII. Dancing Children IX Shock and Death X. Robe of Mourning XI. Vignette of Love XII. Mixed Signals XIII. Sermon of Hypocrisy

Symphony No. 11: Retourner

I. Return, Debate II. Our Sweet and Carefree Youth III. The Art of Tarot

Music of Barbara Harbach Orchestral Music III, Portraits in Sound, Volume 11,
 MSR Classics 1614, London Philharmonic Orchestra, 2016
 Symphony No. 10: Symphony for Ferguson

I. Heroes II. The Fallen III. Together in Harmony Symphony No. 9: Celestial Symphony
 I. The Annunciation II. Celestial Vaults III.
 Temptations Symphony No. 8: Hawthorn Symphony
 I. Hester II. Chillingworth III.
 Dimmesdale Symphony No. 7: O Pioneers!
Symphony

I. Conflict II. Now I See What Cannot Be III. Always on Our Love Depend

Music of Barbara Harbach – Chamber V, Music for Soprano, Violin, Piano & Chamber Orchestra, Volume 10, MSR Classics 1544, 2016

The Birth, Life and Death of Christ

Arrival in Bethlehem / Nativity and Arrival of the Magi / The Sleep of Jesus *
 The Samaritan / The Miracle of Jairus's Daughter * Mary Magdalene Washes the Feet of Jesus / Palm Sunday * Last Supper * The Olive Garden / The Night
 Watch / Judas's Betrayal * Jesus before Caiaphas / The Denial of St. Peter *
 Jesus before Pontius Pilate * The Torment / Ecce Homo (Behold the Man) / Bearing of the Cross / Jesus Falls for the First Time *
 Saint Veronica / Climbing Golgatha * The Crucifixion / The Agony / Descending from the Cross * Committed to the Tomb / The Resurrection

Dorothy Parker Love Songs for Soprano, Violin and Piano

A Certain Lady * Nocturne * Love Song

Nocturne noir for Piano

Terezin Children's Songs for Soprano, Violin and Piano

Birdsong * Forgotten * On a Sunny Evening * The Butterfly * Do Not Stand at My
 Grave and Weep

Music of Barbara Harbach – Orchestral Music II, Symphonies and Soundings & Celebrations, Volume 9, MSR Classics 1519, London Philharmonic Orchestra, 2014

Symphony No. 3: A State Divided – A Missouri Symphony, MSR Classics 1519, 2014

Missouri Compromise – a slave state • Skirmish at Island Mound – African American regiment • The Battle of Westport – the battle that saved Missouri

Symphony No. 4: Gateway Festival Symphony

Confluency • Sunset: St. Louis • After

Tomorrow Symphony No. 5: Jubilee Symphony

Bellerive • Mirth Day Fiesta • Tritons

Ascending Symphony No. 6: Night Soundings for Orchestra

Cloak of Darkness • Notturmo • Midnight Tango

Music of Barbara Harbach – Chamber Music IV, Music for Strings, Winds, Brass, Piano & Soprano, Volume 8, MSR Classics 1259, 2013

The Sounds of St. Louis for Low Brass

Phantom of the Dreams Origin for Chamber Ensemble

Procession • Lamentation • Semaphores • Desolation • Deprived • Tranquility
 • Polyhedral Bell • Spinning Mill of Nocturnal Repose

Harriet's Story for Soprano, Violin and Piano

Frontier Slave • No Reason to Learn • Sister Harriet Tubman

Incantata for Chamber Ensemble

Perplexities • Nocturne • Ireland Remembered • Bitter-sweet • Coda

Music of Barbara Harbach – Music for Strings, Volume 7, MSR Classics 1258, London Philharmonic Orchestra, 2011

Sinfonietta for String Orchestra

Homage • Jeu Jeu • Pastiche

In Memoriam: Turn Round, O My Soul for String Orchestra

Freedom Suite for String Orchestra

Harriet Scott – A Strong Woman • Eliza and Lizzie – Let My People Go! • Freedom – At Last
Two Songs from the Sacred Harp for String Orchestra
 The Morning Trumpet • Chester
Demarest Suite for String Orchestra
 Echoes of Our Youth • Remember the Ladies Tango • Joyous Day
Nights in Timisoara for String Orchestra
Lilia Polka for String Orchestra

Music of Barbara Harbach – Chamber Music III – Reeds, Brass, Strings, Harpsichord & Piano, Volume 6, MSR Classics 1257, 2010
Frontier Fancies for Violin & Piano: Fiddlefirt • Twilight Dream • Dancedevil
American Dialogues Flute & Piano
Four Dances for 2 Oboe & Violin
 Rococo Promenade • Afternoon Divertimento • Get Reel • Holiday Glide
Tres Danzas para Clavecin
 Cante flamenco • Andante para vihuelo de penole • Danza-
Deliro Phantasy and Phugue Solo Piano
Spaindango Caprice for Harpsichord Rustic Scene for Viola & Piano Perambulations
Trumpet & Piano Daystream
Dances Oboe & Piano
 Rolling Brightness • Reeling Dusk
Emanations from The Sacred Harp Cello & Piano
 Morning Fantasy • Reeling Chester

Music of Barbara Harbach – Vocal Music, Soprano, Winds, Strings, Harp, Trumpet & Piano, Volume 5, MSR Classics 1256, 2009
Abigail! for Soprano, Flute, Clarinet, Bass Clarinet, Bassoon
 Miss Adorable • Lady Adams • Remember the Ladies • My Heart is Light
Pleasure Flow, Tender Mist for Soprano and Piano
 Wind • Tend • Mist • In the Calm in the Cool • Pleasure is flow
Emily! for soprano, E-flat Trumpet and Piano
 I Taste a Liquor Never Brewed • If You Were Coming in the Fall • Wild Nights! Wild Nights!
Light Out of darkness for Soprano and Piano
Cherish-Caress for Soprano and Cello
Pioneer Women: From Skagway to White Mountain for Soprano, Clarinet and Piano
 Catherine Van Curler • Cordelia Nobel • Margaret Murie • Gertrude Fergus Baker
Twenty-First Century Pioneer for soprano and Piano

Music of Barbara Harbach – Chamber Music II, String Orchestra, Ensemble &
 Woodwind Quintet, Volume 4, MSR Classics 1255, 2009
The Soul of Ra for String Orchestra, MSR Classics 1254, 2008
 In Memoriam • Phoenix Rising
Freeing the Caged Bird for Woodwind Quintet, MSR Classics 1254, 2008 Maya Angelou • Sara Teasdale • Kate Chopin •
 Emily Hahn
Transformations for String Orchestra, MSR Classics 1254, 2008
 Pastorale • Towards Liberty • Re-strain • Commandment • For Life • One Out of Many • Profit •
 Return
Echoes from Tomorrow for Chamber Ensemble, MSR Classics 1254, 2008
 Anticipation • Choices • Transitions • Remembrances
Lilia Polka for Woodwind Quintet

Organ Music of Barbara Harbach – Toccatas, Flourishes and Fugues on Familiar Hymn

Tunes, Vol. 3, MSR Classics 1254, 2008

Chester – Let Tyrants Shake Their Iron Rods* In Babilone – There's a Wideness in God's Mercy
Azmon – Oh, for a Thousand Tongues to Sing * O Waly Waly – Although I Speak with Angel's Tongue
Chorale Fantasy on Ein Feste Burg – A Mighty Fortress is Our God * Reverie on Vater unser – Our Father Who Art in Heaven * Finale on Ein Feste Burg – A Mighty Fortress is Our God * Kingsfold – I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say, Come Unto Me and Rest * Sufferer – They Crucified My Lord * Land of Rest – How Long, O God * Swing Low, Sweet Chariot, Comin' for to Carry Me Home
Holy Manna – All Who Hunger, Gather Gladly * Gloria (B. Harbach), original 21st Century melody Besançon – People, Look East * Antioch – Joy to the World * Forest Green – As Saints of Old Darwall's 148th – Before You, Lord, We Bow * Llangloffan – Bless Now, O God, the Journey * African American Spiritual – Wade in the Water * Ar Hyd Y Nos – Go, My Children, with My Blessing
Hermas – On Our Way Rejoicing * The Morning Trumpet – Oh, When Shall I See Jesus? * Christ lag in Todesbanden – Christ Jesus Lay in Death's Strong Bands

Chamber Music of Barbara Harbach – Ensemble, String Quartet & Woodwind Quintet, Vol. 2, MSR Classics 1253, 2007

American Solstice for Chamber Ensemble

Transformations for String Quartet

Pastorale * Towards Liberty * Re-strain * Commandment I For Life * One Out of Many * Profit * Return

Forces at Play for Chamber Ensemble

Separately Together – Synesthesia for Chamber Ensemble

Lilting Lines and Careening Melodies * Spattering Notes * Dancing Rhythms * Lyrical Re-vision

* Crescendo of Colors

Carondolet Caprice for Chamber Ensemble

Swing Low, Sweet Chariot for Woodwind

Quintet Rhapsody Ritmico for Brass

Quintet

Orchestral Music of Barbara Harbach – Symphony, Reverie & Rhapsody, Vol. 1, MSR Classics 1252, London Philharmonic Orchestra, 2007

Symphony No. 1: Veneration for Orchestra

Blessings: Gift of Blood * Charity-Caress * Grace: Pleasure

HeartFrontier Fancies for Violin and Orchestra

Fiddleflirt * Twilight Dream * Dancedevil

Arcadian Reverie for String Orchestra

Rhapsody Jardine for Oboe and String

Orchestra Symphony No. 2: One of Ours – A

Cather Symphony

On Lovely Creek * Autumn in Beaufort * Honor at Boar's Head

RETURN

BARBARA HARBACH COMPOSITIONS ON COMPACT DISC

All compositions published by HMP (Harbach Music Publishing)

Chamber Music VI – The Sound the Stars Make Rushing Through the Sky, Vol. 14, MSR Classics 1695, 2021

Civil-Civility for Chamber Orchestra with Soprano, Flute, Violin and Piano

Sentiments – Elizabeth Cady Stanton • Gift of Mystery – Eleanor Roosevelt • Memories of Our Lives Rosa Parks • Committed – Margaret Mead • Light of Truth – Ida Wells-Barnett •

VI. Ain't I a Woman – Sojourner Truth

Visions of Hildegard, Violin and Piano, 2018

O vis eternitatis (O Power Within Eternity) • O nobilissima viriditas (O Noblest Green Viridity) • O Ignee Spiritus (O Fiery Spirit)

Cuatro Danzas para Flauta y Piano, Flute and Piano 2018

Danza Flamenco • La mente • Andante para vihuelo de penole • Danza Delirio

The Sound the Stars Make Rushing Through the Sky, Soprano, Violin and Piano 2017

And Musing Awhile • Ojibwe Prayer • The Sound the Stars Make Rushing Through the Sky
• Trail of Tears

Orchestral Music V – Expressions for Orchestra, Vol. 13, MSR Classics 1672, London Philharmonic

Orchestra, 2019

Suite Luther for Orchestra, MSR Classics 1672, 2017

Motet – A Fortress Strong • In Peace and Joy I Now Depart • Chorale Fantasy:
Ein' feste Burg • From Deepest Depths I Cry to You • Ein' Feste Finale

Arabesque Noir for Orchestra, MSR Classics 1672, 2017

Looking for an Angel • Evening Love • In the Still, I Will Wait

Early American Scandals for Orchestra, MSR Classics 1672, 2017

Love – Revenge • River Styx • The Vulture Hours • Virginia's Real Reel

Recitative and Aria for Orchestra, MSR Classics 1672, 2017

Recitative – Soliloquy • Aria – Our Love Forever New

Orchestral Music IV – Symphonic Storytelling, Vol. 12, MSR Classics 1646, London Philharmonic Orchestra, 2018

Hypocrisy – Orchestral Suite, MSR Classics 1646, 2016

The Gates of Truth • Conversations • Deceptions • Elusive Truths • Gabriel the Ascetic • Curiosity • Fated Fête Day • Dancing Children • Shock and Death • Robe of Mourning • Vignette of Love • Mixed Signals • Sermon of Hypocrisy

Symphony No. 11: Retourner, MSR Classics 1646, 2017

Return, Debate • Our Sweet and Carefree Youth • The Art of Tarot

Orchestral Music III – Portraits in Sound, Vol. 11, MSR Classics 1614, London Philharmonic Orchestra, 2016

Symphony No. 10: Symphony for Ferguson, MSR Classics 1646, 2016

Heroes • The Fallen • Together in Harmony

Symphony No. 9: Celestial Symphony, MSR Classics 1614, 2016

The Annunciation • Celestial Vaults • Temptations

Symphony No. 8: Hawthorn Symphony, MSR Classics 1614, 2016

Hester • Chillingworth • Dimmesdale

Symphony No. 7: O Pioneers! Symphony, MSR Classics 1614, 2016

Conflict • Now I See What Cannot Be • Always on Our Love Depend

Chamber Music V – Soprano, Violin, Piano & Chamber Orchestra, Vol. 10, MSR Classics 1544, 2016

The Birth, Life and Death of Christ, Chamber Orchestra

Arrival in Bethlehem • Nativity and Arrival of the Magi • The Sleep of Jesus • The Samaritan • The Miracle of Jairus's Daughter • Mary Magdalene Washes the Feet of Jesus • Palm Sunday • Last Supper • The Olive Garden • The Night Watch • Judas's Betrayal • Jesus before Caiaphas • The Denial of St. Peter • Jesus before Pontius Pilate • The Torment • Ecce Homo (Behold the Man) • Bearing of the Cross • Jesus Falls for the First Time • Saint Veronica • Climbing Golgatha • The Crucifixion • The Agony • Descending from the Cross • Committed to the Tomb • The Resurrection

Dorothy Parker Love Songs for Soprano, Violin and Piano

A Certain Lady * Nocturne * Love Song

Nocturne noir, Piano

Terezin Children's Songs for Soprano, Violin and Piano

Birdsong • Forgotten • On a Sunny Evening • The Butterfly • Do Not Stand at My

Grave and Weep

Orchestral Music II – Symphonies, Soundings & Celebrations, Vol. 9, MSR Classics 1519, London Philharmonic Orchestra, 2014

Symphony No. 3: A State Divided – A Missouri Symphony
 Missouri Compromise – a slave state • Skirmish at Island Mound – African American regiment • The Battle of Westport – the battle that saved Missouri
 Symphony No. 4: Gateway Festival Symphony
 Confluency • Sunset: St. Louis • After Tomorrow
 Symphony No. 5: Jubilee Symphony
 Bellerive • Mirth Day Fiesta • Tritons Ascending
 Symphony No. 6: Night Soundings for Orchestra
 Cloak of Darkness • Notturmo • Midnight Tango

Chamber Music IV – Strings, Winds, Brass, Piano & Soprano, Vol. 8, MSR Classics 1259, 2013

The Sounds of St. Louis for Low Brass
Phantom of the Dreams Origin for Chamber Ensemble
 Procession • Lamentation • Semaphores • Desolation • Deprived • Tranquility • Polyhedral Bell • Spinning Mill of Nocturnal Repose
Harriet's Story, Soprano, Violin and Piano
 Frontier Slave • No Reason to Learn • Sister Harriet Tubman
Incantata for Chamber Ensemble
 Perplexities • Nocturne • Ireland Remembered • Bitter-sweet • Coda

Music for Strings, Vol. 7, MSR Classics 1258, London Philharmonic Orchestra, 2011

Sinfonietta for String Orchestra
 Hommage • Jeu Jeu • Pastiche
In Memoriam: Turn Round, O My Soul for String Orchestra
Freedom Suite for String Orchestra
 Harriet Scott – A Strong Woman • Eliza and Lizzie – Let My People Go! • Freedom – At Last
Two Songs from the Sacred Harp for String Orchestra
 The Morning Trumpet • Chester
Demarest Suite for String Orchestra
 Echoes of Our • Youth Remember the Ladies Tango • Joyous Day
Nights in Timisoara for String Orchestra
Lilia Polka for String Orchestra

Chamber Music III – Reeds, Brass, Strings, Harpsichord & Piano, Vol. 6, 2010

Frontier Fancies for Violin & Piano
 Fiddleflirt • Twilight Dream • Dancedevil,
American Dialogues Flute & Piano
Four Dances for Two, Oboe and Violin
 Rococo Promenade • Afternoon Divertimento • Get Reel • Holiday Glide
Tres Danzas para Clavecin, Harpsichord
 Cante flamenco • Andante para vihuelo de penole • Danza-Deliro
Phantasy And Phugue Solo Piano
Spaindango Caprice for Harpsichord
Rustic Scene for Viola & Piano
Perambulations Trumpet & Piano
Daystream Dances Oboe & Piano: Rolling Brightness • Reeling Dusk
Emanations from The Sacred Harp Cello & Piano
 Morning Fantasy • Reeling Chester

Vocal Music – Soprano, Winds, Strings, Harp, Trumpet & Piano, Vol. 5, MSR 1256, 2009

Abigail! for Soprano, Flute, Clarinet, Bass Clarinet, Bassoon
 Miss Adorable • Lady Adams • Remember the Ladies • My Heart is Light
Pleasure Flow, Tender Mist for Soprano and Piano

Wind • Tend • Mist • In the Calm in the Cool • Pleasure is flow
Emily! for soprano, E-flat Trumpet and Piano
 I Taste a Liquor Never Brewed • If You Were Coming in the Fall • Wild Nights! Wild Nights!
Light Out of darkness for Soprano and Piano
Cherish-Caress for Soprano and Cello
Pioneer Women: From Skagway to White Mountain for Soprano, Clarinet and Piano
 Catherine Van Curler • Cordelia Nobel • Margaret Murie • Gertrude Fergus Baker
Twenty-First Century Pioneer for soprano and Piano

Facets 3: New American Music for Trumpet by John Holt, Trumpet, Crystal Records, 2009

Perambulations for Trumpet and Piano
Emily! for Mezzo Soprano, Trumpet and Piano

Chamber Music II – String Orchestra, Ensemble & Woodwind Quintet, Vol. 4, MSR Classics 1255, 2009

The Soul of Ra for String Orchestra
 In Memoriam • Phoenix Rising
Freeing the Caged Bird for Woodwind Quintet
 Maya Angelou • Sara Teasdale • Kate Chopin • Emily Hahn
Transformations for String Orchestra, 2008
 Pastorale • Towards Liberty • Re-strain • Commandment • For Life • One Out of Many • Profit • Return
Echoes from Tomorrow for Chamber Ensemble,
 Anticipation • Choices • Transitions • Remembrances
Lilia Polka for Woodwind Quintet

Toccatas, Flourishes & Fugues – A Celebration of Hymns, Vol. 3. MSR Classics 1254, 2008

Chester – Let Tyrants Shake Their Iron Rods
In Babilone – There's a Wideness in God's Mercy
Azmon – Oh, for a Thousand Tongues to Sing
O Waly Waly – Although I Speak with Angel's Tongue
Chorale Fantasy on Ein Feste Burg – A Mighty Fortress is Our God
Reverie on Vater unser – Our Father Who Art in Heaven
Finale on Ein Feste Burg – A Mighty Fortress is Our God
Kingsfold – I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say, Come Unto Me and Rest
Sufferer – They Crucified My Lord
Land of Rest – How Long, O God
Swing Low, Sweet Chariot, Comin' for to Carry Me Home
Holy Manna – All Who Hunger, Gather Gladly,
Gloria (B. Harbach), original 21st Century melody
Besançon – People, Look East
Antioch – Joy to the World
Forest Green – As Saints of Old
Darwall's 148th – Before You, Lord, We Bow
Llangloffan – Bless Now, O God, the Journey,
African American Spiritual – Wade in the Water
Ar Hyd Y Nos – Go, My Children, with My Blessing
Hermas – On Our Way Rejoicing
The Morning Trumpet – Oh, When Shall I See Jesus?
Christ lag in Todesbanden – Christ Jesus Lay in Death's Strong Bands
Erre Gyere – traditional Hungarian melody

Chamber Music I – Ensemble, String Quartet & Woodwind Quintet, Vol.2, MSR Classics 1253, 2007

American Solstice for Chamber Ensemble
Transformations for String Quartet
Forces at Play for Chamber Ensemble
Separately Together – Synesthesia for Chamber Ensemble
Carondolet Caprice for Chamber Ensemble
Swing Low, Sweet Chariot for Woodwind Quintet
Rhapsody Ritmico for Brass Quintet

Orchestral Music I – Symphony, Reverie & Rhapsody, Vol. 1, MSR Classics 1252, Slovak Radio Symphony Orchestra, 2007

Frontier Fancies for Violin and Orchestra
 Symphony No. 2: One of Ours – A Cather Symphony
Arcadian Reverie for String Orchestra
 Symphony No. 1: Veneration for Orchestra
Rhapsody Jardine for Oboe and String Orchestra

Miscellaneous

Light out of Darkness, The St. Louis Children's Choirs, Spring Concerts, 2006
Psalms from St. Peter, choir and organ, STPT 1, Stevens Point, WI, 2002
*Dixi Domino Dominus * Veni Creator Spiritus * Sing a New Psalm (Cantate ei canticum novum) * Sing Jubilation * Into Your Hands * Venite Adoramus * Create in Me a Clean Heart * Lauda, anima mea, Dominum * Here I Am, O Lord * Before You Lord We Bow for Organ * Oh, for a Thousand Tongues to Sing for Organ*
Tres Danzas para Clavecin for Harpsichord on Contemporary Harpsichord, Volume IV, Gasparo Records, GSCD-290, 2000
Daystream Dances, Hester Park, CD 7707, 1999
Fanfare and Toccata on "Lasst Uns Erfreuen for Organ," Arkay Records, CD 6151, 1996
Summershimmer for Organ, Hester Park, CD 7704, 1996
Fanfare and Toccata on "Lasst Uns Erfreuen for Organ," Gasparo Records, CD 294, 1993
Spaindango for Harpsichord, Gasparo Records, CD 281, 1990

RETURN

BARBARA HARBACH COMPACT DISC, CASSETTES, and LPs RECORDINGS

Solo Compact Disc Recordings

Karl Höller, Music for Violin, Cello and Organ, MSR Classics 1445, 2016
Johann Sebastian Bach Organ Music, MSR Classics 1444, 2015
Organ Music for the Synagogue (Album 13 of Volume 4: Cycle of Life in Synagogue and Home), Milken Archives, 2015
120 Harpsichord Sonatas by Antonio Soler, MS1300, 14-CD Box Set, Newtown, CT, 2015
Bach: Art of the Fugue and Pachelbel: Canon, Chaconnes & Chorale Preludes, 2-CD set, MSR Classics, 2014
Thomas Haigh, Six Concertos for Harpsichord, Opus 1, MSR Classics 1441, 2013
Rosner/Pinkham, 20th Century Harpsichord Music, MSR Classics 1443, Newtown, CT, 2013
Anna Bon de Venezia Six Sonatas for Harpsichord, Opus 2, MSR Classics 1241 2007
Goldberg Variations for Harpsichord, Gasparo Records (Gallante), GG 1018, Peterborough, NH, 2002
Contemporary Harpsichord, Volume IV, Gasparo Records, GSCD-290, Peterborough, NH, 2000
Pachelbel Canons, Organist, Gasparo Records, GSS-2001, Peterborough, NH, 1999
Bach & Handel: Music for Two Trumpets and Organ, Barbara Harbach, Organist, Gasparo Records, GSS-2002, Peterborough, NH, 1999
Summershimmer: Women Organ Composers, Hester Park, CD 7704, Stevens Point, WI, 1996
Classical Prodigies: Elizabeth Weichsell Billington / Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, Hester Park, CD 7703, Stevens Point, WI, 1995
Eighteenth-Century Women Composers: Music for Solo Harpsichord, Volume I, Gasparo Records, GSCD-272, Peterborough, NH, 1995
Sonatas by Elizabeth: Elisabetta de Gambarini / Elizabeth Hardin, Hester Park, CD 7702, Stevens Point, WI, 1995

Women Composers for the Organ, Gasparo Records, GSCD-294, Peterborough, NH, 1993
Art of the Fugue, Gasparo Records, Peterborough, NH, 1990
Goldberg Variations, Gasparo Records, Peterborough, NH, GG-1018, 1990
Karl Höller, Gasparo Records, GSCD-278, Peterborough, NH, 1990
Contemporary Harpsichord, Volume II, Gasparo Records, GSCD-266, Peterborough, NH, 1990
Contemporary Harpsichord, Volume III, Gasparo Records, GSCD-280, Peterborough, NH, 1990
American Hymn Preludes, Gasparo Records, GSCD-258, Peterborough, NH, 1990
Contemporary Organ: Samuel Adler / Dan Locklair, Gasparo Records, GSCD-277, Peterborough, NH, 1990
Eighteenth-Century Women Composers Volume II, Gasparo Records, GSCD-281, Peterborough, NH, 1990
Women Harpsichord Composers of the Eighteenth Century, Kingdom Records, London, UK, 1989 (Now available on Gasparo, GSCD-272, no longer on Kingdom)
Twentieth-Century Harpsichord Music, Kingdom Records, London, UK, 1988 (Now available on Gasparo, GSCD-251, no longer on Kingdom)

Solo Recordings (Record or Cassette)

Harbach Plays More Bach, Volume II, Gasparo Records, Peterborough, NH, 1987
Music for Trumpets and Organs, Gasparo Records, Peterborough, NH, 1987
Harbach Plays Hymns, Gasparo Records, Peterborough, NH, 1986
Harbach Harpsichord Baroque Recital, Gasparo Records, Peterborough, NH, 1985
Harbach Modern Harpsichord, Gasparo Records, Peterborough, NH, 1985
American Hymn Preludes, Gasparo Records, Peterborough, NH, 1985
Harbach Plays Bach, Gasparo Records, Peterborough, NH, 1983

Ensemble Compact Disc Recordings

Karl Höller, organ, MSR Classics 1445, 2016
Herman Berlinski, organ, Naxos American Classics, 2006
Samuel Adler, organ, Naxos American Classics, 2004
Mario Castelnuovo-Tedesco, Prayers My Grandfather Wrote (organ excerpts), Naxos American Classics, 2003
Randall Thompson – Music of Randall Thompson, Albany Records, NY, 1999
Leo Sowerby – I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes, Albany Records, NY, 1997
Hanson Conducts Hanson, Citadel, NY, 1996
The Chamber Music of Gardner Read, Northeastern Records, Saxonville, MA, 1995
Milhaud, Piston & Maryinu Chamber Works for Violin, Albany Records, Albany, NY, 1990
American Voices II, Bay Cities, Albany, NY, 1991
American Voices I, Bay Cities, Albany, NY, 1990

Ensemble Recordings (LP Records or Cassette)

Choral Anthems by the Rochester Singers, HMP, Stevens Point, WI
Motets of Anton Bruckner, Roberts Wesleyan College, Rochester, NY
Americana: Choral Masterworks of American Composers, Roberts Wesleyan College, Rochester, NY
To Freedom! A Passover Celebration, WXXI Recordings, NPR, Rochester, NY
Birthday of the World – A High Holy Days Celebration, WXXI Recordings, NPR, Rochester, NY
Let There be Light! A Hanukkah Celebration, WXXI Recordings, NPR, Rochester, NY
Day of Joy! A Sabbath Celebration, WXXI Recordings, NPR, Rochester, NY
Music for Flute, Clarinet and Piano, Mark Records, Buffalo, NY
Music of Richard Donovan, CRI, Composers Recording Incorporated, NY
Jewish Choral Music, Transcontinental Publications, NY
Jewish Organ Music, Transcontinental Publications, NY
Beautiful Dreamers, Popular Music from the Revolution to the Civil War, Rochester, NY
Anthems from Christ Church, Christ Church, Rochester, NY
Mass, Richard Donovan, Battell Chapel Choir, Yale University, CRI 262